CHINA CALLS FOR HELP

Manchuria Army Scattered

League and Kellogg Treaty Signers Asked to Stop Red Invasion

Russian Troops Push Inward 100 Miles or More from Siberian Border

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The armed forces in Western Manchuria scattered, in panic condition, before the invading Russian troops, China appealed Tuesday both to the League of Nations and to governments that signed the Kellogg anti-war pact to halt and punish the invaders.

The rich Manchurian area of 363,000 square miles, often the prize for which opposing nations fought, today was again a great battleground, with Russia and China fighting for control and operation of the Chinese Eastern Railway. This artery of traffic, crossing Manchuria from east to west, and from north to south, has offshoots that not only carry the commerce of Manchuria, but connect the trans-Siberian Railroad at Chita with Vladivostok, Russian ocean port, and serve Japan in Korea and at the southern tip of Manchuria.

CHINESE RETREAT

Driving inward 100 miles or more from Siberia, the Russian troops put the Chinese soldiers before them in wild flight. Without pausing to give serious battle, the Chinese fled through the Khingan Mountains, many reaching Bucha, where they attempted to take trains for the south. Others, in marauding bands, roamed the countryside, levying food and shelter from the inhabitants.

It was a case of fleeing where no man pursueth, for the city of Khailar, evacuated by the Chinese without fight, was reported today still unoccupied by Russian troops.

However, Gen. Wan Fu-lin, Governor of Heilungkiang Province of Manchuria, was said to be striving [illegible] to reorganize the Chinese troops fleeing there and to form them into a battle line along the Khingan Mountains to resist the Soviet invaders. The exact positions of the Russians was uncertain, but they were believed to hold the territory along the Chinese Eastern Railway westward of the Khingan Mountains.

INVASION PROTESTED

Reported disheartened by Russian [illegible] successes and by failure of the Nationalist government at Nanking to send reinforcements, Gov. Chang Hsueh-liang of Manchuria was asserted to have begun independent negotiations with the Soviet government for settlement of the Chinese Eastern Railway dispute. This report was denied at Mukden, but some factors were cited as tending to give it substance.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] No comedian of our generation but has profited by seeing the old master, Raymond Hitchcock, werh. Such ease and originality. Knowing and admiring you for years, Hitchy, I believe you would like this on your headstone: "Here lies a cheerful soul who spent a lifetime creating fun for others. Yet in doing so he has never copied any man's methods. He lived, was loved and he died, just 'Hitchy,' unlike nobody."

And to make the day entirely obituary I read of the death of Capt. Cuddihy, our crack navy pilot. Just three weeks ago he spent three days at my ranch, along with Secretary of the Navy for Aviation Ingalls (whom he was piloting.) A fine chap and a great pilot. It just looks like the good ones go and us bum ones stay.

NEW ANEMIA TREATMENT SUCCESSFUL

Federal Department Says Liver from Unborn Calves Proves Healing Agent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Success in treatment of pernicious anemia by administrations of liver obtained from unborn calves was revealed today by the Department of Agriculture.

The report was made on authority of Dr. R. P. Steddom, chief of the meat-inspection service, which supplied the Ohio State University Hospital at Columbus, O., with five pounds of such livers as a last chance for saving the life of a young man suffering from aplastic anemia.

After administration of the livers in a pharmaceutical form the patient's blood count mounted to 4,750,000 red corpuscles and the hemaglobin, or color, to 99 per cent of normal, Dr. Steddom recalled from statements forwarded by the parents at Westerville, O., several weeks later.

Pacific Company Announces Program Until 1935 as Answer to Hoover

Southland Will Get Much New Work and Buildings During That Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Contemplated expenditure of $333,000,000 in new construction in the next five years, $65,000,000 of it in 1930, was announced here today by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

H. D. Pillsbury of the company referred to the plans as the company's response to President Hoover's prosperity budget plan.

Expenditures on the five-year budget in Northern California and Nevada will total $149,000,000; in Washington, Oregon and Western Idaho, $85,000,000; in Southern California, $99,000,000.

COST $7500 AN HOUR

New construction in 1930 will cost nearly $7500 an hour, compared with nearly $7000 an hour this year. The contemplated expenditures for 1930 and the four years succeeding will break all records for new telephone construction, the announcement said.

"The company's new long-distance network on the Pacific Coast will cost $100,000,000 in the next five years and will increase wire capacity 2000 per cent," said the company's statement. "More than $20,000,000 will be put into land and new buildings. Land and buildings in Northern California and Nevada in the next five years will cost $8,000,000. This includes eighty-two new buildings. In Washington, Oregon and Western Idaho land and new buildings in the five-year period will cost $8,000,000. In Southern California the company will spend $4,000,000 for land and new buildings."

HOW IT'S DISTRIBUTED

The announcement said the $65,000,000 expenditure for 1930 will be allocated: Northern California and Nevada, more than $27,000,000; Washington, Oregon and Western Idaho, about $16,000,000; Southern California, about $22,000,000.

"The new long-distance network," the announcement continued, "includes the Canada-to-Mexico cable, costing $30,000,000. The cable will be 1500 miles in length, longer than any now in existence in the world.

"The balance of the $100,000,000 long-distance budget will pay for thousands of miles of new network all over the Coast. It also will pay for five new transcontinental routes."

UTILITY LEADERS MEET HOOVER TODAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Thirty-one public utility magnates will gather at the White House tomorrow morning for another of the conferences called by President Hoover to promote business progress.

The list invited, which includes Owen D. Young and Samuel Insull, represents the officials of electric railway, light and gas concerns. They will meet with Mr. Hoover at 10 o'clock.

LAMONT TO AID

After tomorrow's meeting, the President intends to turn the practical working out of his ideas over to constituted organizations such as the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and kindred trade and industrial agencies. The task of co-ordinating the work purely governmental in nature will be assigned to Secretary Lamont, who is expected to seek co-operation from the States.

As a definite step to carry forward Mr. Hoover's wishes, the Chamber of Commerce has called a special meeting December 5 in Washington at which 200 or more prominent business men of the country are expected to be present. The first session of the conference will be addressed by President Hoover.

SIXTH MEETING

Tomorrow's conference at the White House will be the sixth of such meetings called by the President.

Those invited to the utility conference in addition to Young and Insull include: F. L. Dame, North American Company, New York; W. A. Jones, Cities Service Company, New York; B. C. Cobb, Allied Power and Light Company, New York; C. E. Groesbeck, Electric Bond and Share Company, New York; George M. Kidd, American Gas and Electric Company, New York; John P. Zimmerman, United Gas Improvement Company, Philadelphia; P. G. Gossler, and W. W. Freeman, Columbia Gas and Electric Company, New York; John B. Miller, Southern California Edison Company, Los Angeles.

Industrial activity in October continued at a higher level than for the same month, last year, the Federal Reserve Board reported today in a summary of business conditions. Distribution of commodities was sustained during the month.

Tiny Ferocious Leeches for 300 Years Balk Every Invasion of Wild Area in Ceylon

(This is the last of four articles giving interesting findings from the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (NANA)—How an ancient jungle kingdom was able to preserve its independence from European invaders for 300 years largely through the protection afforded it by vast armies of tiny leeches is described by Casey A. Wood, Smithsonian Institution ornithologist, in the annual report just issued telling of his adventures with wild animals while he was on a collecting expedition in the interior of Ceylon.

Discounting the deadly cobra, the buffalo and the "rogue" elephant as enemies of man, Mr. Wood says the most dreaded of the jungle creatures are this little leech and a giant red ant which builds nests like a bird, attacks ferociously when disturbed, and the bite of which is poisonous to some persons.

HUNGRY CREATURE

But it is the little land leech, scarcely more than an inch long, the hunger of which for human blood has made it an important factor in the military and political history of the island.

"One meets it everywhere on the island where the rainfall is sufficient," Mr. Wood reports. "It is an agile and exceedingly nimble little animal. Attached to the top of a grass stem or exposed leaf it lies in wait, waving about in the air with eyes and smelling apparatus alert, awaiting the passage of its warm-blooded victim.

"The bite is not painful but the incision bleeds freely. The chief danger of the bites is from the several hundred teeth of this wicked little creature with the secondary infections, ulcers, etc., that follow the triangular incisions made by them.

"One of the chief defenses of the ancient Kandyan kingdom for 300 years after the subjugation of the rest of the island was the vast multitudes of leeches that infested the wet, impassable mountain jungle that lay between the seaboard and Kandy, and through which an invading army must march.

"As one of many such incidents, in 1553 A. D. a force of Portuguese soldiers, on their way to attack the Kandyan King, were encamped in the midst of rank grass and marshy pools infested with myriads of leeches. Clothes afforded no protection against their needle-like bodies. Satiated, they dropped in streams of blood from the eyelids and ears of the men, and had to be plucked out of their very gums as they ate their food. Rest was out of the question, for the voracious animals swarmed on all sides in ever-increasing numbers. The expedition failed of its objective."

GIANT RED ANT

Mr. Wood encountered the great red ant while he was searching for nests of the Indian tailor bird, elaborate structures which bear evidence of actual sewing and stitching. The red ant builds a very similar home, but, as described by Mr. Wood, "he does not sew but glues the edges of leaves together, afterward lining the cavity with a kind of self-made transparent paper which also is used for joining the leaf edge.

"The red leaf ant is one of the largest and most ferocious of its order. They may be said to be armed with veritable teeth. No native will ascend a tree for cocoanuts when there are active colonies of red ants on trunks or branches."

While recounting a verified instance of a king cobra actually chasing a man in an automobile, striking at the moving car and trying to board it to get at his intended victim, the Smithsonian naturalist found little to be feared in the poisonous snakes. A white man in Ceylon rarely is bitten.

ORTIZ RUBIO MAY VISIT LOS ANGELES

Mexico's President-elect Now Forming Plans for Trip to United States

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26. (AP)—President-elect Ortiz Rubio will go to Washington to pay a call to President Hoover if plans now under consideration materialize. It was learned from a reliable source today that he desires to leave in about a fortnight and, besides visiting Washington and New York will rest from the arduous campaign which ended in his election on the 17th inst., at some clinic, probably that of the Mayo Brothers in Rochester, Minn.

It is said he is not ill, but merely in want of rest. Another suggestion has been made that he spend a brief time in California, probably at Los Angeles, as an alternative plan. It is understood that if he goes he will be accompanied by his family and a limited number of others, probably including his secretary and Gen. Manuel Perez Trevino, president of the National Revolutionary party.

The official proclamation of Ortiz Rubio as President-elect is expected from Congress late this week.

COURT GETS TALK FILM CONFESSION

Philadelphia Lawyers Try Something New in Court Over Defense Objections

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26. (AP)—For the first time, it is believed, in the history of jurisprudence in this country, a talking motion picture was introduced as evidence in court here today at the trial of Harold Roller, who confessed recently before voice and picture-recording apparatus that he had robbed twenty-five homes here. Judge Gordon, before whom Roller is being tried, overruled objections by defense counsel against showing the talkie.

"I see no difference between allowing a photograph to be entered as evidence, after identification by competent testimony, and the projection of a series of photographs," the court said.

A screen was erected in the courtroom and in six minutes the confession had been reeled off.

The confession related Roller's story of how he had robbed the homes while employed as a milk-wagon driver.

Both counsel for the defense and the District Attorney expressed their intention of seeking a ruling in the Appellate courts on the admissibility of the talking picture as evidence.

STATE FORBIDS HIGH DAM IN SAN GABRIEL CANYON

Experts Condemn Site at Forks and Ban on Huge Project Follows; Low Dirt-Fill Type Proposed

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Acting on the unanimous recommendation of a special committee of eminent geologists and engineers State Engineer Hyatt today denied the application of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District for authority to construct the San Gabriel dam on the San Gabriel River, thirty miles northeast of Los Angeles.

The committee recently was appointed by Hyatt as a consulting board under authority of the dam inspection law enacted by the 1929 Legislature as an aftermath of the St. Francis dam disaster in Los Angeles county. It is the first major application to be denied under the new law.

In a joint report filed with Hyatt the consulting board declared that the proposed San Gabriel dam, a gravity concrete structure, 500 feet high and capable of storing 240,000 acre feet of water, could not be built safely on the foundation existing at "the forks" site.

SUGGESTION MADE

However, the committee expressed the opinion that a dam of flexible type, such as an earth and rock fill structure of conservative proportions, could be built safely at "the forks" site. The board says that material storage capacity could be obtained by such a dam.

"Disapproval by the State of the application," said Hyatt, "is without prejudice to the right of the county to file any new application for a dam at this or any other site that the county may wish to submit.

"It means simply that the State finds that a 500-foot concrete dam if built on the foundations at this location would not be safe and this particular application is disapproved."

In its report to Hyatt the consulting board declares that its conclusion is based on the co-ordinated studies of engineering and geologic data as developed by personal inspection of the site and consideration of all other available information.

The board consisted of Charles P. Berkey, geologist of Columbia University, New York; George D. Louderback, geologist at the University of California, Berkeley; Ira A. Williams, consulting geologist, Portland, Or.; G. A. Elliott, engineer of the Spring Valley Water Company, San Francisco; M. C. Hinderlider, Colorado State Engineer, and J. L. Savage, chief designing engineer of the United States Bureau of Reclamation.

The consulting board's report, which says that the San Gabriel Dam would be 135 feet higher than any existing dam of its type, follows in part:

"The natural conditions in the San Gabriel Mountains are much more complex than is usually appreciated. Although certain general geologic features prevail, each dam site is a problem in itself and demands special study and handling.

"The rocks of this site and vicinity are ancient crystalline types, including granitic and dioritic gneisses and occasional schists, all cut by variety of igneous intrusions, including granite, aplite, diorite, diabase, basalt and porphyrites. The result is a crystalline complex, whose detailed history is long and involved, but whose character and quality would be eminently satisfactory for any engineering structure if the rocks had not undergone deformation and decay.

"The rock complex is cut through in every direction by faults and slips and crush-zones that have separated the mass into blocks of varied size and shape, most of which are comparatively small and roughly wedge-shaped or lenticular. No portion of this site or immediate adjacent ground is free from this condition. In addition, each individual block formed by these fault movements is internally broken, and more fractured and jointed, in such manner that most of the material separates readily into small pieces and there are no extensive bodies of solid rock.

MASHED ROCKS

"The original structural make-up of the rock formation, with its many different types of varying individual resistance to crushing, has favored the development of internal differential movement, and this has resulted in the mashed and jammed appearance that characterizes the rocks of this site. The rock was not originally weak, but was unevenly resistant and the forces producing movement have been powerful enough to overcome the resistance of the whole mass.

"It is generally conceded that the

UNITED PORT PLEA FILED

Hint of Losing $7,000,000 Federal Appropriation Prompts Action

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Presenting a united front for the first time in several years of controversy and disagreement Los Angeles and Long Beach today laid before the Army Board of Engineers a joint plan for the development of their common harbor. In doing so, however, the two cities found it necessary to seek elimination of three of the five conditions imposed by Congress on the harbor project, notably, the requirement for a port district.

They asked that the government proceed without further delay with construction of the proposed breakwater extension and leave for future solution the knotty problem of just how the two cities are to collaborate in managing the harbor. The present requirement is that before work can be started on the breakwater, the cities must join in creating a port district or equivalent organization to operate the harbor.

COST CUT ASKED

The two cities also asked elimination of the provision calling upon local interests to bear half the expense of the $14,000,000, contending that national benefits of defense and aid to shipping would be such as to make it appropriate for the Federal government to pay the entire cost.

The third requirement of which they ask to be relieved is that of obtaining title to water front property on both sides of the Cerritos Channel for a length of 1500 feet with a view to filling the channel at a later date and using the fill as an approach to Terminal Island. This, the spokesmen for the cities argued in their brief filed with the engineer board, would mean the blocking of the only inner channel between Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors, result in loss of time, expense and inconvenience to commercial shipping and prove detrimental in time of war.

REQUIREMENTS MET

The other two major requirements imposed by Congress in authorizing Federal expenditures at the harbor call for creation of a publicly owned or controlled belt-line railroad, at the port, and for terminal construction in the outer harbor east of the main entrance channel having a transshipment capacity of at least 1,000,000 tons per year of general cargo. The plan presented by the representatives of Los Angeles and Long Beach pointed out that these two conditions already have been met. A rail unification system is now in operation and is serving the entire port area under satisfactory public regulation.

The requirement for outer harbor facilities is being complied with through action of Long Beach in constructing transshipment facilities which, when completed, will have a capacity in excess of the stipulated 1,000,000 tons.

JAPAN TELLS NAVAL AIMS

Reduction, Rather Than Limitation, Favored; Parity in Submarines to be Urged

TOKIO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Several Japanese newspapers today published details that generally are considered to represent the government's desires for the London naval conference in January.

Three chief principles of the Japanese program are said to be actual reduction instead of limitation of armaments, a 10-10-7 ratio for auxiliary ships, and opposition to the abolition of, or severe reduction in, submarine strength.

OTHER POINTS

Other points include a demand for parity in submarines with Great Britain and the United States on the basis of 80,000 tons, with a maximum unit of 2000. Submarines under 600 tons would be exempt from limitation.

Japan would like to have 70 per cent of the American strength in eight-inch-gun cruisers, to limit capital ships to 25,000 tons' displacement and fourteen-inch guns, to restrict aircraft carriers to 20,000 tons, and to fix the age limit of capital ships at twenty-five years, of cruisers at twenty years, of destroyers at sixteen years and of submarines at thirteen years.

SAILING DATE SET

The date of sailing for Japan's delegation was fixed for the 30th inst. Naotake Sato, Minister representing Japan in the League of Nations, was named chief secretary to the delegation to London and departed for Europe this morning by way of Siberia. It is understood that he was instructed to confer with Aristide Briand in Paris on the naval situation, especially with regard to submarines, a matter in which the Japanese and French views are known to coincide.

The instructions to the delegates were not divulged and officials refused to discuss them but it is understood that they are lengthy,

CITIES UNITED IN PORT PLEA

Los Angeles and Long Beach Fight for Harbor

Army Board Asked to Drop Control Requirement

Government Urged to Stand Breakwater Cost

Maj. Grosse of the Army Engineer Corps which recommended indefinite deferment or even abandonment of the breakwater project because of the inability of Los Angeles and Long Beach to agree upon a plan for unified harbor control. Faced thus with the possibility of seeing the breakwater development and the $7,000,000 authorized by Congress slip through their fingers the authorized representatives of the two cities sent on for the hearing conferred yesterday and the result was the joint plan submitted to the engineer board.

Among those appearing were Senator Shortridge, Representatives Evans and Crail, Clarence H. Matson, manager of the shipping department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; George F. Nicholson, Los Angeles Harbor engineer; A. E. Henning, chairman of the Los Angeles City Harbor Commission; Mayor Hauge of Long Beach, I. M. Stevens, president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, and Long Beach Councilmen Jones, Church and Barton.

UNITY TO COME LATER

They all contended that development of the Los Angeles - Long Beach Harbor is too essential from both national and sectional standpoint to be held up indefinitely because of the failure of the local communities to agree upon details of control. The main argument was that the government should go ahead, construct the breakwater either with or without local contribution and leave to the softening qualities of time and to further negotiation the working out of the port-district idea and other incidental matters. Mr. Matson expressed the sense of the entire appeal when he said that ultimately, of course, Los Angeles and Long Beach and all the territory in between them will be one community with single control of the harbor. He stressed that commercially it is one harbor now and this being true suffers as a child with two guardians. Matson said that aside from the harbor project there are many reasons why unified control of the entire port district is inevitable and he pointed out, as one illustration, the difficulties encountered in construction of the new Ford plant near the port arising from the necessity of complying with the building codes of both Los Angeles and Long Beach.

SPEEDY ACTION HOPED

If the army board rejects the Grosse report as requested by the Los Angeles and Long Beach delegations at the hearing, it apparently will mean that further Congressional action will be necessary before the harbor program can proceed along the compromise lines laid down by the two cities. This would cause some delay although if the army board acts promptly and accepts the plan presented by the cities it would be possible to get the necessary changes through Congress in the regular session starting next week. Thus, it is possible that the harbor project may be modified and actual work started within the next year. This is not probable, however. It is simply a hope. Senator Shortridge and Representative Evans both told the board that in their opinion Congress promptly would make the modifications suggested if the board would recommend it. There was no indication as to how the board reacted to the plan.

Mr. Matson in his statement called attention to the fact that Los Angeles has spent $30,000,000 to $10,000,000 from the government for developing the harbor and that Long Beach has spent $9,000,000. Under these circumstances, he said, and considering the strategic importance of the harbor from a military and naval standpoint it is unfair to expect the local communities to pay anything toward the cost of the breakwater.

"Yet," he said, "I am sure the communities would pay a fifty-fifty share if required to do so."

AMAZED AT REPORT

Representative Evans disagreed with him on that point, asserting that sentiment among the voters against the imposition of any local burden for the breakwater.

"The people in the port district in Los Angeles and Long Beach is feel," Evans said, "that the breakwater is a government project, and that the government should build it."

Evans declared that he is "amazed" at the Grosse report suggesting that the project be put off.

The entire argument was for a breakwater extension built on the forty-eight foot contour as against the old plan of a forty-two foot contour. The larger arc would provide adequate anchorage space inside for the navy fleet, whereas the smaller curve would probably result in closing Los Angeles Harbor to the Navy. Naval officers were on hand to urge that if the breakwater is built the forty-eight foot contour be adopted. They did not say that the proposed breakwater is essential from the standpoint of the Navy but did say that it is highly desirable and that if it were built it should be according to the larger plan.

SHORTRIDGE SPEAKS

All the witnesses and particularly Senator Shortridge and Gen. Ames Fries, former chief of the chemical warfare section of the army, who appears as a "friend of Southern California" urged upon the army engineers the necessity of looking to the future in connection with the development of Los Angeles Harbor. Shortridge pointed out that the port is the only one in hundreds of miles of coast line and declared that as a member of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee he has been tremendously impressed with the importance of planning work on the harbor from the national defense angle.

"Los Angeles," he said, "is one of the great cities of the world, and it will continue to grow until it is a city of 4,000,000 or 5,000,000 inhabitants. The trend of population has been toward the southwest and particularly toward Southern California. I look upon Los Angeles Harbor from a national viewpoint and believe that because of its location, the enormous area and large population it serves it deserves much more consideration from a national defense standpoint than has been given it heretofore. Even if the local communities are willing to put up a share I am unalterably of the opinion that the Federal government should stand the entire expense of the proposed breakwater. Work should proceed with as little restriction and with as few requirements on the communities as possible."

AIR FUTURE PAINTED

Gen. Fries asked the board to consider the value of an inclosed harbor to commercial aviation of the future. He said that within comparatively few years giant passenger seaplanes undoubtedly will be winging their way across the Pacific and that Los Angeles Harbor will be the logical place in Southern California for them to land and take off. The expanse of quiet water inside the proposed breakwater, he said, would be an ideal terminus for these planes.

Representative Crail told the board that the whole growth and development of the harbor depends very largely on the breakwater and urged that the government have sufficient vision to go ahead with the project regardless of minor local differences which can be healed by time. He appealed to the board not to lose advantage of the "happy situation" presented by Los Angeles and Long Beach finally being in agreement on a harbor plan, after being totally apart for five years.

"The opportunity is now presented for constructive progress on the harbor program and should not be allowed to escape us," Crail said.

INCREASE CITED

The remarkable growth of commerce at Los Angeles Harbor was set forth in tables submitted to the board showing an increase from 2620 ships and 1,739,540 net tons for the fiscal year 1914-15 to 7888 ships and 26,099,245 net tons for the fiscal year which ended June 30, last. Another table showed Long Beach Harbor's growth from 358,899 tons for 1925 to 2,033,283 tons last year.

Regarding the requirements for a port district organization the joint statement filed by the representatives of Los Angeles and Long Beach stated very frankly that an unavailing effort over a period of several years had demonstrated the impossibility of the two cities getting together, but it urged that the broader view be taken and the harbor development not be delayed on this account.

"Every effort," the stateemnt filed by the two cities declared, "has been made to comply with the conditions of port unification. After several years of effort in this direction however, we are convinced that this requirement is impossible of fulfillment, at least within any reasonable time, and therefore request that it be eliminated."

The brief goes on to state that both cities have been active in providing harbor facilities and encouraging commercial development, and that apparently there need be no apprehension that lack of unified control for the time being would jeopardize the best interests of the harbor.

"To insist further upon retention of such a condition (unified harbor control) and thus postpone more or less indefinitely or permanently balk a great public work," the brief declared, "would show a grievous misapprehension of essential interests of commerce involved in this matter. What these need most is the provision of adequate protected channels and terminal facilities with reasonable rates and regulations covering their use. To make the provision of any of these essentials contingent upon some particular form of port administration would be a most unfortunate requirement."

LOWER COST SHOWN

In support of the contention that the government should bear the entire expense of the breakwater the brief argues that it would be a national benefit to commerce and navigation, that it would provide for safe anchorage for naval vessels and that it would provide a haven of refuge for all seacraft during severe weather.

A modified engineering plan was presented by Los Angeles and Long Beach purporting to show that the entire breakwater project could be consummated within the $7,000,000 already authorized, thereby entailing no contribution on the part of the local communities. This plan contemplates cheaper construction all the way around, and was outlined in some detail by Engineer Nicholson of the Los Angeles Harbor board. Nicholson presented an engineering set-up to show that the breakwater could be built for $6,897,000.

HARBOR ACCORD APPROVED

Nonabandonment Agreement on Port Unification Draws Favorable Comment

The agreement reached by Los Angeles and Long Beach representatives at Washington to advocate the nonabandonment of the Los Angeles-Long Beach port unification project before the Federal Board of Army Engineers, as told exclusively in The Times yesterday, has been received with much interest in both port cities.

Mayor Porter received a telegram yesterday from Councilman Henning, who heads the Los Angeles representation in Washington, informing him that the two delegations were to submit a joint brief to the board asking for the nonabandonment of the present project, the modification of several conditions specified by the government, and the construction of a 12,500-foot breakwater extension on the forty-eight-foot contour at government expense. Mayor Porter had no comment to make on the telegram.

C. A. Buffum, chairman of the Long Beach port-unification conference committee and of the joint-conference committees of Los Angeles and Long Beach, said:

"I approve of the effort of the representatives at Washington to get together on a common basis to further harbor welfare for the benefit of all Southern California."

A message to President Shannon Crandall of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, from Clarence H. Matson, the chamber's representative on the local committee at Washington, informed him that the delegations are moving with a united front in behalf of the project.

"The representatives of Long Beach and Los Angeles are to be congratulated," said Mr. Crandall, "if they can bring about the construction of a 12,500-foot breakwater extension at government expense."

Nelson McCook, a member of the Long Beach conference committee, and H. J. Summers, secretary of the Los Angeles conference committee, regard the word from Washington as good news.

WASHINGTON FAVORS JAPAN'S FIRST POINT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—A demand for naval reduction in place of mere limitation, which press dispatches from Tokio have stated was included in Japan's program for the forthcoming London conference, was favorably received tonight in well-informed circles here.

The other points of the program, however, were received with mixed feelings. State Department officials, in the absence of Secretary Stimson, declined to comment on the other demands which it was reported would be put forward by the Japanese delegation in London.

Was Never So Amazed Says Calif. Woman

"I am in splendid health again after ten years suffering; Sargon did more for me than I ever thought possible for any medicine to do," recently stated Mrs. A. P. Smith, 3104 Newton Ave., San Diego.

MRS. A. P. SMITH

"Constipation gave me a lot of trouble on account of my liver being so sluggish, and it seemed to me I was forever having trouble with my stomach. I had very little appetite and what I ate didn't digest right. My stomach seemed filled with acid. I lost strength and energy, was tired and listless and felt like I wanted to sleep nearly all the time. A constant blur before my eyes kept me so dizzy that at times I could hardly walk around the house. My kidneys were over-active and my back ached nearly all the time. Neuritis pains caused my right ankle to hurt dreadfully at times and I was extremely nervous, especially at nights, frequently lying awake for hours after I went to bed. My whole system seemed out of order and I was run down in every way.

"So many people here in San Diego were talking about the wonderful benefits they had received from Sargon, that I felt I owed it to myself to at least give the medicine a trial. And I was never as agreeably surprised in my life at the wonderful improvement that started the very first few days after I began the medicine and steadily continued! I have taken three bottles now and eat and enjoy anything I want without the least stomach distress. My kidneys don't bother me like they did, I never have backaches any more, and I hardly notice the neuritis pains in my ankle.

"Sargon Pills rid me of chronic constipation of ten years standing and seemed to recondition my liver. The dizziness is over, I feel alert and energetic, and I only wish that all suffering women knew as much about this remarkable medicine as I do."

The Sargon Man is at the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Broadway, where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of this celebrated new scientific product. Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

STATE BAN PUT ON DAM PLANS

High San Gabriel Structure Forbidden by Hyatt

Experts Find Forks Unsafe for Huge Project

Alternative Proposal Made as Aid to County

San Gabriel Mountain mass has been thrust up, and that in addition to very large movements on the faults along the boundaries of the mountain block, there are a few zones of major movement cutting through it. One of these zones takes an east-west course and has determined the alignment of the east and west branches of San Gabriel River. Another such zone apparently runs nearly north and south and has been followed by the river in its course below the forks. The forks is thus in the junction area of the two fault zones. The unusually numerous fractures at this locality seem to be consistent with this larger structural relation.

"In addition to the faulted and crushed condition of the rock, much of it, especially that on the upper slopes of the canyon sides and along the principal movement planes and crush zones, is extensively disintegrated and decayed. The crushed and pulverized rock along the fault breaks is often transformed into clay gouge. Some of it is so soft that when moist it can be molded with the hand.

SOME OF IT ROTTED

"The surface materials are weathered into soil. By the same process some of the unbroken material beneath is altered or rotted to such condition that it can be broken easily with the fingers. Along the more fractured zones decay extends as deep as explorations have gone. This altered condition, together with the excessively broken character of the ground and the smoothed and lubricated movement planes, are controlling factors with respect to any very large engineering structure.

"Observation shows that the crush zones and movement planes and slips occur in all portions of the site, as well as beyond the site proper in every direction. Drilling data prove that the same kinds of weaknesses, especially the slips and faults and broken rock and gouge, extend also beneath the site to as deep as explorations have gone.

"Landslides are common on the canyon slopes. These doubtless represent the slumping of individual blocks or groups of blocks separated from each other by slip planes, when they are weakened by progressive undercutting of a stream, lubrication due to access of water and downward extent of weathering. Relatively recent slides have occurred at the site and at several places in the vicinity.

"Where the rock is harder or more uniform than the average, the individual fault blocks are larger, the internal slips and crushes are less numerous and the accompanying decay correspondingly less extensive. This is the reason for the less broken appearance of the east abutment than that of the west abutment, although there are no different kinds of effects or any other principles represented.

FLOOR BROKEN

"Even the floor of the canyon is not free from this condition. A badly broken zone lies beneath the east third of the canyon bottom, where the bedrock channel is deepest. At this level the east portion of the rock floor of the canyon appears to be less substantial than the west, whereas higher in the canyon sides, the west wall is more broken than the east.

"Because of the existence of the same conditions beyond the site, together with the less favorable topography both up and downstream, it is not possible to find materially better conditions at any other location in the immediate vicinity of the forks.

"The character of the rock in the west wall of the canyon, where the proposed dam would rest upon and against it, is displayed in the abutment excavation. It is here shown to be broken through by an intricate system of fault planes with dips ranging from essentially vertical through intermediate angles to flat-lying and with strikes to nearly all points of the compass. Some of the fault lines may be traced across the excavation in a north-south direction and they thus parallel the canyon, while others appear to be correspondingly extensive in transverse directions.

MANY BLOCKS

"Intersection of the fault planes and joints with which the rock is traversed has separated or split the mass of the abutment rock into blocks of all sizes. Evidence of movement between contiguous blocks is the presence of a film or band of clay gouge, which when wet is smooth and slippery clay, and when dry, crumbly and gritty. There is often also a variable thickness of fault-breccia or shattered rock.

"The fault planes are lines or surfaces of relatively ready percolation of water, by which alteration and softening of the adjacent rock has resulted. The inner parts of the larger blocks are usually comparatively hard and fresh rock; those of the smaller ones crumbly or in varying state of disintegration.

"In excavation, separation takes place most readily along the slip surfaces between blocks. Where these are steep and approach parallelism with the canyon side, conditions are favorable to slumping of masses, such as the body of broken rock included in the recent 'slide' at the northerly side of the west abutment excavation.

"The test shafts, tunnels and borings so far made give little hope that the conditions described above will materially improve with continued excavation. These explorations indicate that no suitable foundation rock for a high masonry dam is available under portions of the west abutment to distances of at least 190 feet horizontally and 150 feet vertically beyond the present excavation lines.

"At the present time the face of the east abutment excavation has the appearance of being less broken and more substantial than the west side. In excavating into this wall the rock has separated, leaving a face determined by a set of well-defined smoothed surfaces, nearly parallel to the natural slope at this side.

"This coincidence of position of a plane of separation with the average slope of the canyon side is to an extent deceptive, for it gives less favorable opportunity to see the actual physical condition of the abutment rock than at the west side. In the top portions of the excavation, however, the same intricate combination of faulting and crushing appears as in the west side. There is reason, therefore, to anticipate that greater depth of excavation may show a similar degree of instability at other levels in this butment.

POINT NOT SETTLED

"While the present excavations and exploration tunnels in the east abutment give promise of more satisfactory foundations than are available in the west abutment, neither the tunnels nor the borings on this side extend far enough to settle this point definitely. Furthermore, even the best rears of rock in this abutment are sufficiently intersected by planes of weakness and joints, some of which contain soft material, to throw doubt on its suitability for a dam of the height proposed.

"The bedrock in the floor of the canyon, as shown by the drill cores and by the shafts now being put down, is of the same types of rocks as the canyon walls. In portions of many of the drill holes only a small percentage of core, or even no core, was recovered on account of the poor condition of the rock and both fault breccia and clay gouge are found in some of the cores.

"The inference to be drawn from all available data is that the foundation rock in the canyon bottom is mol broken and is traversed by fault lines to an extent comparable to what is seen in the canyon side walls and abutment excavations. There is good reason to believe that strongly developed lines of break run lengthwise as well as across the canyon floor. Weathering and oxidization are not so general at this lower level, although these effects in certain places reach as deep as explorations have gone.

"The fundamental requirement for a high concrete gravity dam is that it be built on firm, sound rock, of uniform compressibility. This condition does not exist at the San Gabriel site.

MENACE INDICATED

"It is the unanimous opinion of this board that the foundation conditions are such that the dam proposed in application No. D-175 cannot be constructed without creating a menace to life and property.

"While the primary purpose of this report as covered in the preceding pages is to advise on the safety of San Gabriel Dam, as proposed in the plans submitted by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District, the board in its investigations has come to the conclusion that the foundations and other conditions are suitable for a properly built flexible-type dam of conservative proportions. Such a type would not only conform to foundation conditions, but would also provide a structure which can best withstand earthquake shock or earth movement.

PRECAUTIONS NECESSARY

"The board is of the opinion that a combination earth and rock fill dam, placed by the hydraulic method with concrete core wall, can be constructed safely at the site under consideration. The location of the reservoir site above a thickly settled and highly improved valley necessitates unusual precautions in the design of the dam, such as limited height, adequate cutoff, large freeboard, flat slopes and an ample downstream toe blanket. It calls for a spillway of generous capacity, designed for maximum floor occurrence. Unless conditions as now disclosed are found to be materially different upon further exploration, the board believes a safe dam of this type can be constructed at this site. Such a dam should be of width up and downstream to provide a percolation distance (length of water travel) along the base of the dam, equal to at least eight times the maximum depth of water against the dam. In addition to these conservative proportions, the dam should be provided with a reinforced concrete core wall, extending a proper distance into the bedrock at all points, in order to increase percolation resistance. Sluiced mat should also extend to bedrock in an open cut on the two sides of the core wall, the mat immediately up-stream from the concrete wall constituting the impervious core, the mat immediately below the core wall to consist of sand only. Such construction would prevent the travel of water in dangerous amounts either around or under the dam, and would provide a safe structure even though the concrete core wall were breached. The surface of the abutments above the crest of the dam should be brought to slopes that will prevent slides. Materials excavated to date from the abutments can be utilized in the earth-and-rock-fill type of dam suggested above."

State Ban on San Gabriel Project Climaxes Fight of Years Over Site

The San Gabriel dam project, disapproved yesterday by State authorities, has gone through a long series of controversies, investigations, reports, counter-reports, and even lawsuits. Bonds for financing the project were voted in 1924 by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District. Of the $35,000,000 voted, $25,000,000 was to pay for the project.

The site was inspected and approved, some approvals being wholehearted and some only by indirection. One noteworthy one, that by the late Gen. Goethals, was qualified. Only one geologist, Prof. Andrew Lawson, came out with an unqualified indorsement of the site.

CONTRACT LET

After a proposed contract for a low dam was ruled out by the courts, a contract for the high dam was let by the Supervisors November 19, 1928, for $11,250,000 to the concern of Fisher, Ross, MacDonald & Kahn. This was for excavation and placing of concrete, but did not include certain material costs.

Work was begun last February. A model workmen's camp and dining hall were put in. Nearly 700,000 yards of material were excavated for the east and west abutment of the dam. The rock at the west abutment began to worry the engineers late in the summer. Despite the fact that practically the total amount of excavation estimated in the contract had been taken out, no satisfactory rock for the west abutment had been found.

A landslip in September focused public attention on the situation, and the county employed a board of experts to investigate. The experts reported the site unsuitable for a high dam and recommended further study to determine the future program.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

It developed also that Allen Sedgwick, geologist, had made a confidential report to the contractors the year previous casting doubt on the site. The Supervisors employed some of the former engineers and geologists who had reported on the dam to go over it again. Of these, former Chief Engineer Reagan and Prof. Lawson stuck to their original opinions and insisted the site was safe. Also J. F. Safley reported it safe.

The State Engineer appointed a consulting board and on its recommendations and studies, ruled against the dam site.

SUPERVISOR GRAVES SAYS "THAT ENDS IT"

As viewed by Supervisor Graves, the ruling of State Engineer Hyatt against the high dam at the forks site in San Gabriel Canyon eliminates the site for any kind of masonry dam.

"That ends it as far as I am concerned," said Graves. "As for a possible flexible-type dam, that will depend on studies to be made on the possibilities of other dams upon either fork of the river."

Formal action on the report of the State will not be taken before Monday's meeting of the board, it is thought.

CHINESE ASK LEAGUE HELP

dressed to the League of Nations and Kellogg pact signatories the Nationalist government declared that China, always defensive despite many attacks, had been invaded by Russia without declaration of war and that innocent Chinese citizens had been massacred. Neutral nations were urged to "take appropriate steps to stop and punish this deliberate violation."

REQUEST HAS NOT REACHED LEAGUE YET

GENEVA (Switzerland) Nov. 26. (AP)—The secretariat of the League of Nations tonight had received no communication from Nanking regarding the reported Russian invasion of Manchuria.

Officials stated that if the Chinese government should ask the secretary-general to have the Manchurian question placed in the agenda of the next Council which meets in January, this action would be taken. Also a special Council meeting would be called on the demand of China or any other member of the League. Unless the Russian government agreed to submit the question to the League it would be very difficult for the League to accomplish anything toward the settlement of the trouble.

CIVIL WAR ENDS IN TWO PROVINCES

HANKOW, Nov. 27. (AP) (Wednesday)—Hostilities in Honan and Hupeh provinces, where the Nationalist government has been fighting the rebellious Kuominchun, have ended with a suddenness that has surprised all observers, although it is now known that negotiations have been going on for some days between the leaders of the two factions.

A Test Every Bladder Sufferer Should Make

Medical authorities agree that 65 per cent of all men past middle age (many much younger) are afflicted with a disorder of the prostate gland. Aches in feet, legs and back, frequent nightly risings, sciatic pains, are some of the signs—and now a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science has written a remarkably interesting Free Book that tells of other symptoms and just what they mean. No longer should a man approaching or past the prime of life be content to regard these pains and conditions as inevitable signs of approaching age. Already more than 50,000 men have used the amazing method described in this book to restore their health and vigor—and to restore the prostate gland to its proper functioning. Arrange immediately for this book. Call in person if possible, otherwise mail your request to The Electro Thermal Company, Dept. Well Along on Her Second Century

Mrs. Emma McMahon

CENTENARIAN EARNS LIVING

Kansas City Woman, 108, Once Indian Captive, Says God Has Forgotten About Her Being Here

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Nov. 26. (NANA)—Mrs. Emma McMahon went to work yesterday as usual. She sews patches on men's clothing at the Goodwill Industries, a charitable organization in this city.

What about it? Well, yesterday was Mrs. McMahon's 108th birthday.

It was difficult for her interviewer to believe that, watching her sit in a sunny second-floor window putting on a coat patch with swift, sure stitches. But the age is well authenticated, because friends have been making a bit of fuss over Grandma's birthdays since she was 90, eighteen years ago.

"I guess God just has forgotten about my still being here," she commented crisply when she heard the familiar exclamation, "One hundred and eight!"

But Grandma doesn't mind staying on in the world well into her second century. She sees and hears quite well; she walks easily; she lives alone, earns money and is independent. Why shouldn't she be happy?

STOLEN BY INDIANS

The corners of Grandma's mouth have a quizzical hint in them, as if she is enjoying a private and very pleasant joke. She says she "hates all the fuss they make" over her, but one suspects she has her own fun out of astonishing strangers with her amazing capabilities.

Grandma came to America from England when a baby and her parents settled on the Little Red River south of Milwaukee. When she was 3½ the camp was raided by Sioux Indians and little Emma was carried away with them.

She would have been killed if a squaw had not taken a fancy to her blonde curls and interceded violently for her. So she lived with the tribe as an Indian. One day, when she was 7, the Indians carried in an elderly woman, a Mrs. Hudson, from Emma's own district, and Emma recognized her instantly. That night the little girl lay wide awake until the Indians were asleep and then stole out softly, found a tomahawk, and managed to chop loose Mrs Hudson's bonds. The two fled into the night.

SWEETHEART DIED

A sweetheart died when Emma was about 20, and she was 35, an "old maid," before she found the man whom she could marry. He was Patrick McMahon, 37. They moved to Kansas soon after the Civil War and settled at Peabody.

They moved to this city in 1892, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1907. Four years later Mr. McMahon died at the age of 91, after twenty-one years of invalidism.

Mrs. McMahon has four sons living, none in this city. Until recently she walked to and from work, eleven blocks each way. Now a friend takes her in his car most of the time.

Fellow-workers like to ask her how old she is.

"How old? As old as my tongue, and quite a lot older than my teeth," she tells them.

SHORTRIDGE VISIONS NEW TARIFF BILL

Californian Prophesies Agricultural Measure to Pass After Recess

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Senator Shortridge, who has fought since last November for tariff increases on California products, said today he believes that soon after the holiday recess a tariff bill will be agreed to which will increase agricultural schedules, retain the flexible administration power in the hands of the President, and will not have in it any reference to foreign debentures.

This bill will be, in his estimation, a measure which will have sufficient aid for agriculture and a readjustment in other rates which will justify its approval by President Hoover.

Due to the absence abroad of Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, who is one of the delegates to the naval conference to be held in London in January, Senator Shortridge may be one of the Senators appointed to handle the measure in conference with House leaders.

OXFORD PINS HIGH DEGREE ON KELLOGG

Peace Pact Author Made Doctor of Civil Law at University Ceremony

OXFORD (Eng.) Nov. 26. (AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State, now in England, was honored by the convocation of the University of Oxford today. An honorary degree of doctor of civil law, which originally it had been intended to confer upon him last June, was conferred this afternoon.

Dr. A. D. Poynton presented Mr. Kellogg as one who had formerly been American Ambassador to Great Britain, and spoke of the warm congratulations which had been prepared for him at the contemplated June ceremonies.

Dr. Poynton said that the last six months had deepened the sense of the significance of the pact for outlawing war. Mr. Kellogg was the first to broadcast the message that war must be outlawed, and his message did not lack wings.

Ohio to Check Up 'Exoneration' of Tom Mooney

ST. CLAIRSVILLE (O.) Nov. 26. (AP)—Belmont county authorities today announced they will investigate the story of Mrs. Dora Monroe that her brother, Lewis Smith, was responsible for the San Francisco preparedness day bombing in 1916. The investigation was requested by Charles M. Fickert, former Prosecuting Attorney of San Francisco. Fickert asked Prosecutor McKelvey of Belmont county to interview Mrs. Monroe and then give his opinion on her story.

Fickert sent to McKelvey a copy of a letter he wrote Senator Schall of Minnesota, in which he said that efforts to free Tom Mooney were based on misrepresentation and "downright lying."

Property Split Plea of "Queen"

BENTON HARBOR (Mich.) Nov. 26. (AP)—A petition asking that the House of David be dissolved and its property distributed among its membership was filed in Circuit Court today by Mary Purnell, consort of the late "King" Benjamin Purnell, founder of the colony. The petition is contained in an answer filed by "Queen" Mary to injunction proceedings brought by N. T. Dewhirst, in which he sought to have her restrained from participating in any way in the colony affairs.

She says nearly $1,000,000 in cash is sealed in a vault in one of the colony buildings.

BANKER SEIZED IN HUGE FRAUD

San Diego Man Reported to Have Confessed

Embezzlement Total Placed at $200,000

Branch Manager of Bank of Italy in Custody

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Embezzlement aggregating $200,000 to which H. E. Anthony, manager of one of the Bank of Italy's branch banks in San Diego is said to have confessed, was revealed here today by the head office of the Bank of Italy.

Anthony, it was announced, was arrested today at San Diego by Federal officers on a charge of defrauding a national bank. The asserted irregularities, it is said, were discovered by bank examiners several days ago.

Anthony admitted his guilt and submitted to arrest when confronted with the books and the examiners' findings, it is said.

No loss was sustained by the bank, bank officials announced, as it was fully covered by insurance.

STATEMENTS MADE BY SAN DIEGO BANKERS

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Reports from San Francisco that H. E. Anthony, vice-president of the San Diego branch of the Bank of Italy, has been arrested, charged with defrauding a national bank, following an asserted shortage of $200,000, reached the local offices of the bank this afternoon. G. A. Davidson, vice-chairman over the San Diego area of the bank, said:

"As nearly as I can determine now, the money was taken by manipulation of three or four large accounts while Anthony was in charge of the San Diego branch of the bank at Fifth avenue and Broadway. The investigation of the books was handled through the Los Angeles office of the bank.

"The defalcations began soon after the stock market crash. I understand that Anthony was heavily interested in the market. This was while he was manager of the Fifth-and-Broadway branch and before he came to the present San Diego headquarters of the bank, when the three downtown branches were merged under one roof."

Wiegand charged the dancer alienated the affections of his wife, Mrs. Martha Wiegand, 30. The plaintiff said he was married in May, 1928, and lived happily with his wife until last Christmas, after which Mrs. Rentschler caused his wife to become dissatisfied with married life, leave him and file divorce action.

The defendant's husband is George A. Rentschler, president of the Hooven Owens & Rentschler Company of Hamilton, manufacturers of marine engines.

STORMS STILL SWEEP BRITAIN

Many Lives Lost by Gales Battering Coast

Wales Greatest Sufferer; Floods Continue

Ship Radio Operator Dies Saving Others

LONDON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Gales that began Saturday night still swept over Great Britain today, causing loss of life and extensive property damage. The worst effects have been felt in Wales and along the northern coasts.

At Hoylake, Cheshire, a lifeboat battled with mountainous seas throughout the night searching for missing craft from Deeside. A relief motor boat which followed her met with no success.

Extensive floods in South Wales and Devonshire caused the loss of several lives. Motorists in many districts in Wales found roads blocked with water five feet deep. Gangs of railwaymen at Pontypridd have been busy since Sunday repairing tracks.

DAMAGE GREAT

There were floods in the neighborhood of Tiverton, Devonshire, where water has rushed through railway stations, making traffic impossible. Two children were drowned and cottages were flooded to their upper floors.

Damage in South Wales to date amounts to $250,000. One effect of the floods at Swansea has been an invasion of armies of rats.

In one of the worst storms of the Pembrokeshire coast in many years, the steamer Molesey, bound from Manchester to Cardiff, dashed on the rocks near Wolltack Point late last night. Efforts were made from land and sea to rescue the persons on board, but the gale and high seas frustrated all attempts.

RADIO MAN HERO

During the night three of the crew, alarmed by the rapidity with which the ship was breaking up, tried to swim ashore, but were drowned. Five others were washed overboard or died of exposure, including the wife of the chief mate.

Radio Operator E. R. King sacrificed his life to save those of others. He stuck to his post and was busy sending out messages asking help when a mountainous sea swept away the cabin containing the wireless room.

This morning the lifeboat was able to reach the vessel and took off the remaining twenty-eight persons, including Capt. G. E. Huntley, two women and two stowaways.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID WARREN

Hoover and High Officials at Simple Service

Beloved Dean of Senate to be Buried in West

Veterans of Civil War Mourn for Their Comrade

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—In a hushed Senate chamber where he had labored for nearly two-score years, Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming was honored in death today by President Hoover and high officials of the government.

The Chief Executive, his Cabinet, members of the Supreme Court, Senate and House, and representatives of foreign governments paid final tribute at a simple state service for the beloved dean of the Senate who had served his country in war and peace and helped to shape the destiny of the pioneer West.

POEM READ

The chamber and galleries were crowded during the twenty-minute service. The words of Tennyson's poem, "Crossing the Bar," passages of Scripture from the Episcopalian service, and prayer by Rev. Z. B. Phillips, chaplain of the Senate, who had charge of the service, marked the passing of the man who as a drummer boy in the Civil War won the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The words of the chaplain today fell like a benediction upon a little group of veterans in one corner of the chamber, his comrades in arms in the perilous days of '61, and upon the whole assemblage which had gathered to do the dead Senator honor.

MRS. HOOVER IN GALLERY

In the gallery sat Mrs. Hoover, dressed in simple black, beside her a military aide and on the floor among the diplomats was the representative of France, itself in mourning for another warrior, Georges Clemenceau.

Beside the flag-draped coffin in front of the rostrum of Vice-President Curtis were grouped the family, Mrs. Warren, the widow, veiled in black, her son Fred and the son-in-law, Gen. John J. Pershing, a mourning band of black around the left sleeve of his khaki uniform.

After the rites the casket was taken out the main doorway and, bathed in sunshine, carried down the long steps of the east front, where the funeral cortege started for union station and the long journey to Wyoming for burial.

TRIAL OF McMANUS RESUMED

Rothstein Murder Hearing Starts Over Again After Choosing Substitute Juror

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The trial of George A. McManus for the murder of Arnold Rothstein was resumed today with the status of the case at the close of the four-hour session exactly where it was last Thursday afternoon.

Most of the morning was spent in selecting a juror to replace Eugene A. Riker, who was excused yesterday by Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., because of illness. After the questioning of ten talesmen of a special panel of fifty, Edmund Shotwell, automobile salesman, was picked to fill the empty seat. A mistrial previously had been declared, but a new one immediately started and the remaining eleven jurors accepted.

Then started the reading to Mr. Shotwell and the rest of the jury, which had already heard it once, the opening remarks of the State Thursday and the testimony of the seven State witnesses who appeared that day and the next. It had not been completed when court adjourned.

Rebel Leader Reported Both Dead and Alive

NOGALES (Son.) Nov. 26. (AP)—Conflicting reports are reaching here regarding the capture and reported execution of Roberto Cruz, former commander of rebel cavalry on the west coast of Mexico, who, since the Escobar-Topete spring revolt, has been hiding in the mountains of Southern Sonora.

Cruz was reported captured yesterday by Federal soldiers and taken to Navojoa. Early today unconfirmed reports said that he faced a firing squad.

Former rebel leaders, in exile on the American side of the border, say Cruz has not been taken by Federal troops and is still alive and well.

American Girl's Marriage Voided

ROME, Nov. 26. (AP)—The marriage of Gen. Pere Ruggero Piccio, former head of the Italian air service, to Loranda Batchelder of New Orleans, which occurred in New York in 1920, was annulled by the Rome Court of Appeals today.

The court held that the marriage agreement was not spontaneous, and that an element of constraint entered into it at the time. Gen. Piccio is air attache at the Italian embassy at Paris at present.

Gen. Piccio married Miss Batchelder when she was but 18 years of age, a student at the Spence School, New York, and he was 35. Their matrimonial life was most unharmonious.

SENATE CHANGES FORECAST

Jones of Washington Slated for Appropriations; Johnson May Head Commerce Committee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—In the forthcoming reorganization of Senate Republicans necessitated by recent deaths and resignations, it appeared tonight that Senator Wesley Jones of Washington would advance to the chairmanship of the Appropriations Committee and Senator McNary of Oregon would take over his duties as assistant floor leader.

This prospective situation is predicated upon the assumption that Senator Smoot of Utah will retain his chairmanship of the Finance Committee rather than shift to the chairmanship of the Appropriations Committee, made vacant by the death of Senator Warren of Wyoming.

While Senator Smoot has announced no decision there are indications that he will be advised by party leaders to follow this course, since the tariff bill still is pending and as chairman of the Finance Committee that legislation becomes his charge.

JONES'S PREFERENCE

Friends of Senator Jones understand he prefers to take over the Appropriations Committee chairmanship, thus vacating the leadership of the Commerce Committee. Senator McNary is next in line for chairmanship of the Commerce Committee but the Oregon Senator has indicated a preference to retain the chairmanship of the Agriculture Committee. Senator Johnson of California then would become chairman of the Commerce Committee, which will be charged with the consideration of an important part of the Hoover program for inland development.

WEEK MAY TELL

The reorganization will be worked out probably next week after the return of Senator Watson of Indiana, the party floor leader. The Indiana Senator is next in line to Senator Smoot on the Finance Committee and is known to regard very highly the post of chairman of that committee, but if Senator Smoot should carry on as chairman there will be no shift in the line-up of this important committee.

The Republican line-up in the Senate next session now appears to be Watson, leader; McNary, assistant leader; Fess, Ohio, whip; Smoot, chairman of Finance; Jones, chairman of Appropriations; Borah, Idaho, chairman of Foreign Relations; Norris, Nebraska, chairman of Judiciary; Couzens, Michigan, chairman of Interstate Commerce, and Johnson, chairman of the Commerce Committee.

ESPEE BATTLES WITH STATISTICS

Masses of Compilations Used at I.C.C. Hearing

Estimates of Rival Railroad Called Too Rosy

Competition With Sea Held Unavoidable Factor

BY FLOYD J. HEALY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Great masses of compilations by Southern Pacific experts were poured into the Interstate Commerce Commission today in that railroad's effort to refute contentions of the Great Northern and Western Pacific regarding prospective benefits of the linking of the latter two lines.

As witness after witness filed across the stand and objections against cumulative testimony grew more and more frequent, Director Mahaffie did his utmost to speed the hearing, now dragging into its eleventh day with prospects of continuing the remainder of the week. It was indicated tonight a half-day session will be held Thanksgiving Day.

ESTIMATES TOO ROSY

Southern Pacific witnesses declared estimates of construction costs by the appellant railroads are too low, the estimates of probable tonnage and revenue are too high, their picturization of general benefits too optimistic and the inroads on the Southern Pacific's revenue account would be so far from appellant estimates as to be destructive.

H. C. Hallmark, assistant freight traffic manager for the Espee, declared Southern Pacific estimates of the traffic which can be originated in the territory at issue will amount to not more than $129,016 in actuality. The Western Pacific estimate was $1,685,786 for the first year of operation. Hallmark's estimate on freight car shipments the first year was 990 against Western Pacific figures of 10,371.

Water commerce provides such keen competition to the Southern Pacific, Hallmark averred, that the new line, if built, cannot hope to compete with rates now in effect on water-borne commerce between coastal points from Puget Sound to Los Angeles Harbor.

MOST BY WATER

"Of the total traffic," he said, "originating in the San Francisco Bay area, including all of Central California, and the traffic originating in the North Pacific areas, Portland and Puget Sound, 91.3 per cent is carried by water. This severe competition, which the proposed line cannot hope to meet offers a situation unequaled anywhere in the United States."

The Southern Pacific also introduced its own technical and engineering experts to rebut testimony previously given by A. O. Mott of the State Railroad Commission, who testified for the appellant railroads as the representative of the California rail body. Clarence E. Day for the Espee, tripled Mott's estimates of the loss which the Southern Pacific would suffer by reason of the new construction. He also disagreed with estimates by Western Pacific and Great Northern experts as to costs of operation, equipment taxes, car supply and other factors.

TERRORISM ASSERTED TO VEIL DEATH

Lips of Witnesses Sealed by Fear in Torture Killing, Sheriff Declares

MOUNTAIN VIEW (Ark.) Nov. 26. (AP)—Sheriff Johnson of Stone county declared today that a "reign of terror" had been created in the St. James community to seal the lips of citizens regarding a series of crimes by a band of night riders that culminated in the torturing and burning alive of a young farm laborer.

"Everyone who knew anything about the slaying of Connie Franklin and an attack on his sweetheart was terrorized by a band of men and threatened anyone who gave information to us," he said.

"But for a note thrown outside the jail by Ross Younger, a brother of Bill C. Younger, one of the men under indictment, we might never have uncovered information about the slaying," the Sheriff added.

In his note Younger said he knew all about the slaying and unless his brothers and others he implicated in it obtained his release on bail on the night-riding charges against him he would tell all he knew.

Bill Younger, the father of five children, and four others are in jail charged with first-degree murder and four others are being sought.

Either Drinking or Game to Stop

LYNN (Mass.) Nov. 26. (AP)—Mayor Bauer saw so much drinking at the Harvard-Yale football game at the Harvard Stadium Saturday that he has ordered the Thanksgiving Day high school contest here to be bone dry or be stopped.

"Twelve thousand persons at the stadium, he estimated today, were more interested in quart bottles and hip flasks than anything else. Many women "took a pull out of the bottles the same as the men," he said, and neither the police nor the faculty interfered.

WOUNDING OF WOMAN DECLARED ACCIDENTAL

RAIL CHIEFS GET LAUGH FROM PRESS CLUB SKIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Presidents and other high executives of western railroad lines who have played vital parts for more than two weeks in the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the proposed Great Northern-Western Pacific link, forgot their cares tonight as they saw and heard newspaper men covering the story stage a mock hearing at the San Francisco Press Club. Charles D. Mahaffie, chief of the Interstate Commerce Commission's finance bureau, was the honor guest.

The presentation, the lines of which were written by Anthony Moiterest of the Oakland Tribune, was similar to the annual Gridiron Club dinner of Washington correspondents, and gibed the rail moguls unmercifully. But their laughter topped the tide of merriment as they saw themselves caricatured in appearance, speech and action.

The theme was in direct contrast to the applications on file in the actual hearing. It depicted the Southern Pacific striving with might and main to force the Great Northern and Western Pacific to build a new railroad, with the Espee gratuitously providing all construction materials and building the road. The Western Pacific and Great Northern were pictured in a deadly struggle to prevent the Espee from building the line for them.

Putty Saves Singer Injury

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Putty, used by Lawrence Tibbett, Metropolitan Opera baritone, to build up his nose for the part of Sheriff Rance in "The Girl of the Golden West," saved him from serious injury last night when a ladder fell during the opera, striking him on the nose.

Undaunted by the mishap, which came in the second act, Tibbett continued to sing his role. After the close of the act he was treated by a house physician and returned for the third act. The injury was described as a superficial one, mainly because much of the force was broken by the putty.

TRAIN ROBBER HUNT PUSHED

Many Join Wyoming Search for Limited's Wrecker

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Nov. 26. (AP) Wyoming's most intensive man hunt since the train-robbing days of William Carlisle, last of the West's train bandits, was pressed today for the "lone wolf" who last night derailed the westbound Union Pacific Portland Limited three miles east of Cheyenne and held up passengers as he flourished a gun.

Officials of the railroad said today the robber did not get more than $500. Three suspects are under arrest.

The order of a wilder and earlier day, "Get your man, dead or alive," was revived as Sheriff's officers, railroad special agents and scores of private citizens searched over prairies and hills for the bandit who if brought in will be liable to death by hanging or life imprisonment.

Railroad officials are convinced that a man familiar with track work was responsible for the wreck and hold-up.

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—The Byrd geological sledging party is making better time on the last part of the trip to the Queen Maud Mountains. They have lighter loads and the sight of the mountains ahead to encourage them. Last night they made camp at Depot No. 6, which is at 83 deg. 25 min. south latitude. Dr. L. M. Gould, leader of the party, reported that they had had no sun for the last seventy-five miles of their journey but that with the wind behind them and a smoother surface they made eighteen miles in a day's march.

Although the weather was fairly clear yesterday at their position, the barometer was falling and there had been a twenty-mile wind all day.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

WOMEN'S CRITIC ROUSES STORM

British Feminists Defend Pin-Money Workers

Right of Sex to Take Jobs Loudly Proclaimed

Employment Minister Target of Abuse and Jeers

LONDON, Nov. 26. (AP)—British feminists have risen almost in chorus to ridicule and assail statements of J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister for Employment, that it was unfair and uneconomic for British women to work except in case of necessity, and that in so doing they took jobs from the needy.

Lady Rhondda, directress in thirty companies, retorted: "It is strange that Mr. Thomas, a Socialist, should be advocating idleness for any section of the community. It is ridiculous to say that it is against the interests of the nation for women to work.

"Everyone either works or is kept by some one else. My own experience in business is that few women are engaged in it on a pin-money basis. Most of them work because they need the money."

She said that even if women have other responsibilities, "why should they not work to support themselves? Is it fair to expect fathers to support a family of grown daughters? Even admitting that many women are working for pin-money, what happens to the pin-money when earned? It is spent some way and however spent it creates more work."

Miss Florence Underwood, secretary of the Women's Freedom League, said: "Like old Adam, he is trying to blame the women for unemployment. Every woman has a right to work, no matter what her position, if she chooses to do so."

RADIO KYA ORDERED TO GO OFF AIR

Commission Takes Action on News of San Francisco Station's Breaking Rule

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Radio station KYA at San Francisco, was summarily ordered off the air today by the Radio Commission.

The license of KYA expired the 1st inst. and the commission was in the middle of a hearing on the possibility of its being renewed when testimony was given that the station had been broadcasting in spite of the fact it had no license to do so.

MEXICANS BOO MEASURE BANNING BULLFIGHTING

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26. (AP)—A storm of shouts and boos, sprinkled with laughter, greeted presentation in the Chamber last night of Deputy Sotelo Regil's bill to purge Mexico of bullfighting, cockfighting and boxing.

The cries were the Spanish equivalent of the American "throw him out," and "throw the bill in the waste basket." The reception was so noisy the secretary finally was forced to quit reading the bill, which was turned over to a committee for study.

The newspaper El Universal interviewed various members of the Senate to obtain their reaction. Senator De Leon said Deputy Sotelo should be buried "standing up" for his foolishness. Senator Estrada said bullfighting has made the Latin race courageous.

Senator Caloca said all civilized peoples have games more or less barbarous from which they get bravery and strength, virility and gallantry. He added such games balanced culture in civilization and gave it necessary brutality.

Order Enjoins W.O.W. From Insurance Plan

DENVER, Nov. 26. (AP)—Formal decree was entered today by Judge Dunklee in District Court here, enjoining the Woodmen of the World, with headquarters at Denver, from putting into effect an "old-line" system of insurance. Attorneys for the lodge were given ten days to file a motion for new trial.

The decree directs the defendant to demand of the C. A. Owen, Jr., Insurance Company of Detroit, $1,167,469.64, the amount paid by the W.O.W. head camp officers, the suit said, to that concern to carry on the campaign to induce members to exchange their insurance plans. The decree permanently enjoins the order from adopting a new form of insurance such as was decided on at a meeting last summer in Oakland, Cal.

Woman Shot by Child Dies

OCTAVIA (N. Y.) Nov. 26. (AP)—Mrs. Elmer Shultz died at her home in Elba of wounds which she told a neighbor were inflicted by her 4-year-old son Elmer, Jr. A daughter, Eleanor, 7, corroborated her mother's story.

The girl said her brother picked up their father's shotgun from a corner.

"Bang, mama," she quoted the child as saying, as he pointed the gun at his mother and pulled the trigger. Mrs. Shultz was hit in the side.

Italy's Bomber Largest Plane

MILAN (Italy) Nov. 26. (AP)—Italy has joined the ranks of nations producing large planes by constructing a six-motored, 6000-horsepower Caproni biplane, capable of lifting twenty-one tons.

The giant plane, 150 feet long, has been taken over by the Italian Air Force to be used as a bomber. It will carry almost nine tons of bombs and 2640 gallons of gasoline and develops a maximum speed of 131 miles per hour.

GEN. SHAW TO BE RETIRED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Brig.-Gen. George C. Shaw, commander of the Sixth Brigade at Fort Rosecrans, Cal., was ordered today by the War Department to proceed to his home to await retirement because of age. He is a native of Michigan.

Rare Necklace With Napoleonic History Shown

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—A necklace which has been shown privately at a safe-deposit vault is represented to be that which Napoleon gave to Maria Louise of Austria on the birth of their son. It consists of forty-seven large diamonds set in silver and gold and is valued at $500,000. It came free of duty as a historical antique.

The owner is Maria Theresea, Archduchess of Austria, now 74 years of age, who in her younger days wore the necklace to court functions. With the necklace were shown documents describing it as authentic. No reason was given by Mrs. C. P. Townsend, representing the Archduchess, for the sending of the jewels to this country.

Mayor Seized in Liquor Raid

WALLACE (Idaho) Nov. 26. (AP)—Federal prohibition agents swooped down on Wallace today and when they left they had the Mayor, a former Mayor, the County Sheriff, two deputies and twelve other persons under arrest on liquor conspiracy charges.

While they would not comment on the arrests other than to confirm them, Federal court attaches intimated that the officials arrested today were not actually in liquor traffic, but were cognizant of it and had not moved to stop it, thus becoming liable under the law.

Here's How to Prepare the Feast

ROAST TURKEY WITH CHESTNUT AND RAISIN STUFFING

Draw and clean the turkey and wash, first in hot water and then in cold. Cut off the neck and reserve it with the liver and gizzard for the giblet gravy. Place it in the icebox until ready to fill it with the following stuffing: Cut a slit in each side of chestnuts, place them in a colander and set it over a kettle of boiling water. Steam until they begin to crack. Remove the shells and brown skins while they are hot. For an eleven-pound turkey you should have two and one-half cupfuls of chestnuts after they are run through the fine knife of a meat grinder. After running them through the grinder, add to them three cupfuls of fine dry bread crumbs and stir in one-half cupful of melted butter and one cupful of Sultana raisins. Season with salt, paprika and a teaspoonful each of thyme and marjoram. Mix thoroughly and fill the turkey with the dressing but do not stuff it too full. Sew up and truss. Make a paste of flour and butter creamed together and rub it all over the turkey. Place breast down in a baking pan and put in a hot oven (450 or 500.) Leave the cover off and cook until it is nicely browned on all sides, being careful in turning it. Use a cloth to turn it rather than a fork so that none of the juices will escape. When it is nicely browned, turn on the breast again, place on the cover, add one-half a cupful of salt cooking cherry or orange juice to the pan and reduce the oven heat to 350. A twelve-pound turkey should bake in three hours in a slow oven.

GIBLET GRAVY

Cover the neck and giblets with boiling water and cook until tender. Rub the liver through a sieve, chop the gizzard fine, remove the meat from the neck and chop fine. Make a gravy from the liquor in the roasting pan and add the giblet meat to it.

SOUTHERN MASHED SWEET POTATOES

Clean six medium-sized yams, pour boiling water over then and cook until tender. Peel and mash while still hot, season with salt and paprika, add three-quarters of a cupful of rich milk or cream, one-quarter of a cupful of brown sugar one-quarter of a cup of melted butter and one-quarter of a cupful of salt cooking cherry and mix thoroughly. Place in a well oiled casserole and bake in a hot oven until heated through. While it is baking, place one-quarter of a cupful of water and one-half a cupful of brown sugar in a saucepan and heat until it is thick like caramel, then beat in two tablespoonfuls of butter. Spread this over the top of the potatoes and—if you like them—place a few marshmallows over the top and return to the oven until they are browned.

SCALLOPED CAULIFLOWER WITH MUSHROOMS

Cover a large cauliflower with cold water and soak for a few minutes, then cook in boiling water until it becomes tender but do not overcook. Place the contents of one large can of mushrooms (stems and pieces) in a saucepan and simmer in their own liquor for five minutes. Place six tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add one medium sized onion chopped fine and cook until the onion is tender but not brown, then pour in the mushrooms and their liquor, stir in four tablespoonfuls of flour and stir and blend thoroughly, add one and one-half cupfuls of milk and cook until thick. Place the cooked cauliflower in an oiled casserole and pour the sauce over it. Heat four tablespoonfuls of butter and mix one-quarter of a cupful of breadcrumbs with it. Sprinkle them over the top of the cauliflower and place in the oven until heated through.

CIDER JELLY

For a service for six use one tablespoonful of gelatine, one-half a cupful of boiling water, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a cupful of lemon juice, one-quarter of a cupful of cold water, one and one-quarter cupfuls of boiled cider, one-quarter of a cupful of sugar.

Soften the gelantine with cold water and stir and dissolve in the boiling water, add the cider, lemon juice, salt and sugar and cool slightly. Rinse individual molds in cold water and pour in about one inch of the gelatine. Set in cracked ice until the gelatine hardens. In half of the molds sprinkle one-half a dozen Rubyettes over the gelatine, in the other half, half a dozen of the Emeraldettes, then fill with the balance of the gelatine and set in the ice box to harden. Serve on lettuce-covered plates with a garnish of mixed Rubyettes and Emeraldettes.

GRAPEFRUIT, PEAR AND CHERRY SALAD

Allow half a grapefruit for each service. Scoop out as much of the pulp as possible and save the shells. Combine with a pulp an equal amount of fresh or canned pears cut in dice, add a medium-sized can of the red cherries and one of the green cherries, chopped in small pieces, add a seasoning of salt and one-quarter of a cupful of lemon juice. Mix thoroughly and leave in the icebox overnight to chill and blend. In serving, fill the shells with the mixture, mask the top with mayonnaise and garnish with strawberries or cherries. With each portion serve a slice of pineapple garnished with either a strawberry or a cherry.

FROZEN HOLIDAY PUDDING

For a service for six: One cupful of Guasti's sweet sherry, three-quarters of a cupful of boiling water, five dates chopped fine, six Maraschino cherries chopped, one quarter of cupful of cold water, three finely chopped white figs (dried,) two tablespoonfuls of seedless raisins, two level tablespoonfuls of gelatine. Soak the fruit in the sherry overnight. Soak the gelatine in the cold water for five minutes, then dissolve it in the boiling water. Add the fruit and sherry. Place in individual molds which have been wet with cold water. Serve with a sauce made by beating one glass of Guasti's wine jelly with the white of one egg until it is light and fluffy.

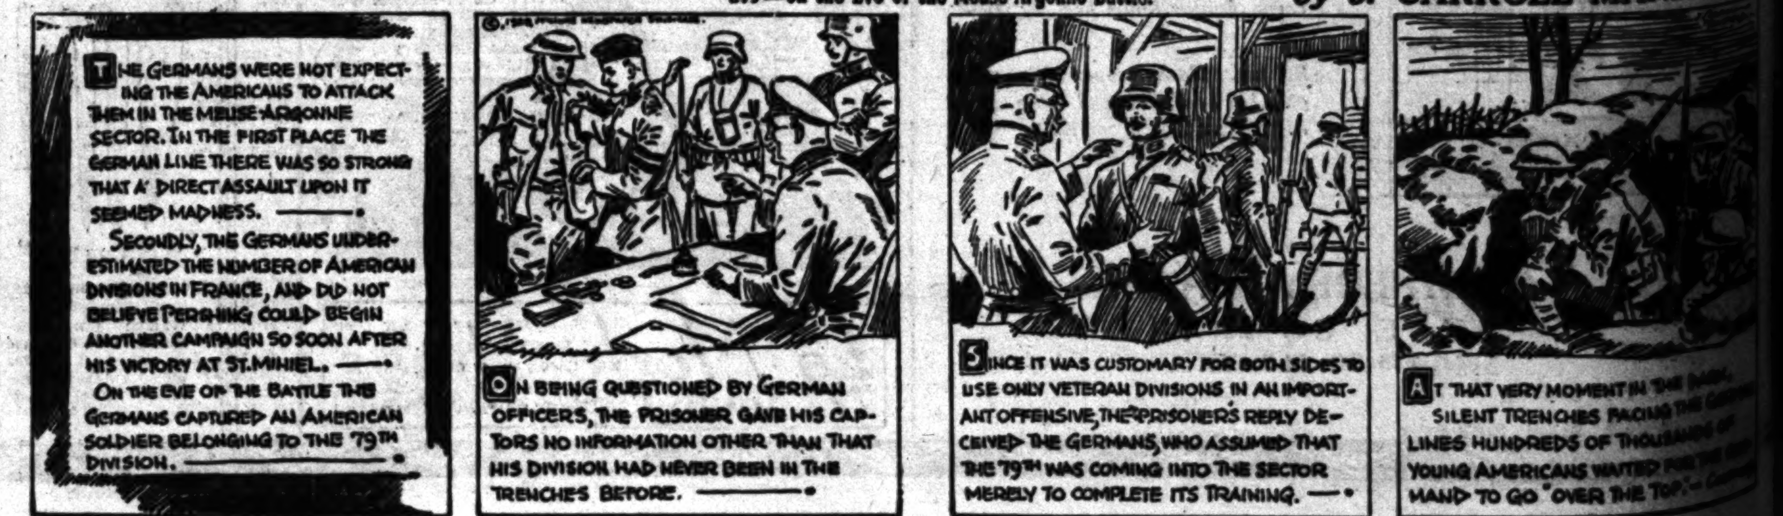
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY 1509

The Story of the World War

279—On the Eve of the Meuse-Argonne Battle.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



THE GERMANS WERE NOT EXPECTING THE AMERICANS TO ATTACK THEM IN THE MEUSE-ARGONNE SECTOR. IN THE FIRST PLACE THE GERMAN LINE THERE WAS SO STRONG THAT A DIRECT ASSAULT UPON IT SEEMED MADNESS.
SECONDLY, THE GERMANS UNDERESTIMATED THE NUMBER OF AMERICAN DIVISIONS IN FRANCE, AND DID NOT BELIEVE PERSHING COULD BEGIN ANOTHER CAMPAIGN SO SOON AFTER HIS VICTORY AT ST.MIHIEL.
ON THE EVE OF THE BATTLE THE GERMANS CAPTURED AN AMERICAN SOLDIER BELONGING TO THE 79TH DIVISION.
ON BEING QUESTIONED BY GERMAN OFFICERS, THE PRISONER GAVE HIS CAPTORS NO INFORMATION OTHER THAN THAT HIS DIVISION HAD NEVER BEEN IN THE TRENCHES BEFORE.
SINCE IT WAS CUSTOMARY FOR BOTH SIDES TO USE ONLY VETERAN DIVISIONS IN AN IMPORTANT OFFENSIVE, THE PRISONER'S REPLY DECEIVED THE GERMANS, WHO ASSUMED THAT THE 79TH WAS COMING INTO THE SECTOR MERELY TO COMPLETE ITS TRAINING.
AT THAT VERY MOMENT IN THE SILENT TRENCHES FACING THE LINES HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS YOUNG AMERICANS WAITED MAND TO GO "OVER THE TOP."

THE WASHINGTON STATE COUGARS PRESENT THEIR BACKFIELD

And included in the gathering is Mr. Elmer Schwarz, the leading touchdown scorer of the Pacific Coast Conference. His running mates in the starting line-up are Archie Buckley, quarterback; Oscar Jones, halfback, and Carl Ellingsen. These young men with other members of the Washington State team left Pullman, Wash., last night bound for this city, where they will tangle with the Southern California Trojans in the wind-up game of the conference season at the Coliseum next Saturday afternoon. Washington State is said to have one of the best lines on the Coast and a greatly improved backfield since it lost to California, 14 to 0. The Cougars have their eyes on that New Year's Day bid, and will be out to duplicate that surprise victory they hung over on Mr. Jones's Trojans in 1926.

COUGARS IN POSITION TO ACCEPT INVITATION

Two Games in Honolulu Can Be Canceled

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, PULLMAN (Wash.) Nov. 26. They were looking toward Pasadena and the Tournament of Roses as Washington State's Cougars—thirty-three of them—left Pullman tonight for Los Angeles and Saturday's title game with the University of Southern California.

COACH BABE HOLLINGBERY

For the first time in fourteen years, Washington State people found hope of a Pasadena invitation—withheld through years of defeat and disappointment.

Babe Hollingbery, silent as ever, declined predictions. He confessed the conventional . . . it was to be a tough game, with his team in top form and a fair chance of holding the sixteen different hosts of Troy.

But there wasn't an injured man on the squad. Morale was rather

Earl V. Foster, graduate manager, explained away the slightly erroneous thought manifest in Southern California that the Cougars could not accept a Pasadena game because of conflicting Hawaiian engagements.

Rose Body to Withhold Bid Until Later

BY BRAVEN DYER

The Washington State-Southern California game in the Coliseum Saturday may determine what team is to represent the West in the annual Tournament of Roses grid classic on New Year's Day. Any official announcement is being withheld until after this encounter.

"We are maintaining an open-minded attitude at this time," was the declaration of Hal Reynolds, president of the Pasadena body yesterday. "There are plenty of teams in the running and there may be some announcement the early part of next week," continued the Rose Tournament official. "So far we haven't invited anybody. At this time I can only say that we will have a football game as usual and that the western selection will do its own bidding of an eastern opponent."

COUGARS IN RUNNING

Washington State officials here declare that in the event their team trims the Trojans Saturday the contract calling for games in Honolulu the latter part of next month can be canceled. Which leaves the Cougars very much in the running.

BEARS EAGER TO PLAY IF OFFICIALLY INVITED

BERKELEY, Nov. 26. (AP)—In a wildly enthusiastic football rally today, members of the University of California team voted to play at Pasadena New Year's Day, provided they are officially invited to represent the West in the annual Rose Bowl classic. The meeting was held as a result of California being "sounded out" as to its willingness to play. Coach C. M. (Nibs) Price also has agreed to the game. Faculty approval also is needed, but this is expected to be gained if the invitation is forthcoming.

Aside from being approached, unofficially, California officials have no inkling as to a probable opponent. The Bears represented the West last New Year's Day, losing a hard-fought game to Georgia Tech, 8-7. That was the contest in which Roy Riegels, Bear center and 1930 captain, made his spectacular reverse run of seventy-five yards after picking up a fumbled ball. He discovered his mistake a couple of yards from goal and Georgia Tech scored a safety on the next play.

California tied for the Pacific Coast Conference championship this year, after seeing its chances for the title flit away because of a 21-6 defeat by Stanford last Saturday in the final contest of the season.

SANTA CLARANS ARE DUE HERE

Broncos Face Loyola Lions in Turkey Day Clash

Thirty-seven strong and full of fight, Santa Clara's battling Broncos, led by Coach Clipper Smith, will arrive in Los Angeles this morning and go through a final workout, which is expected to put them in top shape for their Thanksgiving Day grid battle with the Loyola Lions tomorrow at Wrigley Field.

The Broncos, who provided the major upset of Pacific Coast grid season a couple of Saturdays ago when they shocked the nation's football experts by defeating Stanford, 13 to 7, will be favorites to defeat Coach Driver's Lions, but Loyola followers are confident their

Twenty-five Montanans Coming for Turkey Day Game With Bruins

BY FRANK ROCHE

Maj. Frank Milburn and twenty-five Montana University football players roll into town this morning on a U. P. choo-choo to keep a Coast Conference gridiron engagement with our own U.C.L.A. Bruins of Westwood. The game, which occurs tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Coliseum, will officially close the season for both teams.

The Grizzlies have not won a Coast Conference victory since 1926. U.C.L.A., in its second year of "big-time" competition, has yet to break into the winning side of the Coast Conference ledger. They both threaten to do something drastic about the situation when they lock horns tomorrow on Zack Farmer's well-groomed field.

While Montana will rule a slight favorite to thump the Westwood warriors, there is a strong feeling among Bruin followers that Spaulding's team is about ready to strike pay dirt. Neither team has any great reserve strength and, despite the fact that the Grizzlies scored thrice on California and held Washington to a tie, they will not enjoy any great edge over the Bruins when they take the field.

The Bruins have several things in their favor. First they are playing

COLORADO COLLEGE BOY GAINS ANOTHER VERDICT

Junior Lightweight Champion Put on Short End of Decision in Mediocre Ten-rounder

BY PAUL LOWRY

Eddie Mack, the college boy from Colorado, gained decision No. 2 over Tod Morgan, the junior lightweight king, in a nontitle match at the Olympic last night, but that is about as much as you can say for the bout.

It was so painfully stripped of any real action that Referee Lieut. Jack Kennedy took cognizance of the situation between the eighth and ninth rounds and made a speech to the audience as follows:

EDDIE MACK

"Regardless of how this fight goes, there will be no draw."

The referee did not translate his remarks but left that matter up to his audience.

Perhaps he felt, as did others, that the boys were just going along, and their bouncing and pawing and swishing could have been converted into useful channels had they felt so inclined.

However, Morgan and Mack put up no worse a performance than many other boxers of the scientific school turn in for the edification of the cash customers, and perhaps can't be censured too severely under the circumstances.

CHAMP OFF RANGE

Morgan has been off the range for several months, and his timing and distance were both bad.

Mack let Morgan do all the lead-

Overweight Bouts in New York State Sanctioned

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The spirit of Christmas was in the air today as the New York State Athletic Commissioners prepared a surprise gift package for the boxing business.

Still a bit hesitant about details, the solons of sock announced that within a week or two official announcement would be made that in the future, fight champions would be permitted to box in New York State occasionally without having to defend their titles every time they step within a ring. For years one of the most rigid of all commission rules has been the edict that a champion must fight here only at title weight and with his crown in jeopardy.

In the past this rule of the commission has prevented champions of lower divisions stepping out of their classes to battle the rulers or contenders a step above them in heft. Because of this decree Jack Delaney and Tommy Loughran were forced to give up the light-heavyweight

BILL LANE GOES EAST FOR TALENT

Star Boss Departs Today for Meeting; Lelivelt, Reichow Off Tomorrow

BY BOB RAY

The eastward hegira of local baseball magnates begins today when Bill Lane, boss of Hollywood's champion Stars, departs for the minor leaguers' annual convention at Chattanooga in search of talent to bolster his Sheiks for the 1930 campaign.

BILL LANE

Lane will journey up to Oakland, pick up Cal Ewing and his club's popular manager, Oscar Vitt, before he heads for the Chattanooga gathering.

Jack Lelivelt, the head man of the Angeles, and Oscar Reichow, Seraph business manager, stick around home long enough to enjoy a Thanksgiving Day dinner and then depart for the meeting.

Both the Hollywood and Los Angeles officials will leave here predicting that they'll purchase athletes who will assure their clubs of being pennant contenders in next year's race.

Lelivelt and Reichow will go to Chattanooga by way of Chicago, where they will stop off a day to have a conference with Joe McCarthy and Bill Veeck, to see what the Cubs have to offer the Angels in the way of talent. The Cubs owe the Seraphs a player or two in exchange for Augie Walsh, the big winner of last year's Angel mound staff. Lelivelt is seeking a southpaw pitcher, a young catcher, an outfielder and a ca-

ATTENDANCE MARKS HIGH FOR BIG TEN CONTESTS

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Western Conference football teams this season played before 1,900,000 spectators.

Receipts for the sixty-five games played by Big Ten teams approximate $4,796,000. Tickets for games between conference elevens and outstanding nonconference teams sold for $3 each. Each school played one or two games at $2.50.

Michigan, in standing a second division team, led the league in home and total attendance. The Wolverines attracted 464,000 to their eight games. This record included two sell-outs in the mammoth stadium at Ann Arbor, where 89,000 turned out to see the Harvard and Ohio State games.

Ohio State was second with a home attendance of 249,000 and a season's mark of 384,000.

Other attendance figures, showing the total home crowds: Northwestern, 238,000; Illinois, 197,000; Minnesota, 181,000; Chicago, 142,000; Wisconsin, 124,344; Iowa, 97,000; Indiana, 72,500, and Purdue, 69,000.

ENGINEERS WILL BATTLE AZTEC ELEVEN TOMORROW

Coach "Fox" Stanton and a squad of Caltech Engineers were scheduled to depart today for San Diego where they will play the State College Aztecs tomorrow in the final conference game of the season.

The Engineers are favored to win the annual Thanksgiving Day battle, as the Aztecs have not chalked up a single conference victory this year, losing to Whittier, Redlands, Pomona and Occidental.

Stanton had arranged a new backfield that includes Capt. Les Boyle at quarter, Eastman and Bennett at halfbacks, and Dickey at fullback. This combination carries more weight than has been used before.

Hayes and Maass probably will start at end, with Shuler and Rice at tackles, Alderman and Paulson at guards, and Kuhn at center.

Stecher Takes on Plestina in Olympic Bout Tonight

OLD MAT FOES IN SPOTLIGHT

Flying Mare Expert Will Meet Scissors Star

Winner Will Get Crack at Gus Sonnenberg

Daviscourt, Mazetti Mingle in Semi-Wind-up

BY RALPH HUSTON

The art of mayhem, as it is "hemmed" in the more refined circles, will be on display at the Olympic Auditorium tonight when Lou Daro presents Joe Stecher and Marin Plestina in a main event with the winner scheduled to meet Gus Sonnenberg in a title battle next month.

MARIN PLESTINA

There isn't a great deal of friendship wasted between these two old rivals, and with a title match in sight, both will bend every effort to win. The bending won't be confined to efforts, however, as there will be considerable toe-twisting, neck-wracking, arm-hauling and what-not in the affair.

The mutual resentment dates back some years when both were aspiring youngsters in the grappling game. Stecher got the breaks, and became world's champion on no less than three occasions. Plestina always seemed to be on the outside, looking in. Never quite able to get a championship bout, although he tossed a lot of worth-while challengers in all parts of the country.

"TRUST-BUSTER"

This treatment grated on the Jugo-Slav's nerves, and he has been bellowing about for a number of years. Those vocal efforts, as well as his sudden flares of exceptional wrestling, which have brought him victories over a number of first-flight performers, have brought him the title of "trust-buster" and he confidently expects to break up the Sonnenberg-Lewis-Stecher rating tonight.

Plestina favors the flying mare, and some fans expect him to win tonight with this hold. Packing a mere 230 pounds, Plestina gets plenty of power behind the toss, and his victims usually retire in disorder after a couple of jaunts through the atmosphere.

Stecher's renowned body scissors has been sufficient to beat almost everybody but Sonnenberg. He has used it successfully against Lewis a few times. The experts predict he will use it to advantage tonight while Plestina is maneuvering to get his flying mare into action, but whether it will have any effect on Plestina's well-padded midsection remains to be seen.

Plestina is in a fiery mood, and Stecher, when he is ruffled, can contribute some rough stuff of his own, all of which should contribute mightily to the general festivities tonight. The bout is a best-two-out-of-three-falls affair.

Dick Daviscourt, who tossed Jack O'Malley in a hurry two weeks ago, comes back against Guiseppe Mazetti, the Italian blunderbuss, in the semifinal one-fall, hour-limit bout. Guiseppe is risking his most prized possession, a pair of handle-bar mustachios in this encounter, for Daviscourt, who takes every possible advantage, is certain to start tugging and hauling on the lip adornment. The San Diego swede king showed a lot of stuff in flooring O'Malley, and will be favored tonight.

However, it was rumored last night that Mazetti, fearing a vicious attack on his cherished mustachios, might sacrifice them under the keen edge of a razor, in order that he might be at his best tonight. Guiseppe refused to confirm or deny the rumor.

Al Baffert and Ad Herman, a pair of rough and tough grapplers, are scheduled to open the show with a half-hour event.

tie to exist among U.S.C., Stanford, California and Oregon.

Last year when U.S.C. tied California 0-0 and won all its other games while California tied Stanford 13-13 as well as U.S.C., the conference awarded the Schwabacher trophy to each team for six months. California, however, conceded the title to the Trojans since they had beaten Stanford, whom the Bears had only tied.

Irish Get Ready for Mr. Cagle

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Nov. 26. (AP) Defense against the accurate passes of Cagle, Army back, was stressed by Notre Dame coaches today as the Irish squad continued its preparation for the football game with the cadets at New York Saturday. Regulars and shock troops were put on defense against Army formations in a shadow scrimmage.

Ten Notre Dame players will be lost through graduation this year, among them Tim Moynihan, center, who was injured in the game with Northwestern last Saturday. J. E. Nash, second-stringer, will play the pivot position in the Army game.

O'LEARY TO WALK FOR PASADENANS

Dan O'Leary, the oldest pedestrian of them all, will walk around the bases six times in five minutes, for the edification of Pasadena baseball fans at Brookside Park tomorrow afternoon, when the Merchants make a holiday appearance. O'Leary, who is 90 years of age, has been doing the stunt for more than sixty years, and hasn't missed yet.

BY SOL METZGER

When we compare the position of a player at address with that he occupies when his clubhead meets the ball we can see the reason why the swing must be timed perfectly and the details of the pivot executed in the right manner.

One's clubhead must meet the ball when its face is traveling through at right angles to the direction you wish to stroke it. Now to get it back to this point so that the clubhead is in the exact relation to the ball as it was when addressed, you must use hands, arms and pivot in orthodox manner. The stunt is to have your shoulder and hip lines paralleling the direction line at contact.

That's why one must be particular to master the back and forward pivots. Otherwise your body will not flow through on a line parallel with the direction line at contact. When it fails to do so trouble results.

Add yardage and accuracy to your drive by writing Sol Metzger, care of The Times, for his free leaflet on "Driving." Inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

1930 Schedule to be Shorter for A. A. Loop

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—The American Association of Professional Baseball Clubs today adopted a 154-game schedule for 1930, opening April 15 and closing September 21. The schedule has fourteen games less than that of 1929, opens a day earlier, and closes a week earlier.

Because of double-headers, the league owners decided to trim the schedule next season and allow more off days. Whereas the season opened April 16 and closed September 29 in 1929 for 168 games, the new one will be but eight days shorter for a 154-game schedule.

Yesterday the magnates voted against the proposal of having a split season in 1930.

team will give a good account of itself.

Santa Clara, under the tutelage of Clipper Smith, possesses a strong squad this year and, along with their surprising victory over Stanford, the Broncos can boast of holding the unscored-on St. Mary's eleven to a 6-6 score. That ought to prove definitely that the Broncos have considerable of a football aggregation.

In spite of this, however, the Loyolans aren't a bit downhearted. In fact, the Lions are secretly believing that they'll be able to knock over their rivals from the north. Coach Driver has his Lions pointed for tomorrow's game and, if the Broncos come on the field expecting an easy victory, they're liable to suffer the sad fate that often befalls overconfident elevens.

The Broncos, who arrive on the Sunset Limited at 9:30 this morning, will make their headquarters at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena. Coach Smith plans to take his athletes to Wrigley Field today for a short workout.

Santa Clara's starting backfield is expected to find Chris Machado, a speedy little ball-toter, who got his prep grid experience at Salinas, and Herman Mettler, brilliant passer and triple-threat man, at the halfback posts, Terremere at full and either Haskinson or Axt at quarter. Mettler was the gent who directed the passes that scored both touchdowns against Stanford and the Lions will have to watch him when he starts tossing the pigskin around tomorrow.

Coach Driver announced that he plans to open the game with Whitey Hoffman at quarter, Capt. Bernie Donahue and Vaughn Euge at the halves, and Jim Strutzel at fullback. The Loyola mentor will announce his starting line today after the Lions have gone through their final workout at their Del Rey field.

Tomorrow's game will start promptly at 1 o'clock, the time for the kick-off having been moved up an hour in order to allow the customers plenty of time to get home for an early Thanksgiving dinner.

COVINA LIGHTWEIGHTS SUBDUE POMONA, 20-0

Coach Oak Pendleton's undefeated Covina lightweight squad chalked up its eleventh consecutive victory yesterday on their own field, when they handed the powerful Pomona Babes a 20-to-0 trimming. Capt. Fischer was the star of the game, making many long runs and returning a punt 50 yards to a touchdown. The victors started off in a determined manner and scored twice in the first quarter and once in the second. The Pomona squad, however, came back fighting in the last half and held the Baby Colts scoreless. This contest is the last gam of the season for both squads.

DIEGEL PICKED IN P.G.A.

Defending Champion Named as Favorite to Retain National Professional Golf Championship

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Leo Diegel, defending national professional golf champion, will be named favorite to capture the 1929 championship at Hillcrest next week, when the annual golfers' dinner is held at the Roosevelt Hotel on Friday evening.

Selected as the ten players most likely to win the P.G.A. crown in the order named, we find Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Horton Smith, Ed Dudley, Al Espinosa, Al Watrous, Johnny Farrell, Johnny Golden and Tommy Armour.

LEO DIEGEL

Young Smith gets quite a tumble, being picked fourth, and from all that can be gathered from the "pros" at Hillcrest during the past week, the former Joplin professional is looked upon as one of the most dangerous entrants in the tournament.

The second ten is led off by "Wild William" Mehlhorn, followed by Harry Cooper, Henry Ciuci and then Southern California's three entrants, Charles Guest, Vic Dalberto and Fred Morrison. Craig Wood, winner of the Hawaiian $5000 open, is selected among the second ten with Denny Shute, Mortie Dutra and Tony Manero.

It was also announced last night that professionals entered in the P.G.A. will have to forego the privilege of employing their own caddies.

MRS. GROHMAN CAPTURES FOX HILLS TOURNEY

Mrs. J. H. Grohman won the turkey tournament at the Fox Hills Country Club yesterday, shooting a 91 over the west course.

The women's auxiliary of Fox Hills also sponsored an 18-hole putting tournament yesterday, which was won by Mrs. T. V. Hunter with thirty-six putts.

Other tournament winners were Mrs. L. C. Martyn with a net score of 79, Mrs. J. W. Montgomery, 96-7-89; Mrs. C. E. Zinn, 100-9-91; Mrs. H. Chisholm, 101-18-83; Mrs. J. W. Wentzell, 106-20-86; Mrs. M. L. Berg, 124-39-85; and Mrs. L. Wolff, 125-30-95.

AMATEURS MUST BE PURE, SAYS U.S.G.A.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The executive committee of the United States Golf Association by unanimous vote has declined to approve payment of expenses of players representing State or sectional teams. This decision was made public unexpectedly today following a hearing on the issue recently.

Under the policy of the U.S.G.A. expenses of amateur golfers may be paid or contributed to in connection with only three competitions: Walker Cup matches, public links championship and college golf teams.

"The committee believes that the best interests of the game require strict enforcement of the present amateur rules and not the creation of further exceptions," said a statement issued by Prescott S. Bush, secretary, in the form of a letter to member clubs of the U.S.G.A.

"To allow the payment of team expenses by all State, sectional and district associations in whatever competitions they may desire, it is believed, is merely opening the door to extinguishing the amateur rule entirely. Experience in other sports has shown that to permit generally the payment of expenses has led to conditions which are unsatisfactory.

"The proposed amendment and its resulting extension to all forms of team competitions might easily tend toward commercializing the sport and encourage a group of players whose sole activity might be that of playing on golf teams throughout the country with expenses paid. The committee does not believe that amateur golf competitions, by teams or otherwise, require a subsidy or that the development of the game in this country demands or requires the creation of a class of paid golfers.

"The entire subject was carefully considered by the association some three years ago in connection with a similar request, and it was the unanimous opinion of the executive committee at that time, as well as the advisory committee, composed of former presidents of the association, that to make the change requested would be unwise. The committee is again unanimously of the opinion that it would be dangerous to adopt the proposed amendment."

Dempsey Has Slim Pickin's

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—There won't be much of a Santa Claus for the poor Chicago children Jack Dempsey intended feeding for Christmas from the profits of his charity boxing show involving heavyweights at the Coliseum tonight.

A slim crowd of 2500 with receipts at $8000, turned out to see Les Marriner, former University of Illinois collegian, and George Hoffman of New York, former national A.A.U. heavyweight champion, fight a gruelling ten-round draw.

Marriner, laid up for five months with a broken right hand, had the misfortune to break it again in the third round tonight. He showed the effects of his long illness, but put up a courageous battle, holding Hoffman fairly even until the last round when he began to tire. Marriner sustained a cut over and under his left eye which bothered him considerably. Hoffman, by a whirlwind finish in the tenth, had Marriner in retreat under three sharp rights to the jaw.

In the other bouts, all four-rounders, results were as follows: Charles Arthurs, Newark, N. J., won from K. O. Martin, a Montana slugger, while Sammy Weiss, Philadelphia, defeated Walter Madey, Chicago. Joe Marhar, Butte, Mont., knocked out a 213-pounder named Bruno Roggio of Philadelphia, in the first round. Gene Stanton, Cleveland, took the verdict over Jackie Davis of Chicago in four rounds. Joe Barlow, Boston, defeated Jackie Williams of Chicago in another four-rounder.

ing for the first few rounds while he did the backtracking, but when he switched to the role of aggressor in the fifth round the best action of the fight occurred.

For a few minutes the house was howling like mad, but from that point on the affair degenerated until Lieut. Kennedy stepped into the picture with his famous announcement.

That appeared to stall the boys worse than ever, and there was absolutely nothing doing in the ninth round. In the tenth they came to life, and Mack's bloody beak was crimsoned a little more.

Aside from that feature neither of the boys appeared to have come off any the worse for wear.

There were no knockdowns. Mack weighed 133 and Morgan 131, the latter a pound over his championship limit.

FAILS TO STOP HIM

Sid Torres flattened Frankie Murray for the count of eight in the third round of their scheduled six-rounder, but couldn't put the little old man away, and the bout went the limit.

The other bouts resulted as follows:

Willie Siegal took a decision over Rita Punay in six rounds; Sig Ecklund won by a technical knockout in the fourth round from Pat Yanco, and Kenneth Kent copped the nod from Jack Stewart in four rounds.

The "gate" scaled about $9000.

championship before the commission would sanction their entries into the heavyweight ranks.

The commission is firm, however, in its determination to force champions to defend their titles against worthy challengers at least twice a year. The rule now in the making probably will force a champion to sign definitely for a title defense before the commission will sanction an engagement where the championship is not involved.

SOCCERITES TO END FIRST ROUND PLAY

First-round play in the Los Angeles city soccer league will close Sunday with four games scheduled, two for Loyola Field and two more at Tournament Park, Pasadena. The feature Loyola Field game will bring the Hollywood and Magyar elevens together in what should prove a fast exhibition of the kicking sport. Hollywood is tied with the high-scoring Vikings for the league lead, while the Magyars rest in a tie with the L.A.A.C. for third place. The Scots and Richfield clash in the 1 o'clock Loyola game Sunday.

At Tournament Park the Vikings, fresh from their convincing 5-2 victory over the L.A.A.C., meet the Spanish-Americans at 1 o'clock and Pasadena A.C.C. tackles the L.A.A.C. at 3 o'clock.

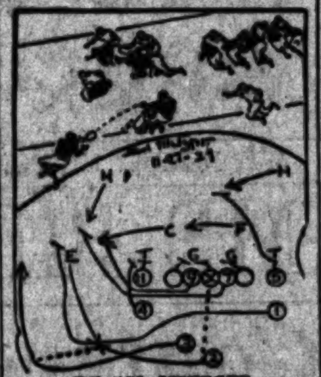
Penn Lateral Pass Gentle to Masters



BY SOL METZGER

Look out for this one, Cornell, when you stack up against Penn in Philadelphia tomorrow. It's Penn's best bet this year and it's a fast working lateral pass that Gentle and Masters know how to work. Penn launches it with a man in motion, back No. 1, who crosses behind his line to a position opposite the defensive right end. Then the ball is snapped.

No. 1 goes at this end as usual. Only this time, he slips past him and goes for a back. Ball goes from center to No. 2, who swerves slightly in as his interferer, No. 3, swerves wide and slightly to the rear.

The defensive end isn't touched. As he comes at No. 2 to tackle him, No. 2 shovel passes the ball over his head into the arms of No. 3, who takes it without checking speed and is off downfield with his two guards and right end to clean up for him.

on a home field. Second, they will have a larger squad to throw into the conflict if needed. However, Spaulding's warriors have never shown anything that looked like a good offensive and can't expect to win football games playing with their backs against the wall. The Bruins must change their style tomorrow and go in for some real speed either by air or land to take the play away from the invaders.

In the St. Mary's game the Bruins looked rather good in the last half. They uncorked some good passes and a running game that might click against the Grizzlies if they push it along right.

"I know Montana is a tough team but we have a good chance to win," Bill Spaulding said yesterday. "Just look at the competition the Bruins have been up against this season," he pointed out. "We have played U.S.C., Oregon, St. Mary's and Stanford. If you can figure any tougher competition than that I'll buy you a new hat."

The Bruin line-up will be made up mostly of seniors as far as Spaulding can go on it. Capt. Carl Brown, "Patches" French, Jerry Russom, Hal Bishop, "Swede" Nelson, Cliff Simpson, Gene Noble, Terry Duffy and Al Gibson will be all playing their last game for dear old U.C.L.A. and Westwood.

Montana is bringing a number of outstanding stars here for the tilt. Jimmy Morrow, the tiny quarterback, who ran 70 yards through the California team for a touchdown and who ran a kick-off back 72 yards in the Washington State game, will be on deck when the teams tangle. He is said to be the fastest back Montana has had since the days of the famous "Wild Bill" Kelly. Waldo Ekegren, the right halfback on the Grizzly team, is another great ball-carrier judging from the advance dope.

Steve Cunningham, graduate manager of the Bruins, announced that the admission for the game will be $1. Tickets can be obtained, he stated, at the Dyas stores or at the field.

Iowans Silent on Question of Reinstatement

IOWA CITY, Nov. 26. (AP)—University of Iowa athletic officials concluded a long meeting tonight with no announcement as to the course of action they will take to gain reinstatement into the Western Conference at the conference meeting in Chicago, December 6 and 7, next.

A report that George T. Bresnahan would resign as director of intercollegiate athletics brought forth a heated denial from Bresnahan, who elaborated his denial with a statement that he had never officially accepted the position and therefore, could not resign from it.

Bresnahan was a central figure in the charges of recruiting athletes that followed Iowa's ousting from the conference last May.

SPEEDBOATS TO RACE AT ALAMITOS BAY

Speedboats are coming from the Southern California and Arizona deserts for the Pacific Coast's first midwinter national championship circuit of races scheduled to get under way at Alamitos Bay, Long Beach, Saturday, according to a telegram received by Commodore Dick Loynes of the Long Beach Yacht Club yesterday. Fourteen well-known pilots with fast boats from the Salton Sea Yacht Club and the Arizona Outboard Association, which has headquarters at the Roosevelt Dam, are joining the drivers of Pacific Coast ports in an endeavor to uphold speedboat honors of the West against the fast racing jobs from New York, Chicago, Milwaukee, Memphis, St. Louis and Houston on the way here for the Long Beach meet and the Lake Elsinore regatta billed for the following week-end.

Ken- the dark horse of the and nearly ran away with the championship. Tulane remains undefeated, but lost general recognition through an inexcusably weak schedule. Vanderbilt, Georgia and Florida, while boasting some great individual players lacked the cohesive effort necessary to win national recognition or high conference ranking.

The Middle West had an in-and-out year. Illinois, the favorite, stumbled with the 1928 championship flag, and it was retrieved by Purdue, who carried it forward to victory. Notre Dame is the notable exception in the Middle West and they belong to that section only in a geographical sense. The Big Ten standard of play from every angle has been below par compared with the past three years.

The Pacific Coast Conference has been equally disappointing. Great universities with great material blazed a pathway of brilliance only to be caught off form, and their meteoric stride interrupted. The University of Washington after being slaughtered by Southern California ultimately found itself on the gridiron, if not on the scoreboard, against California and Stanford, and presented a most creditable showing in these conference games.

The collapse of the Northwest focused the spotlight on California's Big Three and their inter-California games were nothing less than frenzied annihilation. Southern California, in one of its most vicious games won from Stanford, 7-0. The following week California caught Southern California off form and defeated the Trojans, 15-7. A fortnight later Stanford met the bruised and battered Bears and defeated them, 21-6—so three of the greatest football elevens in the nation murdered each other in a family quarrel.

SLIGHT EDGE

The Pacific Coast Conference teams have had a little the best of the argument in intersectional games. California whipped Pennsylvania, Oregon defeated Hawaii, 7-0, and Oregon State licked Detroit University, 14-7, the first defeat in three years and twenty-two games. In the loss column Southern California lost another of those one-point goal conversion games to Notre Dame, 13-12, and the University of Washington was swamped by Chicago, 26-6.

Murderous schedules and ill-timed, unjustified criticisms have served to eliminate all, or nearly all, possibility of unified Pacific Coast representation on all-American teams. For the past four years the East has taken the Pacific Coast at its own valuation. Last year proved the justice of Pacific Coast's former claims. This year several contributing causes took their toll with the result that the Pacific Coast elevens as seen through eastern eyes are just a few other football teams.

COUGARS IN POSITION TO ACCEPT GRID DATE

California wanted the game, as published reports have stated, Reynolds declared he had heard nothing to this effect from officials of the Berkeley institution.

Asked whether the Tournament of Roses was considering Southern California, Reynolds replied that "at least five teams were being given consideration."

Mr. Reynolds leads rather a hectic life these days. He is thinking of having a stock answer printed on a card to the question: "Who's going to play the New Year's Day game?"

Walking down the street in Pasadena yesterday the Tournament of Roses official was stopped time and time again by inquiring friends who wanted to know what was what. To all he had the same smiling, courteous answer, which was to the effect that there was no news at this time.

Those close to the situation argue that if California were to be selected the invitation would have been made by this time for the Bears have no more games to play and extending a bid to them would not place the Tournament of Roses in jeopardy.

WOULD BE POPULAR

On the other hand should Washington State give the Trojans a real licking here Saturday they would be a very popular outfit and the victory coming at this time would make them "hot copy" and a money-drawing team at the gate.

The same goes for Southern California provided the Trojans do their stuff in proper fashion against the Cougars. If Howard Jones's proteges beat Washington State their popularity will not suffer, and everybody knows the Trojans have plenty of followers.

On the other hand is the possibility that the Tournament of Roses committee will hesitate to select a team which has yet to encounter such a tough outfit as Carnegie Tech.

"This has been a season of surprising upsets," declared Reynolds, "and who knows but what there are others yet to come. It is only sensible that we should make no decision until after the Pacific Coast Conference schedule is concluded next Saturday."

PURDUE COACH IS WILLING TO PLAY

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—As far as he is concerned, Purdue University is willing to send its football team to the Pacific Coast for a post-season football game if the Western Conference will dispense with its rule against post-season games, it was announced here this evening by James Phelan, Purdue football coach. Phelan believes his Purdue Western Conference champions could defeat any Pacific Coast team this year.

FANS ASKING PURDUE FOR TICKET BLANKS

LAFAYETTE (Ind.) Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Pacific Coast football fans are evidently taking no chances of being left out when tickets are distributed for the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day. Evidently believing that Purdue's Big Ten championship eleven will be invited to represent the West in the annual classic, a number of fans have already written the Purdue ticket office requesting that application blanks for tickets be forwarded at once if the Boilermakers are selected, it was learned today.

Ticket Manager Doan is filing the letters away for "future reference."

COUGAR TEAM ON WAY HERE

specified the games could be canceled in the event Washington State was invited to play at Pasadena," he said. "If we defeat U.S.C., we'll gladly give up this trip to the islands. The team would rather play at Pasadena."

It was understood here Hal Reynolds of Pasadena, director of the Tournament of Roses football game committee, was ready to accept Washington State as the Pasadena choice . . . assuming they top U.S.C. Saturday.

Hollingbery's backfield line-up against the fast charging Troy team will be identical with his starting line-up in every heavy game this year . . . Elmer Schwartz, the powerful, plunging fullback; Oscar Jones, hard-hitting half; Carl Ellingsen, triple threat half, and the dynamic little Archie Buckley, prototype of Butch Meeker, at quarter.

ENDS UNCERTAIN

Ends remained uncertain. John Hurley, very long and very competent at catching passes, may nose out George Hill at left end. Sam Hansen—no relation of Capt. Bud—probably will get the other end.

Tackles almost certainly will be Glenn Edwards and Harold Ahlskog.

Guards are certain to be Bud Hansen and Clarence Docka.

Mel Hein, named by a majority of Northwest sports writers as all-star center, will pivot the line.

Hollingbery uses an unbalanced line formation—particularly effective at strengthening suddenly discovered weaknesses.

Guards play shoulder to shoulder at frequent moments. The center may become an end, save that he invariably handles the ball.

The team arrives Friday morning in Los Angeles, after nearly a day stopover in San Francisco Thursday. It will work out in Kezar Stadium there, then catch a night train for Los Angeles.

There will be one workout in the Coliseum Friday afternoon. The team will go to the Huntington Hotel at Pasadena Friday night, returning to Los Angeles just before game time Saturday.

Millionaires and Seals Mix

Stepped into high speed by tests afforded by Richfield and the champion Oakland Sheiks, the Hollywood Millionaires of Arthur Guy Empey will attempt to checkmate another intercity invasion in the California Hockey League when they scuffle the powerful San Francisco Seals at the Winter Garden Ice Palace tomorrow night. The game promises plenty of thrills because of the existing rivalry between the teams.

Early games have shown the Millionaires that they have adopted just about the right system of offense and defense. The only question now is to attain the peak of condition and work the new players into the smoothest possible offense.

The Seals should prove a tough nut to crack, even with the Millionaires traveling as fast as they are.

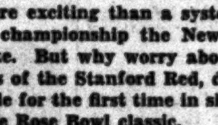
CASANOVA, EAGLESON ON MAIN-STREET BILL

Sandy Garrison Casanova, who has grown from the 147-pound division into a full-fledged middleweight within the space of a few months, will meet Morrie Eagleson in the semi-wind-up of next Saturday night's fight card at the Main-street Athletic Club. In his first middleweight engagement, two weeks ago, Casanova stopped Bobby Bridges in a punch.

Jack Charvez, undefeated middleweight, and Jimmy Peterson are the Saturday-night headliners.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY



HOW ABOUT THE TROJANS?

IN LIEU of anything more exciting than a system to decide the Coast Conference championship the New Year's Day situation takes the cake. But why worry about it? California's defeat by the sons of the Stanford Red, depriving the Bears of an undisputed title for the first time in six long years, didn't put the blink on the Rose Bowl classic.

The Tournament of Roses Association has been staging that game through thick and thin ever since the first day of January, 1916, and they've had tougher nuts to crack than the one they have at hand this year.

Ask Jack Mitchell or some of the other gentlemen who were close to the situation when Harvard came to the Coast to play Oregon ten years ago. That was the year of the fuel famine, and there had to be a government okeh as well as other okehs for Harvard to make the trip. And it was an on-again, off-again proposition so many times that the Pasadena gentlemen must have developed blind staggers.

This year there isn't much to it. California may play. Southern California may play. St. Mary's may play. The choice is not limited. Some good team representing the west coast will be on the Rose Bowl gridiron New Year's Day opposing the cream of the East—some of the cream at least.

Perhaps I sound the sentiment of many thousands of local fans who would like to see the Trojans extended the invitation to play at Pasadena.

In their only big local game of the season—the one with California—the Trojans were a bust just as much as was California against Stanford last Saturday.

And I don't doubt that the Trojans would like to redeem themselves in the eyes of the local populace quite as much as would California for its showing in the Stanford game.

ONE OF THE LEADERS

AND I have little doubt that if the matter were put to a vote of the Trojan players the result would be "yes."

I note that Mr. Howard Harding Jones, the head man of the Trojan coaching forces, prefers not to talk about the matter previous to the Washington State game, but that he is not opposed to keeping his boys in training two weeks more after the Carnegie Tech game.

In other words he is not averse to playing the New Year's Day game at all.

Of course, Mr. Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager at Southern California, put himself on record as opposed to the game, but that is a way graduate managers have, and Mr. Wilson merely gets an oar in the same boat with Mr. William Monohan, who occupies a similar post at the University of California at Berkeley and also has expressed sentiments against scheduling such a game.

The Trojans played two great games away from home this year—Stanford and Notre Dame. These were major conflicts, and they had none at home to date except California that was anything but a second-rate affair. The home folk undoubtedly would be glad to see them get another chance.

There is no denying the fact that the Trojans are one of the outstanding teams in the country, and if I were to rate the teams I have seen play this year it would be in this wise:

(1.) Notre Dame.
(2.) Toss up between Stanford and Southern California.
(3.) California.

Notre Dame I would rate one touchdown stronger than Southern California and Stanford.

Stanford and Southern California one touchdown stronger than California.

The rating, of course, is based on the assumption that each team is playing at peak form.

This rating may bring a few yips and yaps, but that's my story and I'll stick.

THE TROJANS' TURN

AND just by way of proof that the Pasadena gentry probably will be able to keep the New Year's ball rolling, here are the data:

1916—Washington State and Brown. Washington State won, 14 to 0.
1917—Oregon and Pennsylvania. Oregon won, 14 to 0.
1918—(Service year) Marines, 19; Camp Lewis, 6.
1919—(Service year) Great Lakes, 17; Marines, 0.
1920—Harvard and Oregon. Harvard won, 7 to 6.
1921—California and Ohio State. California won, 28 to 0.
1922—California and Washington and Jefferson. 0-0 tie.
1923—Southern California and Penn State. Trojans won, 14 to 3.
1924—Washington and Annapolis. 14-14 tie.
1925—Notre Dame and Stanford. Notre Dame won, 27 to 10.
1926—Alabama and Washington. Alabama won, 20 to 19.
1927—Alabama and Stanford. 7-7 tie.
1928—Stanford and Pittsburgh. Stanford won, 7 to 6.
1929—Georgia Tech and California. Georgia Tech won, 8 to 7.

In the twelve college games played to date California has participated in three, Stanford in three, Washington in two, Oregon in two, Washington State one and Southern California one.

Perhaps it might not be amiss to suggest that the home folks would like to see a local eleven get another shake at the New Year's Day game, particularly in a year when the "big three" are deadlocked over the title.

It is not a bad guess that the Trojans will sell the Rose Bowl out quicker than anybody else. And the Tournament of Roses Association is not at all averse to that possibility.

SHEIK, SERAPH BOSSES LEAVE

pable second-sacker. Mike Cvengros is the southpaw hurler the Angels are likely to annex, for the little left-hander hasn't found much of an opportunity to work regularly with the Cubs. Bob Grace is the young catcher the Angels expect to secure from Chicago to share the burden with Gus Sandberg, who had a great season last year, and Truck Hannah. It is the present plan of the Angels to farm out Dallas Warren.

The Angels are practically set on their starting outfield with George Harper, acquired from the Braves in the Berger deal, in right, Statz in center and Schulmerich in left, but Lelivelt wants to pick up a capable utility outer gardener.

The Seraph infield problem is solved with the acquisition of a second baseman. Ray Jacobs will be placed at first by Lelivelt and the other side of the infield will be taken care of by Dittmar and Haney. Art Parker, the promising youngster, could fill the bill at second in emergency but Lelivelt has his eye on an experienced keystone sacker who is skilled in the art of making double plays.

Lane has two players coming to him from Detroit in payment for Eli Funk but he says he won't know what men he'll get until after the Tigers wind up their spring training.

The Hollywood owner goes East on the lookout for two hard-hitting outfielders to team up with Carlyle and Rumler, a third sacker to take the place of Red Rollings, who was drafted, and a veteran second baseman. Maloney and Burkett both failed to hit when they were in at second base last year. The Stars' chief need plainly is pitchers. Only Shellenback, Wetzel, Johns and Hollerson are sure of keeping their jobs on the Sheik mound staff. That means Lane must also dig up at least two and preferably three good hurlers if he expects Vitt to pilot the Stars to another pennant next season.

Both the Los Angeles and Hollywood club owners believe next year will prove a banner one at Wrigley Field and they know they must secure a lot of new talent if they expect to keep the local fans enthused.

Europeans to Race Craft in United States

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Four European motorboat racers are preparing to invade the United States next year in an attempt to capture the Harmsworth trophy, J. Lee Barrett of Detroit announced today on returning from the Brussels conference of the International Motor Yachting Union, at which he represented this country and Canada.

Sir Henry Segrave of England, holder of the world's straightaway automobile speed record, who has shifted his activities to the water; Miss Betty Carstairs, British sportswoman who challenged unsuccessfully on two previous occasions, and the Italian speed kings, Prince Carlo Russpoli of Venice and Marquis Dal Pozzo of Milan, all expect to enter the race at Detroit next August 29, 30 and September 2, Mr. Barrett said.

Gar Wood of Detroit, present holder of the Harmsworth trophy, expects to have two boats for its defense—Miss America VIII, which set the present world record of more than ninety-three miles per hour, and a new Miss America, which has not yet been built.

James Talbot, Jr., of Los Angeles, also may enter.

"NIBS" PRICE IN TOURNEY

BERKELEY, Nov. 26. (Exclusive) Coach Clarence (Nibs) Price, whose University of California varsity football team underwent something of a disappointment in its game with Stanford last Saturday, today sought consolation in the cheering game of golf, when he entered the $5000 open tournament, which starts Thursday at the Berkeley Country Club.

Minor League Basketball Teams Play

The basketball teams of the Minor City League are all on edge and waiting for the opening whistle which will set them off at approximately 3 o'clock this afternoon. Football is necessarily forgotten. The slate has been wiped clean and a chance to avenge past defeats and soar to greater heights in the opportunity given every squad in the loop. The opening round finds Fairfax and Belmont tangling on the former's court, in the feature game, Fremont playing host to Roosevelt, and University traveling out to Garfield.

MERCURIES STAGE TOURNEY TONIGHT

A weight-lifting tournament for members of the Los Angeles Athletic Club team will be held tonight at the Mercury Club in the weight-lifting rooms on the seventh floor. Lifting will begin at 6:30 o'clock. The Mercury strong men have been breaking national and world records in recent competition and more marks will be endangered tonight. The regular five Olympic lifts will be used.

Commissioner Jere Kingsbury will be in charge and the following will compete: Philip Greco, Frank McCann, Mario Cerretani, Nathan McCann, Leonard Welte, Sam Ormont, Al Levey, Maurice Aroff, Charles Beck and Paul Laidlaw.

SIMRALL TO LEAD MICHIGAN ELEVEN

FERNANDEZ IS FAVORED TO WIN BOUT FROM FOE

Local fight fans will make Ignacio Fernandez, the Filipino featherweight, a favorite in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night but Frankie Klick, the San Francisco youngster who is making his Los Angeles debut, is considered another of those Hollywood dark horses that will romp home a winner.

Outsiders have crossed up the local fans so much in the fight game that nowadays the hometowners are slow to make the visitors favorites and that is why Fernandez will be picked to win. Klick has beaten Fernandez. He had him on the floor and according to dope it is Klick who should be the choice to win but until the San Franciscan has been on parade the great boosts being passed around for Klick will have to be tabled.

The Klick-Fernandez fight should be a wow. Klick has a style that should prove tough on Filipinos. He is a body puncher and he can hit. Filipinos have a weakness and it is in the stomach. Speedy Dado does not like them in the belly and no other Filipino does, so Klick can win if he can keep his chin out of the way of Fernandez's right cross.

Leonard Bennett is a lightweight who is coming fast. If he gets over Mike Waters in the semi-wind-up the kid will jump into the limelight. Bennett has a sock and it wouldn't be any great surprise if he kayoes Waters like he has four other opponents at Hollywood. Paul Drake and George Barach, light heavies, furnish some excitement as they are big boys with a sock. Nifty Gonzales and Jimmy O'Neil, lightweights, are in one four-rounder and Manuel DeLeon fights Frankie Manus in the curtain raiser.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS CLASH AT WESTWOOD

The junior and senior classes of the University of California at Los Angeles will settle their annual football feud on Wednesday, December 11. Several days ago, Virgil Cazel, president of the junior class, issued a challenge to the fourth-year men, and yesterday Don Leiffer, senior prexy, replied with a formal acceptance of the challenge. The game is an annual affair at U.C.L.A. Last year, the juniors, now the seniors, won the game.

HECTOR, AUERBACH MIX AT WILMINGTON BOWL

Sailor Mike Hector, ex-middleweight champion of the Navy, returns to Wilmington tonight to test Herman Auerbach, Jack Dempsey's former protege, in the ten-round wind-up.

The winner of tonight's scrap is tentatively signed to face Peregrina in the top spot at Wilmington, December 11.

IMPERIAL, ROBLETO TO CLASH TONIGHT

Alfred Imperial and Canta Robleto, flyweights, hold the top spot on a great all-star card tonight at the Pasadena Arena. Thursday is the usual Pasadena ring night but because of Thanksgiving Day the program is moved forward one evening.

Young Sport, another little flyweight star, will take on Leonard Rahming in the six-round semi-final. The six-round special event finds Stutts Houk, middleweight, taking on Pat Yanco. Dewey Massey is in a four-rounder against Andy Dumller, 180 pounds. Bobby Payne and Tommy Arcadio, 120 pounds, will fight the curtain raiser.

AUSTRALIA WANTS TO ENTER CUP PLAY

MELBOURNE, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Australian Lawn Tennis Association has decided to challenge for the Davis Cup in 1930, it was announced today. The country was not represented in the 1929 play. Australia probably will compete in the European zone.

MURDER CHARGE IN AUTO DEATH

Coroner's Jury Puts Blame on Engineer

Bail of $10,000 Continued by Police Judge

Driving While Intoxicated Charged in Verdict

GLENDALE, Nov. 26 — Charges of murder were filed today against D. H. Merritt, Santa Monica engineer, after the Coroner's jury sitting in the inquest on Mrs. Evelyn Roberts Plasterer, 409 North Kenwood street, had returned a verdict placing the responsibility for the prominent club woman's death on Merritt. The degree of murder is not specified in the complaint, which was filed before Police Judge F. H. Lowe by the police department, as this point will be left for a jury to determine.

Merritt will be given a preliminary hearing, December 10, next, and meantime, his bail of $10,000 has been continued.

The Coroner's jury also held that Merritt was intoxicated at the time of the accident, that occurred Saturday night, and that he should be held to answer.

Six witnesses were called to testify at the inquest. Five of them being eyewitnesses. The sixth was Dr. G. C. Wichman, who testified that Merritt was under the influence of intoxicants when he examined him at the police station immediately following his arrest.

Evidence showed that Mrs. Plasterer and her son Milan, were struck by the side of Merritt's car, the door and the right rear fender showing evidence of the impact.

Merritt refused to testify at the hearing on the advice of his attorney, Hugh Gibson.

Ventura Man Files Petition in Bankruptcy

VENTURA, Nov. 26. — Saying that he is unable to pay his 465 creditors, William T. Pierce, Ventura contractor, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with Wayne L. Clark, United States Bankruptcy Referee for this district. Pierce's debts total $451,124.86, the largest of which are two for $90,000 each, covering building and real estate transactions. The smallest debt incurred by Pierce is one to the Santa Barbara County Recorder for $1.

According to the petition, Pierce's debts are the result of transactions in a half-dozen States over a period of years.

The total indebtedness of the Pierce family was swelled to $532,712.86, when Carrie A. Pierce, wife of the contractor, filed a bankruptcy petition with Clark for the amount of $81,588.

Pierce and his wife list their only assets as $350 worth of furniture on which they claim exemption.

OFFICERS INVESTIGATE KIDNAPING STORY

SOUTH GATE, Nov. 26. — Local police are checking up on a kidnaping story which was brought into police headquarters Sunday night by two boys, Elmer Deeds, 13, and Freddy Palen, 10.

The lads say they were riding a bicycle when two Mexicans, driving toward Whittier in an automobile, forced the boys into their machine and also put the bicycle on the car. When the lads attempted to scream the men placed their hands over their mouths. When the two asserted kidnapers reached Whittier they threw the boys from the car; also the bicycle, the lads say.

The children made their way to Whittier police station, where they told their story, and the South Gate police were communicated with. The boys later were brought to their homes here. The father of the Deeds boy has offered a reward of $10 for any information leading to the apprehension of the men and the recovery of the bicycle.

WINE TONIC LAW

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 26.—The new wine-tonic law which was passed by the City Council a few weeks ago became effective yesterday and it is now a violation of the city law to sell wine tonics containing one-third of 1 per cent or more of alcohol, which are capable of being used for beverage purposes. This law is slightly different from the Volstead Act, which says one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol.

WINNER OF SPEAKING CONTEST

Redlands Girls in First Place of Contest Held at U.C.L.A.

REDLANDS, Nov. 26.—Miss Blossom Mills of the University of Redlands is champion extemporaneous speaker among the women of the colleges and universities of Southern California, according to decision rendered at the annual extempore meet held at U.C.L.A. A silver loving cup will be awarded the university for one year until the contest next fall, when the schools of the conference meet again in the traditional contest.

"Fascism in Italy" was the topic drawn by the local representative, who was third speaker of the evening. La Verne College drew "Farm Relief;" Pomona spoke on "Naval Disarmament," while U.C.L.A. discussed "Professionalism in Athletics." These specific topics were drawn one hour before the speeches were delivered, only preliminary preparation being general reading on "World Problems."

The university's prospects in the extempore field are excellent, Miss Mills being but a sophomore at the institution. She is a member of the women's debate squad, to journey north in December, and will also serve on the team which meets the U.C.L.A. team in the near future.

Edwin Espy will represent the University of Redlands in the annual extempore speaking contest for the schools of Southern California as a result of his victory in the local extempore contest. Judges awarded Mr. Espy and John Ackley each a first, second and third place in the contest, and upon further deliberation gave first place to Espy, who is preparing now for the conference meet, which comes December 5 at Whittier.

Irish Turkey on Sidetrack This Season

VAN NUYS, Nov. 26.—There is going to be some Irish turkey, eaten in this vicinity this Thanksgiving, local butchermen say, but not so you'll notice it. For those not in the know, so to speak, Irish turkey is pork shoulder, and usually is the meat substitute at the Thanksgiving or Christmas period when turkey meat roosts so high in price. It's pork roast or nothing.

Local butchers today say they have expected the low turkey prices of the last two weeks to advance, now that Thanksgiving Day is approaching, but such apparently is not the case, for turkeys are still selling between 35 and 40 cents a pound at San Fernando Valley ranches, and are likely to remain at that price till the last tap of the gong for dinner.

"Anybody that wants to, can eat turkey this year," said one butcher today. "Good turkey meat now is selling on a parity with good veal stew, while pedigreed pork chops and short-cut porterhouses are soaring around 45, 50 and 55 cents. Little Irish turkey will grace the Thanksgiving table this season. Real turkey can be bought just as cheaply."

DRY RAID STAGED BY ALHAMBRA POLICE

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 26.—Local police, headed by Police Chief J. W. Thompson, raided the home of Joe Curtis, 2021 South Sixth street, last night and seized 200 gallons of wine in various stages of fermentation. Four different varieties of wine were found, police reported. Curtis was away from home when the officers arrived. He was arrested on his return, and booked on a charge of possession. He was released later on $500 bail.

The wine was dumped out in Curtis's driveway. No evidence that he was selling the liquor was obtained, it is said.

WINE TONIC ORDINANCE

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 26. — An ordinance regulating the sale and distribution of wine tonics was given first reading by the City Commission today. It places wine tonics in the same classification as whisky and, if passed, will require prescriptions from physicians.

Prior to the reading of the proposed ordinances a letter was presented by women of the First Methodist Church urging early passage of the law.

COUNTY BOOSTERS AT WORK

Committee of One Hundred Strives to Attract Industries to Locate in Orange

FULLERTON, Nov. 26.—Pledging a fund of $10,000 to undertake an aggressive campaign for new industries in Orange county, a group of sixty-nine financiers, leading farmers, and wealthy business men met here last night under the auspices of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce industrial committee.

The program will first seek harmony throughout the county. Those attending brought out that divergent groups have prevented the successful projects of various sections, and that as a result there has grown up sectionalism that threatens the downfall of any county undertaking.

As a result of the meeting a Committee of One Hundred was organized with C. C. Chapman, Fullerton capitalist and rancher, as permanent chairman. Mr. Chapman presided last night.

It is considered probable that a contact man wil lbe employed by the committee to work entirely in the eastern manufacturing centers, seeking to induce factories to avail themselves of Southern California's advantages.

An industrial survey of the county, designed to collect and classify all data that might be desired by a prospective manufacturing firm, likely will be undertaken at once.

Speakers called attention to the fact that one section of the county has sought county aid for construction of a harbor; other sections were defeated in a water conservation and flood-control program because the harbor group was vindicative, and now there appears a prospect for another division on the junior college question. The committee will attempt to iron out these differences and to bring a united effort on any project undertaken.

S. H. Woodruff, developer of Dana Point, and a prime mover in the Los Angeles Committee of Two Hundred, credited with mch of the industrial success in that city, declared that Orange county offers superb advantages for this sort of development.

The next meeting of the committee will be set and announced later by its chairman, Mr. Chapman.

POLICE STILL BAFFLED

Officers Make Little Progress in Solution of Mystery Death at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 26.—Police today temporarily halted their investigation into the mysterious death, November 7, of Edgar E. White, 64-year-old real estate man, who was delivered home dead by an unknown man and woman.

Detective Sergeant Omar McCollum, who was assigned to investigate the death almost a week after White was found dead, is not on duty today and hence the halt in the inquiry was necessitated.

White died of an almost obsolete poison known to the medical profession as veratum viride. A large quantity of this drug was found in the stomach of the dead man by Dr. J. J. Shea, County Autopsy Surgeon, and Dr. Ernst Mundkowski, director of the clinical laboratory of the County Hospital.

An unknown man and woman drove White to his home at 1669 Front street, in his own auto shortly before midnight, the 7th inst. After notifying a neighbor, the mystery woman, who accompanied an unknown man, fled.

The widow and Mrs. Jane Hyatt, the neighbor, found White dead after looking into the car.

Police in their investigation of the case have been unable to establish a motive for the killing and are at a loss to identify the man and woman who were last seen with White. Similarly, the detectives have been unable to find out where the poison was purchased.

School Bonds Are Favored by Electors

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 26.—By a vote of 367 to 28 the $80,000 bond issue for a new high school for the Carpinteria union school district carried yesterday. The vote was almost 14 to 1 in favor of bonds for a new building.

Summerland voters favored the new building, 44 to 5, in the voting.

The majority of the votes were cast in Carpinteria.

During the past four years the high school classes have been meeting in two temporary buildings. There are 112 students in the high school. Plans and specifications for the proposed new building have been completed by a Los Angeles architectural firm.

The new building will be of Spanish architecture. It will be a low, rambling structure, built in the unit type, so additions may be conveniently erected as the demand for room arises. Included in the building plans is a large gymnasium in addition to well-equipped laboratories and administration offices as well as classrooms.

Nelson Smith is president of the school board, Jess Hawley is principal of the school. It is planned to have the school building finished before the next fall term.

Woman Reports Kidnap Attempt in San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 26.—A "love bandit," described as "tall, with a dark complexion," who attempted to kidnap Mrs. Christine Bertheau, 27 years of age, as she was walking near her home last night, was being sought by police here today.

The young woman told police she was walking toward her home at 2829 L street shortly after 8 p.m. when she noticed a car stop beside the curbing several feet ahead of where she was.

A man alighted from the car and said, "You're going with me." When she protested, Mrs. Bertheau said, the man grabbed her and attempted to force her into the auto.

She fought back, but in the meantime the unidentified man had placed his arms completely around her and was carrying her to the auto. Mrs. Bertheau said she finally succeeded in freeing herself and she ran screaming toward her home.

She said the man followed in his auto and apparently waited outside while she ran into the house. When the woman and her husband came from the house they noticed a car going down the street.

Police were notified, but were unable to find any trace of the assailant, Mrs. Bertheau said she had never seen the man before.

COUNCIL REJECTS BIDS FOR BAND STAND

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 26.—Three bids presented to the City Council for construction of a band stand in Grevillea Park were rejected on the ground that construction costs were too high. The stand, according to plans and specifications submitted by Theodore Stohr, call for a band shell with rest rooms beneath, the structure to be of reinforced concrete. A miniature model of the structure was made by the designer and submitted to the Council for approval.

The highest bid submitted was $10,950, by Wierk & Wierk of this city. Jones Brothers was the next highest, with a figure of $9890. A bid submitted by J. B. Justice was $9376.

Lucas Rodriguez, Territorial Treasurer, will fill the executive post here during the absence of the Governor.

School Janitor Goes to Prison for Long Term

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 26. — An ex-convict, sentenced to San Quenain from San Bernardino for bribery and paroled from there twenty-five months later, today heard Superior Judge Morton here order his commitment to Folsum prison, penitentiary for the second-termers, for criminal conduct against girl students of the Coachella Valley grammar school, where he was employed as janitor.

The prisoner was Daniel Dotherow, 56 years of age. A week ago he plead guilty to one of three counts of violation of Section 288 of the Penal Code, governing offenses against minor girls. He faces an actual term in the prison of not less than five years, and it is probable he will be compelled to serve one or more.

Last night he was in the County Jail here awaiting transfer to the State's prison.

Disclosure of Dotherow's prison record was a sensational turn in the case which had aroused concern in the Coachella Valley. The unfailing State Bureau of Identification made possible the discovery of Dotherow's past.

Probation Officer Mathews, in recommending to the court that probation be denied, revealed that Dotherow was sentenced to prison from San Bernardino county for bribery in connection with the operation of a house of ill-fame and traffic in liquor.

On Christmas Eve the tree will be placed at the disposal of the fire department for the annual community party.

ENGINEERS WORK ON CITY IMPROVEMENT

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 26.—Pacific Electric engineers were here Saturday and, with City Engineer R. L. Patterson, went over the ground preliminary to starting work soon on the widening of the roadways on Central avenue in Balboa, between Alvarado and B streets.

This work, to cost $36,000, was voted on by an improvement district last June, and will include the lifting of the double track of the Pacific Electric between the two streets mentioned, and laying down one track in the center of the thoroughfare, thus widening the space for autos by nine feet on each side.

The work will be finished in less than two months, it is said, and will be completed before the spring busy season starts.

POSTAL BUSINESS GAINS

LA CRESCENTA, Nov. 26.—There has been an increase of more than 50 per cent in the business of the local postoffice within the past year, it is reported today by Mrs. R. Dabney, postmaster. She states that during several of the months of the year, business was double that of the same month in 1928. Because of the increase many new improvements and space enlargements of the postoffice have been necessary, Mrs. Dabney says.

Low Down on Strange Hills at Chatsworth

CHATSWORTH, Nov. 26.—Geologists making investigations here of the tall sandstone hills in the western end of San Fernando Valley west of Oakwood Cemetery, announce they are of the Chico age, which technically is a part of the Upper Cretaceous period.

They assert the hills were formed at a time when they were at the bottom of the sea, and in a period when prehistoric birds with teeth splashed in pools and swamps on the land, and when the famed dinosaur, which was a grass and shrub-eating monster, ambled ponderously over dry tracts bordering the sea.

Fossils of shell fish, and the bones of sea and land animals that have been found from time to time, prove up the connection of the periods. The sandstone crags in the Chatsworth area have always been a marvel to motoring sightseers. Geologists now declare they are simply petrified sand dunes that were once on the floor of the ocean.

Catholics to Build School

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 26. At a largely attended meeting of members of St. Charles Catholic Church, with Rev. E. J. Riordan in charge, it was decided to begin a campaign at once to obtain funds with which to build the parochial school that has been planned here for the last six months. The school, it has been determined, will be operated by the Sisters of Providence order, and will be erected on the land adjoining St. Charles Church and facing on Bakman avenue.

The amount to be raised is about $40,000, to cover the cost of construction. Plans call for a Class A type of building, with ample auditorium and four large classrooms. It was agreed that the work of gathering the funds will end December 15, next, and that construction work will start some time soon after the beginning of the new year.

The site, adjacent to the business section, was bought last March for $8000, giving the Catholic church 150 feet on Bakman avenue and 200 feet on Weddington street.

TELLER RECOGNIZED BANDIT

Robber Foiled in Attempt to Hold Up Same Bank for Second Time at Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Nov. 26.—Recognized by a teller whom he held up a few months ago, Jack Topping, staging his second robbery, at the Western Trust and Savings Bank here today, was captured by Patrolman R. E. Hribal, one of the officers who responded to the alarm, and $1240 he had taken from the bank was recovered.

Topping, entering the bank to repeat a hold-up in which he obtained $1700 two months ago, was recognized by his victim in that robbery, C. P. Snyder, who dropped to the floor and crept to an alarm.

Just as Topping obtained a roll of bills from R. M. Beeson, another teller, Snyder tripped the alarm.

Officer E. R. Anderson, engaged in tagging parked cars, raced to the bank door in time to see the bandit emerge. Anderson followed the man three blocks through alleys and heavy pedestrian traffic. Officer R. E. H. Hribal, on a traffic box at First and Pine, ran to the bank and when the fugitive doubled back he was met by Hribal in a parking lot. Topping clutched the gun with which he had held up Beeson but as Hibral "covered" him he droped the weapon and announced his surrender. All of the stolen money was found on his person except a $100 bill, which a woman had picked up on the sidewalk after it was dropped by the fleeing robber. This was recovered also.

Topping refused to give his name. He was identified by police records.

Golden Fruit Sent East by Packing-house in Redlands District

REDLANDS, Nov. 26. The first car of navel oranges from the Redlands citrus district for the season of 1929-1930 will roll out the last of this week, going from the Elephants Orchards packing-house. It will be a car of navels picked from hillside groves and the fruit is of fine quality.

The Peppers Fruit Company will also have a car of navels to ship by the first of next week, and other packing-houses of the city are planning to get out cars of fruit within a week. It is predicted that within the next three weeks, which will constitute what is known as the Christmas pool of shipments, there will be 200 or more cars of fruit shipped.

The first car of oranges that the Mutual Orange Distributors, with headquarters in Redlands, have shipped this year went out from the Highland Mutual house yesterday. The fruit was of medium size and this was something of a surprise to the shippers, for they had expected most of the early fruit to be of abnormal size this year.

Testing of the navels is in progress all through the district. The tests show that the sugar content is good but that the color of the fruit is not what it might be.

In some of the groves of the district it has been found that the fruit is colored well on the outside, but that the interior is not well colored, although the oranges are sweet. Such fruit cannot be colored well by artificial means, and it will be necessary to leave it on the tree to color. It is expected that practically every packing-house in the Redlands district will send out some fruit for the Christmas pool, because prices are unusually good.

Methodists Buy Site for Home at Alhambra

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 26.—Plans for a rest home for retired missionaries and foreign missionaries on furlough were revealed today with the announcement of the sale of the one and one-half-acre estate of the late Charles Ruhl on North Almansor street to the Thoburn Endowment Trust. The price was $17,500.

The local institution, to be known as Thoburn Terrace, will be part of a chain of national Methodist Episcopal homes under the supervision of the advisory board of the Methodist Episcopal board of hospitals, homes and deaconesses. The Ruhl property, which includes a nine-room, two-story dwelling, is near the First Methodist Church of Alhambra, one of the reasons for its selection, it is said.

The Forbes Company of Alhambra handled the real estate deal between the missionary society and the Ruhl estate, which was represented by C. W. Sarvis of Pasadena.

The church trust formerly was known as the Pacific Palisades Rest Home Society. It was reincorporated as the Thoburn Endowment Trust when the local site was chosen. Trustees of the trust expect to use the old Ruhl home as the first unit in a building program which will include several additional units. Charles Ruhl was a former wealthy hotel man, who died here March 31, 1928.

Baby's Burns Prove Fatal

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 26. Three-year-old Sammy Lee Patrick was burned to death here yesterday morning when a basin of cleaning fluid with which he had been playing became ignited, making a veritable human torch of the boy. The child's mother was washing dishes and the small boy secured a can of cleaning fluid from the back porch without her knowledge, pouring the liquid into an open basin. Going into the front room the infant spilled a large portion of the highly inflammable liquid on his person and threw the remainder into the open fireplace. The vapor caught the saturated clothing of the boy instantly and when the child's mother arrived, attracted by his screams, he was ablaze from head to foot. Following her failure to extinguish the fire with a garden hose in the front yard the mother rolled the boy in the grass and summoned the Dixon ambulance who took the child to the Santa Ana Valley Hospital where he died three hours later. Many parts of the child's body were charred beyond recognition, according to attending physicians.

The 3-year-old baby was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Patrick of this city. Mr. Patrick is manager of the Huntington Beach company and prominent in local civic affairs. Funeral services will be announced from the Dixon mortuary at Huntington Beach when it is ascertained how soon the child's grandparents can arrive from their home in Arizona. Mrs. Patrick was suffering from nervous shock today and was placed under a physician's care. She was slightly burned about the hands where she carried the boy to the front yard.

APPOINTED TO FILL UNEXPIRED TERM

EL CENTRO, Nov. 26.—At its regular meeting this morning the board of directors of the Imperial Irrigation District appointed Dan Weist, County Assessor for the past ten years, as assessor and tax collector for the district, to succeed Charles W. Barry, who died last week.

Weist's appointment is for the unexpired term, and he will have to go before the voters for election in 1931. Miss Vinnie Barry, sister of the former district assessor and a deputy in his office for several years, was a candidate for the post, but a majority of the members of the board favored Weist, who has been a staunch supporter of Mark Rose in political affairs in Imperial Valley.

OPENING OF HOTEL TO BE GALA EVENT

Elaborate Preparations at Palm Springs Hostelry for Thanksgiving

PALM SPRINGS, Nov. 26.—Preparations of festive character are being rushed for the official opening on Thanksgiving Day of the new Del Tahquitz Hotel, here, erected for Fritzi Ridgeway, Hollywood film star, according to advices just received from the resort.

Advance reservations indicate that the dedication of the new hostelry will be a social event of importance for the whole desert area from Redlands and Riverside to the Imperial Valley.

A large delegation of screen celebrities is expected to make the pilgrimage from Hollywood to Palm Springs to participate in the festivities of the opening, in compliment to Miss Ridgeway.

First resort hotel of pretensions to open at Palm Springs in many months, the Del Tahquitz also marks the first European plan hostelry to be established at the resort. The hotel with its dining-room is now open and the vanguard of celebrants already has arrived.

Because of the unique type of architecture of the hostelry, patterned after a Hopi Indian pueblo, and the fact that Miss Ridgeway and the lessees, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Hamilton, have provided novel atmosphere of the Indian country, the new hotel has attracted wide attention among devotees of desert lore and tradition.

In view of ideal weather conditions on the desert, preparations are being completed to accommodate a great throng of visitors expected to take advantage of the holiday to participate in the dedication festivities.

The Del Tahquitz has 100 all outside rooms surrounding a giant patio which is to be transformed into a desert garden by the transplanting of rare full-grown specimens of desert flora. A huge outdoor swimming pool will be a special feature.

Alhambra Favors Property Deal

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 26.—Purchase of the Alhambra Community Hotel property on South Garfield avenue as a civic center for $65,000 and a park site of 9.13 acres between South Sixth and South Eighth streets for $45,000 was approved by the City Commission today, in conjunction with the calling of a special election on January 14 to vote on the projects.

The money for both properties would be paid from the fund of $175,000 from the sale of Alhambra's interest in the Tri-city Farm. The propositions will be combined on the ballot and both will either be carried or rejected.

METAL MARKET

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Activity in the iron and steel industry continues to slow down. The situation brings little change in the markets, however, and is not inducing deep pessimism.

Leaders, while expecting little improvement this year, note with satisfaction rising confidence throughout the business world. Sentiment in the steel trade is slightly better. Additional quotations have been extended at unchanged levels into the first quarter of 1930.

NEW RUMOR ON SHIPPING ROW

Panama Mail Line Reported Planning Expansion

Immediate Building of Two Fast Craft on Card

Deal for Mexico Company's Fleet Also Pending

BY WALDO DRAKE

Immediate construction of two $5,000,000, eighteen-knot turbo-electric liners for intercoastal service, and purchase of the fleet and good-will of the National Navigation Company of Mexico for consolidation of its west coast service are planned by the Panama Mail Line, it was learned yesterday from an authoritative source.

Presence of Guy E. Buck, freight traffic manager of the Panama Mail Line, in Mexico City, together with Rodolfo Coppel, Mazatlan banker, is believed by local shipping interests to indicate that negotiations for purchase of the Mexican States fleet and concessions are in progress. The Panama Mail Line would scrap or otherwise dispose of the three old Mexican steamers, Washington, Bolivar and Moctezuma, it was said, and replace them in west coast-California trade with its own steamer Corinto, and other suitable tonnage to be acquired, it is reported. Reports that the company is also seeking to buy the steamers Sinaloa, Chihuahua, Chiapas and Guerrero, owned by the inoperative Mexican States Line, could not be confirmed by Williams, Dimond & Co., local agents for the Mexican States Line. Acquisition of the National Navigation Line's fleet would give Panama Mail interests a complete monopoly on west coast trade.

The two intercoastal liners, as first of a fleet to replace the present steamers, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Guatemala and El Salvador, are expected to be built at the Camden (N. J.) plant of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation. Company officials announce that they will be built to meet the peculiar requirements of the intercoastal and Central American trade. They will carry 200 first-cabin passengers and 100 in intermediate class, with cargo space for 8000 tons, including 1000 tons of refrigerated cargo. They are scheduled to be in commission by the fall of 1930.

SIGNS OF WHALING SEASON END APPEAR

Whales, after an unusually heavy concentration in late fall off San Clemente and other near-by islands, apparently have vacated these waters for other climes. The four killer boats of the California Sea Products Company, which, with their mother ship, Lansing, have been operating off the islands three months, have failed to find a mammal in several days now, over a radius of seventy-five miles. Last year the whaling season played out early in November, and the fleet is expected to abandon the quest soon until next spring, when the craft will put out from San Francisco for the coast of Lower California, gradually working north as the summer comes. The California Sea Products Company had reduced 12,000 barrels of oil to a month ago, and this has been enhanced by later catches.

An increased number of Japanese naval tankers are scheduled to visit here, calling for petroleum for naval purposes within the next sixty days. First in will be the Ondo from Kure December 11, followed by the Sunosaki from Yokozuha December 15, the Sata from Sasebo December 18, the Hayatomo from Sasebo January 6 and Kamoi from Yokozuha and Brimo from Kure.

Capt. Ben Seuffret, master of the tug Maybe, suffered a fractured arm yesterday while handling the winch on an Associated Oil Company barge. He is at San Pedro General Hospital.

Fern Line ships, plying from the Gulf to the Far East, hereafter will call here regularly for bunkers, according to Sconhoft-Gallis Company, agents. The Fernbank is due December 1, followed by the Fernhill, Fernlane, Ferncliff and Fernmoor. They are owned by Fernley & Eger of Oslo.

Passengers arriving from New York and Central American ports yesterday morning aboard the Panama Mail liner Guatemala told of their unusual experience in witnessing a spectacular eruption of the Salvadoran volcano Izalco, just after sailing from the port of La Libertad.

First-hand estimate of the damage incurred by eruption of the Guatemalan volcano Santa Maria was also given by Robert T. Serrano, Guatemalan capitalist who made a survey for Lloyd's just after the eruption on the 2nd inst. Mr. Serrano said that total damage to crops and buildings would not exceed $100,000 and the 200 persons who lost their lives were all Indians.

The flow, from the side crater, Nino Jesus, was not lava, he said, but hot mud which ran down the bed of the Concepcion River and overflowed its banks.

Other passengers on the Guatemala included Dr. Carlos Larde, a noted Salvadoran diplomat and surgeon; Commander C. J. Lang, United States Navy, retired, with Mrs. Lang; and Mrs. S. G. Chapman, treasurer of the Women's City Club here.

The motor ship William Penn, first freighter to be Dieselized by the United States Shipping Board, sailed for New York yesterday in resumption of her American Pioneer Line run after a day's visit here en route from Kagoya, Japan.

The William Penn has traversed more than 1,000,000 miles of seaways without her Burmeister & Wain motors needing major repairs.

Hamburg-American Line's motor ship San Francisco will arrive this morning from Antwerp and Hamburg with twenty-four passengers and 2000 tons of cargo for local discharge. Among her first-cabin passengers for this port are Mrs. Irene Suschitzky-Riesenfeld, Mrs. Sofie Riesenfeld, Rheder Thormaehlen, Mrs. Viola Davis Wood, Capt. S. T. L. McLaglen, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McGillivray, Christoph E. Jung, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Anne Vachon, Ellis Vachon and Peter Vachon.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (AP)—The motorship Oregon, first of several liners being built for the French Line service between France and the west coast of the United States, is due to arrive here shortly after the first of the year, Capt. B. Alllet, Pacific Coast manager for the company, announced here today. The Oregon will be followed within a few weeks by the steamer Wyoming and the motorship Washington. The new vessels being built by the line, in addition to having spacious passenger accommodations, are equipped with considerable refrigerated cargo space.

The oil tanker Ampullaria cleared from the San Francisco Customhouse today for Bordeaux, France, and the steamer will take out a cargo of 75,000 barrels of California petroleum products. The cargo is valued at $200,000 and will be the second of its kind ever to leave this port for France. The first cargo sailed from here several weeks ago, and it is reported locally that additional shipments of a similar character will be leaving this port at regular intervals.

SEATTLE, Nov. 26.—Early adoption of a program by which the port of Seattle will take over the city's privately owned waterfront, was predicted here today by Port Commissioner George B. Lamping in an address before the Municipal League.

Lamping also urged unified operation of railroad terminal service to the port as even a more immediate necessity.

"Seattle's position as nearest port to the Orient means little so long as wharfage and switching charges are higher than at other Pacific Coast ports," Lamping explained.

"Steamship rates from the Orient to all Pacific Coast ports are the same and railroad rates from all Pacific Coast ports to the East are the same, and accordingly Seattle's position as nearest port to the Orient is important only when high cost cargoes, such as silk, are involved."

Lamping detailed efforts of the Port Commission to meet San Francisco's wharfage rate of 15 cents a ton, but declared that it could not be done here as long as a portion of the dockage is privately owned.

TACOMA, Nov. 26.—Plans for the organization of a conference of local dock operators became known following the meeting yesterday of the Pierce County Port Commission. The private dock operators asked if the commission would join such an organization, and it was decided to accept the proposal.

The report of the Tacoma Harbor Master for October shows the freight movement showed a considerable gain in tonnage over September, but the value of the goods shipped was less. The imports were 337,135 tons, valued at $6,982,821, while the exports were 192,806 tons, valued at $7,098,092. Shipments of lumber, wood products, grain products and packing-house products showed increase, while miscellaneous shipments fell off.

Announcement of a sailing every twelve days for Tacoma and the Atlantic Coast was made here today by officials of the Dimon Steamship Company. The service will become effective December 31 when the Willamote, a new vessel, is put into service. The Dimon Line now has a fleet of eight ships in the intercoastal trade.

PORTLAND, Nov. 26.—The third action begun in Federal District Court here to recover damages for cargo lost when the freighter Laurel of the States Steamship Company was wrecked on Peacock Spit at the mouth of the Columbia River last summer, was filed today by the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company of San Francisco, insurers of three parcels of lumber. The insurance firm asked a judgment of $72,144.50.

Under rights of subrogation, the insurance company brought action to recover for shipments made by the Prendergast Company and Dant & Russell, both of which were consigned to New York, and the Long-Bell Lumber Company, which loaded a parcel at Longview, Wash., for Philadelphia.

NET PROFITS OF PAPER HOUSE UP

Crown Zellerbach Tells of Half-Year Operations

Gain Over Similar Period in 1928 Set at $274,431

Per Share Income Unchanged Due to Capital Boost

Net profits of Crown Zellerbach Corporation for the six months ended October 31, last, aggregated $3,027,628, as against $2,753,197 for the corresponding period last year, a gain of $274,431, or approximately 10 per cent, according to a report issued by the company yesterday.

The increase was not reflected in a proportionate gain in per-share earnings, which amounted to $1.13 per share on 1,991,680 common shares outstanding at the close of the period, after preferred dividends of $783,571, as against $1.14 per share on 1,971,617 shares, after preferred dividends of $514,373, for the six months' period of 1928.

Explaining this feature of the report, I. Zellerbach, president, pointed out that the net earnings per share of common stock are practically the same despite the increase in earnings because of the increased dividend requirements on the preference stock which was issued early this year to finance the company's expansion program and on which earnings are only just beginning to be realized.

GAIN GRATIFIES

"The increase of $274,431 in net earnings over the first six months of the last fiscal year is most gratifying in view of the general situation in the paper industry," Mr. Zellerbach stated.

Net profits available to the corporation for the second quarter ended October 31, last, totaled $1,382,958, equivalent after preferred dividends aggregating $391,624, to 50 cents a share on 1,991,680 shares outstanding. Profits before depreciation, depletion, bond interest and United States and Canadian income taxes amounted to $3,522,121. Depreciation in the amount of $931,061 was deducted; depletion amounted to $290,086, while bond interest was $347,039. United States and Canadian income taxes for the period were $228,500 and minority stockholders' interests were $407,476.

Among acquisitions made during the semiannual period just ended was the purchase of the Carthage mill of the Westend Paper Company, which has an appraised value of more than $1,000,000. Extensive improvements are being made in the Camas plant of Crown Willamette Paper Company and the Ocean Falls plant of Pacific Mills, Ltd.

The gradual improvement in the paper industry is continuing at steady though moderate rate, Mr. Zellerbach's report stated. Stocks of paper are being gradually reduced and prices of paper and paper products are stable. Demand shows a consistent growth.

In order to meet this demand, the corporation has been adding to its plant capacity, particularly in the East, where the recently acquired Carthage (N. Y.) plant is now being remodeled and is expected to be put in operation by February 1, next, as part of the National Paper Products Company division of the corporation in connection with its other plant at Carthage. Distribution of Crown Zellerbach's products is now being made on a large scale throughout the Atlantic States, the report said.

The comparative income account for the six months' period ended October 31, last, follows:

NET INCOME OF PACIFIC SERVICE UP

Utility Company Report for October and Twelve Months Shows Gains

October net earnings before fixed charges of the Pacific Public Service Company increased $24,423 over October, 1928, to a total of $200,964 for the month, which brings the net for the twelve months ended October 31, to an aggregate of $2,142,631, which is $167,160, or more than 8 per cent higher than the earnings for the same period last year, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company. Gross sales increased for both periods.

Prior charges for the twelve months, including interest, dividends of subsidiaries, reserves and taxes, amounted to $1,402,172, leaving a balance available for the common stock of $740,459. The statement points out that more than $1,000,000 of the company's bond issues was converted into Class A stock during the last month, and that at present there are 274,960 shares of Class A outstanding.

Standard Oil Company of California last September purchased all the "B" or voting stock, amounting to 300,000 shares, for approximately $26,800,000.

According to the statement, construction work in the gas department is progressing rapidly and it is expected that natural gas will be available for distribution throughout the company's territory in the near future. There is every indication that the sale of straight natural gas to existing and potential consumers will result in substantially augmenting the company's earnings, it was pointed out.

Extra Dividend Voted on Stock of Blaw-Knox

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Blaw-Knox Company today declared an extra dividend of 30 cents on its no par capital stock, payable December 22 to stock of record December 13.

A. C. Lehman, president, estimated net earnings from operations of $3,000,000 for 1929 with income from outside investments totaling $750,000. The company is looking forward to 1930 with optimism and will start the new year with the largest amount of unfilled orders in its history, he added.

Jerome H. Louchheim of Keystone Construction Company of Philadelphia has been elected a director of the company.

New Haven Rail Increases Rate

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (Exclusive) Directors of the New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company today declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share on the common stock, placing the issue on a $6 annual basis, compared with $5 per share formerly.

Directors also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on the preferred stock. Each of the dividends are payable January 2, next, to stockholders of record December 6.

INDEMNITY COMPANY CHAIN REPORTS GAIN

Associated Indemnity Corporation, Associated Fire and Marine Insurance Company and the American Associated Agency, operating units of Associated Insurance Fund, Inc., will report a total business of about $4,000,000 for the year, the first of its existence as a group, C. W. Fellows, president, announced yesterday.

The indemnity company, which is the only one of the group existing for more than a year, shows premium writings of more than $1,200,000 in excess of the writings in the corresponding ten months of last year.

NET OF LOS ANGELES STEAMSHIP HIGHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Los Angeles Steamship Company today reported operating revenue for September of $504,066, as against $442,751 for the same month last year, with net income of $56,092, against $35,884. For the first nine months of this year the operating revenue was $5,056,794, against $4,365,975 in the 1928 period, while net income was $891,356, against $532,927.

BUDGET TOTALS AID STOCKS

Construction and Equipment Figures Released from Hoover Meetings Will Help Many Activities

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Totaling of industrial budgets for 1930 in response to the program laid down by the Hoover conferences should reveal some interesting information for investors in American corporation equities. The promises of regular annual expenditures and increases over the normal expansion programs indicate a pool of several billion dollars for disbursement in 1930 for a wide variety of equipment, building materials, road construction materials, copper, steel, etc.

Railroads will spend something like $1,250,000,000 in 1930 for new equipment, steel rails, construction material, etc. States and municipalities will rush public buildings and road building, the governors of one-fourth of the States promising $375,000,000 in public buildings and highways. Road builders estimate that $2,200,000,000 will be spent for highway and street construction throughout the country.

UTILITIES CONTRIBUTE

Public utility and industrial corporations similarly have responded with figures on new construction and maintenance in 1930. Scores of manufacturing companies have announced decisions to enter into expansion projects heretofore considered but never definitely adopted. What the utilities will spend is indicated by statements yesterday from the Commonwealth Southern Corporation of a $75,000,000 budget in 1930 and $60,000,000 for Utilities Power and Light.

Equipment companies naturally are the first to reflect changing trends in industry, and the stocks of these companies usually move first when the business curve starts to rise or fall. Knowledge of this characteristic of equipment stocks has prompted a lively inquiry into the equipment group since the Hoover conferences got under way.

In the railroad-equipment group these inquiries cover such stocks as Baldwin Locomotive, American Locomotive, Pullman, American Car and Foundry, General Railway Signal, New York Air Brake, American Brake Shoe, Railway Steel Spring, Pressed Steel Car, and others. These are companies that bid for the railroad business, and as a group should share in the benefits from the promise of at least regular equipment purchases in 1930.

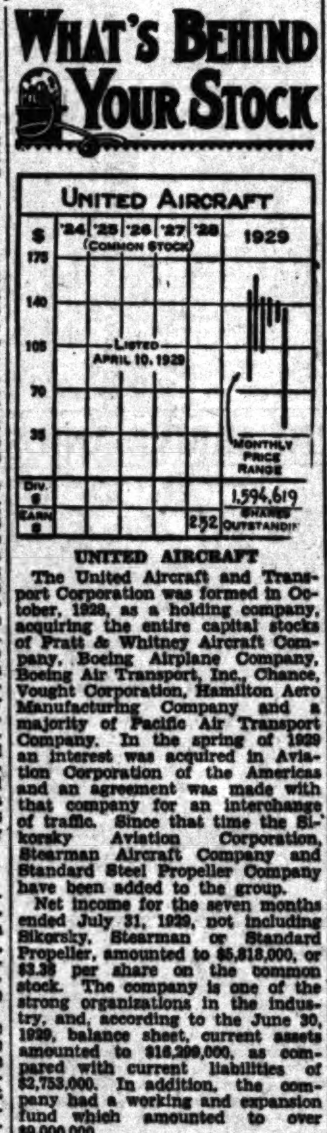
ELECTRIC MAKERS LISTED

Electrical equipment manufacturers like General Electric, Westinghouse, Western Electric, American Telephone, Weston Electric, etc., should share largely in the expenditures by public utility companies. Makers of copper wire, like Anaconda, also should figure.

In the raw material group the steels and the coppers will be the heaviest beneficiaries, although the oil companies doing an asphalt business and the producers of cement also will sell large volumes of material. The leading steel stocks include United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Inland, Gulf States, etc., while the copper producers include Anaconda, Kennecott, Chile, Cerro de Pasco, and American Smelting, the leading refiner.

Building and road-material companies comprise a miscellaneous list. Foundation Company is in the construction business, Bucyrus-Erie, steam shovels; Johns-Manville and Certain-teed Products, roofing; Warren Brothers, road building; Shell Union Oil, asphalt roofing and shingles; Anaconda Copper, copper shingles; International Cement and Penn Dixie Cement, cement producers, and scores of others in related lines.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



UNITED AIRCRAFT

The United Aircraft and Transport Corporation was formed in October, 1928, as a holding company, acquiring the entire capital stocks of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Company, Boeing Airplane Company, Boeing Air Transport, Inc., Chance, Vought Corporation, Hamilton Aero Manufacturing Company and a majority of Pacific Air Transport Company. In the spring of 1929 an interest was acquired in Aviation Corporation of the Americas and an agreement was made with that company for an interchange of traffic. Since that time the Sikorsky Aviation Corporation, Stearman Aircraft Company and Standard Steel Propeller Company have been added to the group.

Net income for the seven months ended July 31, 1929, not including Sikorsky, Stearman or Standard Propeller, amounted to $5,818,000, or $3.38 per share on the common stock. NEW TREASURY FINANCING DUE

Plans for December Offering Told by Secretary

Amount of Issue Expected to be $600,000,000

Will be Bills at Discount in Lieu of Interest

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—General rules governing the sale and issue of Treasury bills which soon are expected to be put into use as a new method of government financing, were announced today by Secretary Mellon.

The plan is to sell the bills at a discount instead of selling Treasury certificates bearing interest as means of taking care of the government's temporary financial needs. It was approved by Congress last June.

The issuance of the regulations was accepted as indicating the Treasury would use this method, at least in part, in its Decemebr financing. At that time two issues of Treasury certificates are due and will total approximately $750,000,000. Because of this officials believe the total Treasury offering for the winter financing might approximate $600,000,000.

The fourth quarter's income tax payments are due on December 15 and are expected to aggregate $400,000,000, which amount with the sale of the certificates or bills would provide for the government financial needs until next March.

The regulations provide that the bills are bearer obligations of the United States to pay at a certain time a specified amount without interest and that they are to be sold on a discount basis. They will be issued in denominations of $1000, $10,000 and $100,000 and will be exempt from all taxation except estate and inheritance taxes. The amount of the discount will be stated on the face of each of the bills and the discount, the Treasury ruled, must be considered to be interest for tax purposes.

The regulations further provide that the Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to select the best bids and award any part or all of the issue to such bidder.

HOOVER AT FAMILIAR TASK

President Held Most at Home in Move to Marshal Nation's Industrial Forces

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Even the most skeptical admit that in the field of business Herbert Hoover is a master workman. Those who have seen the difficulties which have attended his leadership in the political field, vision an entirely different type of leadership when he puts his hand to the business wheel. He's "at home" there.

It is the President's belief that the stock market boom and subsequent collapse should have no permanent effect on the economic and business system of the country as a whole; the business was and is sound; that credit, since the stock-market drop, has become increasingly easy, and that the whole world now can go ahead with the plans which had been held up because of the concentration of credit in Wall street's gambling vortex.

Wesley Mitchell, authority on business cycles, says that the paucity of contracts is what brings on business depressions. If confidence can be maintained to a point where business and construction contracts will be "let" during the present period, just as they have been in the past, no depression of any duration should follow.

The President's prompt organization of the forces of industry and business in the last two weeks is one of the most challenging and effective demonstrations of unified business leadership ever shown to the world.

J. H. Thomas, British Minister of Employment, raises the question regarding women in industry who work for pin money. He not only raises the question, but he condemns the practice in England as uneconomic, unfair and "against the nation's interest," for it deprives needy people of legitimate work.

"No legislation can cure it. It's a question of moral responsibility. The number of women engaged in industry doing work that men did prior to the war is very substantial—women that needn't to be so employed," says this British Minister.

Mr. Thomas's job is the hardest one in the British Cabinet. Formerly a fireman and engineer on a railroad, he joined the railroad labor union early and became ultimately the most powerful labor leader in the British empire. He's an old hand at politics, too, having been a member of Parliament for two decades. In addition to his work as Minister of Employment, he is also the Lord Privy Seal.

In Ottawa, a few months ago, I asked him about this additional title. Pulling at his pipe, feet on the top of his desk, he replied:

"Socially, the holder of the Lord Privy Seal is above the Prime Minister, but that means nothing to me. Too many people are out of work in Great Britain to allow me to give my time over to social functions. I never was very strong at that line anyway."

But those who know Mr. Thomas, say he is one of the most brilliant and entertaining dinner companions in British political life today.

BEARS RESUME SELLING RAIDS

Waiver of Daily Report Rule Signal for Onset

Preholiday Evening Up Also Weakens Market

Turnover Volume Light and Decline Moderate

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Stock Exchange ended its open season on bears today and the operators were quick to resume activity taking advantage of preholiday lightening of accounts to send prices substantially lower. Leading shares generally closed 1 to 12 points lower.

Trading continued to be light, however, only 3,694,110 shares changing hands, compared to [illegible] yesterday. Bears were still rather timid and the short selling was not particularly aggressive, but added to the selling in preparation for the four-day recess beginning with tomorrow's close, it was sufficient to turn the market moderately heavy.

NEWS FAVORABLE

Despite the sagging prices, the news of the day was unusually satisfactory. The action of the board of governors of the exchange in discontinuing the requirement of daily reports from members on short positions, while [illegible] the resumption of short selling, was interpreted as convincing evidence of the confidence of the officials of the exchange in the renewed stability of the market. Nearly a dozen corporations announced favorable dividend action, [illegible]

'How has my investment trust weathered the market break?'

EVERY SECURITY dealer has been asked this question many times during the past few weeks. The sharp market decline furnished a real test of the investment trust and the ability of its management. How well this test was met by the ably-directed trust is strikingly indicated by the current financial reports of two trusts whose securities we selected for distribution during the past six months.

As of November 15th, the one had over 70% of its entire capital in cash; while the remainder was invested in income-bearing securities which show a profit on the current market price. The other had 20% in cash, 15% in bonds and preferred stocks, and 65% in common stocks which were all purchased at or near the bottom of the market.

In the light of this splendid record, we believe the investor who contemplates the aquisition of stocks at current levels may better purchase the capital stock of these two investment trusts, whose managements have demonstrated such unusual ability and foresight in not only keeping their resources so liquid but also in making a profit at the same time.

Detailed information about these two trusts and their present condition will be gladly furnished. Simply send name and address below.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Slight irregularity in the first-grade rails marred an otherwise well-supported bond market today. There was some selling of the low yield carriers in favor of issues affording larger returns, but the tone of the domestic list as a whole was firm and in keeping with the easiness of money.

Quotations on time funds dropped to 4½ to 4¾ per cent for all maturities, the lowest level since March, 1928. Call money held at the renewal figure of 4½ per cent.

Liberty bonds and Treasury certificates moved narrowly. The Liberty 3½s and Fourth 4¼s equaled their 1929 highs on small fractional advances, but there was a tendency to restrict commitments in the government group. The Treasury has not yet announced the terms of its mid-December financing, part of which is to be in certificates and part in noninterest bearing notes.

Such losses as appeared in the rails were mostly on minor transactions, although there was fair volume in Rock Island 4½s, Baltimore and Ohio 5s and Union Pacific 4½s, all of which lost about a point. Atchison general 4s yielded 1½ points on small trading.

Utilities and industrials gave a good account of themselves. Buying of American Telephone 5½s, Cincinnati Gas and Electric 4s, Republic Brass 6s, Pressed Steel Car 5s, North American Edison 5½s and 5s, and Standard Oil of New York 4½s brought out gains averaging about ¾. Postal Telegraph and Cable collateral 5s sold off.

The stock privilege group was dull and lower. American Telephone 4½s lost 2½. Texas Corporation 5s lost ½.

Foreign listings reflected a smaller interest and traded irregularly. Belgian 7½s touched a new high at 116 and the other obligations of that government made small gains. The extension of a $10,000,000 credit to the State of Sao Paulo, presumably as a measure of assistance to the coffee situation, was accompanied by advances of 1 to nearly 4 points in the State's listed loans.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Remember the Year—1922 in Standard Oil History

THAT was the year when sixteen of the thirty-one Standard Oil companies declared huge stock dividends as follows, totaling more than $1,760,000,000 in market value.

	Per cent		Per cent
Standard Oil of Kentucky	33⅓	Prairie Oil and Gas Co.	200
Standard Oil of New York	200	Prairie Pipe Line Co.	200
Standard Oil of New Jersey	400	Standard Oil of California	100
Atlantic Refining Co.	900	Standard Oil of Indiana	100
Borne-Scrymser Co.	400	Standard Oil of Kentucky	66⅔
Cumberland Pipe Line Co.	100	Standard Oil of Ohio	100
Humble Oil and Refining Co.	75	Union Tank Car Co.	50
Ohio Oil Co.	300	Vacuum Oil Co.	300

This tremendous stock dividend distribution followed the accumulation of a combined surplus in excess of $1,500,000,000. Yet in six years' time, the Standard Oil group has already built up this huge reserve in excess of the former quota, amounting today to $1,522,000,000. Following the customary Standard Oil practice, it is entirely possible that some year in the near future may be another 1922.

We recommend that you purchase Standard Oil stocks at present bargain prices and hold them as a group through the medium of Trustee Standard Oil Shares. This fixed investment trust represents ownership in the stocks of all the thirty-one companies and holders participate in all cash and stock dividends, rights and market appreciation.

Tone on Wheat Market Weak at Lower Levels

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Shadows of possible big deliveries of wheat on December contracts both here and at Liverpool fell upon wheat values today and made prices average lower. Besides, trans-Atlantic demand for wheat from North America lacked volume, although premiums offered by exporters at the Gulf of Mexico were the highest yet this season, and appeared to be getting much closer to a point where export business can be done from interior markets in the Southwest. Meanwhile sensational crop-damage reports from Argentina today brought about brisk price rallies at times, but the effect failed to last.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅛c lower. Corn closed ⅛c off to ⅜c up. Oats were unchanged to ⅜c down and provisions showing 7 to 17c advance.

Notwithstanding authoritative reports which were current today that Europe will require four-fifths of North America's present wheat surplus, sellers of Chicago wheat future deliveries appeared to be in a majority most of the day. One of the outstanding features of trading was evidence of much readjustment of speculative accounts that had ends both in Liverpool and Chicago.

Intervening upturns in wheat prices lifted the market here for quite a while to well above yesterday's closing figures. Argentine advices furnished the chief incentive, dispatches indicating severe losses from black rust in Cordoba and Santa Fe provinces.

Corn tended upward owing a good deal to reports that husking results are less favorable than had been expected, and that the corn crop movement is laggard. Oats lagged as a result of sympathy with wheat weakness.

Despite liberal receipts of hogs, provisions advanced on account of improved demand for lard.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Weaker Undertone Creeps Into Stock Trading After Firm Morning Session

With selling orders turning heavier after the noon hour prices sagged on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, checking the general upturn in progress throughout the past week. The volume of the days transactions, however, was practically at Monday's level, which was somewhat below the average.

Transamerica, leader of the activity, reacted after early strength and closing at 43 1-8 recorded a net loss of 1 1-4 points. Southern California Edison, the next most active issue on the board, fluctuated in a similar fashion and from a high in the morning at 56 3-8, dropped back to a low and close for the day at 54 7-8 for a net loss of 2 1-8 points. The original preferred ran contrary to the list with an advance of 1 point to 57, on light sales. Pacific Lighting dropped 1⅛ to 70 3-4.

Oil stocks were for the most part only fractionally reduced and as a group exhibited greater strength and resistance power than any other section of the board. Union topped the sales with a turnover of 2300 shares and after touching 45 1-4 fell to a close at 44 5-8, off fractionally for the day. Union Associates fell off 1 1-4 points to 43 1-4 and Standard of California, on relatively light sales, slumped 1 7-8 to 61. Richfield eased ½ to 28 3-4 and Rio Grande, 5-8 to 19 3-4. Signal "A" and "B" each lost a point to 31 and 33, respectively.

Pacific Clay Products, having been inactive for some time, crossed the board at 29½ for a loss of 4 3-8 points. Other price changes were fractional.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Futures on the local rubber exchange today again moved in a narrow price area, while the December delivery was the most active month on the list and commanded a good deal of attention, due to the fact that yesterday was the first notice day.

At the highs, deliveries showed gains of from 10 to 20 points above Monday's close and despite liquidation, which came from several large commission houses, especially in the December position, which was picked up by an important trade interest, against sales of more distant months.

Final prices were from unchanged to 20 points net higher, after a turnover of 394 lots, or 985 long tons. London spot rubber closed at 8 3-16d, up ⅛d in a steady market. Outside spot here was ⅛c higher at 16⅛c.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Fractional recessions ruled for the most part on yesterday's session of the Los Angeles Curb Exchange as prices followed the softer trend manifested on the senior market. Gladding McBean and Intercoast Trading showed the sharpest decline, the former breaking 2 7-8 points to 59 5-8 and the latter 1 1-4 points to 23.

Moving in an opposite direction Bank of America N.A. spurted 10 points to 145 and Pacific Associates rallied 1 1-4 to 25. Small losses were chalked up for Claude Neon of Delaware, Consolidated Steel, Electrical Products, Fokker and Samson Tire. Among the shorter-priced issues Bolsa Chica B slumped 35 cents to 1.25.

Sales totaled 32,959 shares valued at $135,701; previous day, 32,251 shares valued at $75,839.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Continued dullness prevails in the wool market. Some houses report no inquiries at all. Those that do have sales, report the volume extremely small. Quotations are mostly nominal because of the lack in trading. Values appear to be about steady on 64's and finer domestic wools, while on 56's and 48-50's grade, the expressed ideas of values are lower.

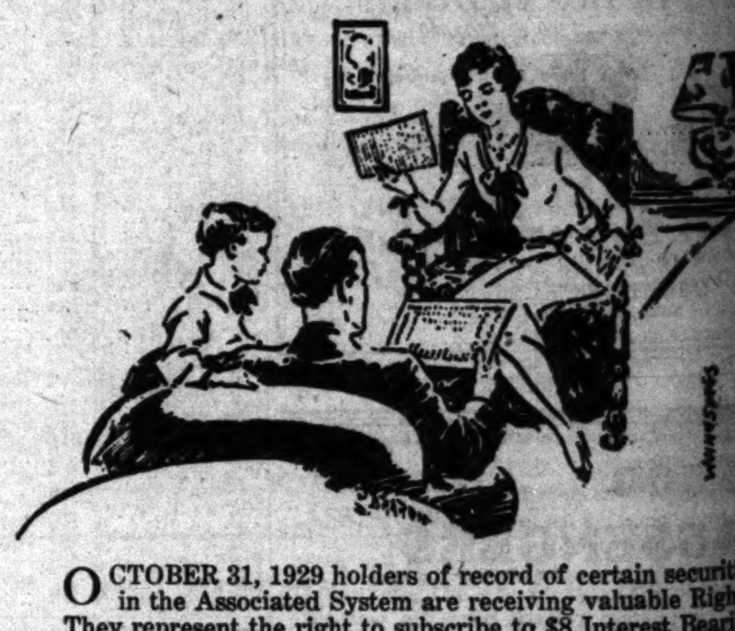
Associated Gas and Electric Security Holders

Watch for Your Rights!



OCTOBER 31, 1929 holders of record of certain securities in the Associated System are receiving valuable Rights. They represent the right to subscribe to $8 Interest Bearing Allotment Certificates at $120 each to yield 6⅔%.

What This Investment Means

It means that you have an opportunity to profit through the growth of a soundly established, long continued business supplying light, heat and power—first necessities of civilization.

Growth, through increasing service to customers and through additions of new properties, has doubled Associated System gross earnings and assets during 1927 to 1929.

Full value of the Rights can be realized by exercising them.

Additional Rights may be purchased through security dealers or banks.

These Rights are not cancelled as implied in newspapers but on the contrary the Allotment Certificates have been made more attractive both in price and in terms.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Moving slowly, the San Francisco stock market today again displayed a trend toward lower price levels. The uncertain opening was followed by a number of dips by market leaders, most of which were fractionally lower at the close.

Exceptions to the downward trend included Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar, Anglo and London-Paris National Bank, and Home Fire and Marine, but transactions in these issues were sharply limited.

Eight thousand shares of Transamerica Corporation were traded, ranging from the opening at 44 to the closing at 43⅛. Anglo and London-Paris gained 3 points and Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust dropped 1.

Caterpillar Tractor led the industrial list with a turnover of 3400 shares, dropping from a 56 opening to close at 54½, the lowest level of the day. Western Pipe and Steel, on two sales of 100 shares each dropped 2⅛ points, and California Packing and Oliver Filters B 1 point each. Fractional declines were charged against Bond and Share, Byron Jackson, Golden State Milk, Illinois Pacific Glass, Oliver Filters A, Rainier Pulp and Paper, Jentzen Knitting, and Hunt Brothers. California Ink dropped 1½ to a new low at 35.

The utility shares were irregular. Southern Pacific Golden Gate A gained a ⅛, while Pacific Telephone and Telegraph lost 4½ points on a single transaction. Pacific Lighting common was off 3⅛ and Pacific Gas and Electric common 1¾. Spring Valley Water was off ¼ and Pacific Gas ⅛.

Standard Oil of California sold down 2 points to 61, while Richfield, North American, Union, Union Associates, Shell Union and Tidewater recorded fractional losses. Honolulu Oil was an exception, gaining ½.

The radio issues showed little change on moderate activity. Fractional gains were shown by Atlas Diesel, California Copper, Investors Association, Langendorf B, and Leslie Salt.

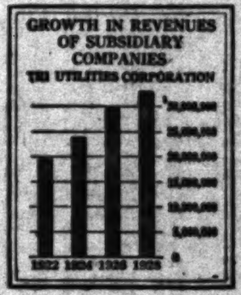
Stability of Earning Power

Because water, fuel and power are absolutely necessary to the life of modern communities; because the demand for these services is practically constant in good times and bad and because the utilities are usually free from the competition and the labor problems present in other industries, utility companies enjoy a stability of earning power seldom found in other enterprises.

Federal Water Service Corporation, the largest privately owned water service system in the United States, holds an exceptional record of earnings stability. As far back as records are available, the combined constituent properties have shown uninterrupted increases in both gross and net earnings. Some of the properties are among the oldest in the country in point of years of operation.

For the year ended September 30, 1929, consolidated gross revenues, including other income, amounted to $16,356,410, as compared with $14,593,354, for the preceding twelve months, an increase of $1,763,055, or over 12%. After all operating expenses there remained a gross corporate income totaling $9,078,800, an increase of $1,206,106, or more than 16%.



Federal Water Service Corporation is an important subsidiary of Tri-Utilities Corporation which controls public utility properties valued at more than $290,000,000.

NEON LIGHTS LITIGATION

Claude Neon Lights, Inc., in the New York Supreme Court brought suit against Federal Electric Company, George L. Johnson, and others, and applied for an injunction restraining them from consummating a contract by which Federal Electric Company agreed to sell to Johnson its sign business including two-thirds of the capital stock of the Claude Neon Federal Company, a Delaware Corporation, and stock in various other subsidiaries for $7,000,000. After a full hearing the injunction was denied, and the denial unanimously affirmed in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court.

In a counter claim, Johnson demanded judgment that Claude Neon Lights, Inc. has no right of any kind to revoke or cancel a perpetual license granted to use certain Neon patents in sixteen middle western states, for which license Claude Neon Lights, Inc. received one-third of the stock of the Claude Neon Federal Company. Claude Neon Lights, Inc. is now under injunction restraining it from asserting or claiming that such license is in anywise invalid, revocable or subject to cancellation.

Aircraft and Curtiss-Wright both reported decreased earnings for the third quarter. Railway income statements for October continued to reflect the general let-up in the heavy freight movement, although a few showed further gains in net, including Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific and Norfolk and Western.

CREDIT EASES

Credit remained cheap and abundant. Call loans again held officially at 4 1-2 per cent, but were available at lower rates in the outside market. Time money was quoted at 4 1-2 to 4 3-4 per cent, the lowest in nearly two years. Commercial paper was easier at 5 1-4 to 5 1-2 for prime names.

General Electric and Western Union lost about 12 points each, Allied Chemical, American and Foreign Power, American Water Works, J. I. Case, Delaware and Hudson, Eastman Kodak, United States Freight, National Biscuit and Westinghouse Electric, about 6 to 10 points. United States Steel sagged more than 5 points to 162 1-4 and closed at 163 1-4. Radio lost about 2 points, Standard of New Jersey, 1, and General Motors, 1-2 point. Leading copper shares were under further pressure, losing 2 to 4 points, and several investment rails sagged about 3 to 5 points.

The commodity markets were barely steady. Wheat futures sagged a little under British Argentine crop estimates and an increase in the Canadian visible supply. The December position closed 1-2 cent lower. Corn closed 1-4 to 1-2 cent higher on bullish Kansas reports. Cotton was under moderate pressure, closing 55 to 90 cents a bale lower.

Foreign exchanges were dull and fairly steady, with sterling cables holding at $4.87 15-16.

To avoid difficulty in curta[illegible] production during the ninety-[illegible] proration period a number of operators at Santa Fe Springs [illegible] have held back the completion o[illegible] least fifteen wells, but will in [illegible] probability bring them in before [illegible] end of the month.

Through difficulty in curtailing production during the ninety-day curtailment period a number of oil operators at Santa Fe Springs field have held back the completion of at least fifteen wells, but will in all probability bring them in before the end of the month.

Yesterday's production at Santa Fe Springs was estimated at 156,500 barrels, being 6500 barrels more than the allowable figure fixed by the major companies in order to get production back to normal.

The situation in the field has developed into a queer drilling campaign. Several of the major companies have found themselves far below the Clarke sand, which is proving so productive. On the other hand, one of the biggest independent producers is on the verge of completing no less than six wells in the lower Clarke sand, and has already brought in a quartet of wells which is putting out two-thirds of its entire yield.

To Clean Out

The Lincoln Drilling Company is preparing its Medcliff No. 1 surprise producer, west of the Palisades field near Santa Barbara, to flow in an endeavor to clean up the heavy cut that is coming out with the oil. The daily average production has been estimated at forty barrels, and oil is thought to be coming from the Monterey shale on the new Medcliff subdivision, which is believed to extend into the ocean.

Lincoln drilling suspended operations in Medcliff No. 1 several months ago, with bottom at 2400 feet, and later on when the property was inspected the hole was found to be filled with oil. The well is flowing into the sump pending construction of a 500-barrel storage tank. Six and one-quarter-inch casing will be run soon, and the last 1000 feet will be perforated to enable testing out the formation which was passed up during drilling operations.

Summerland Output Steady

The Lincoln Drilling Company's three producing wells, each at the extreme western end of the old Summerland field, are yielding approximately eighty-five barrels of oil a day. The new deep sand was discovered by this company several months ago, when the Williams No. 1 came in at 1350 feet and later two other projects were drilled to completion.

Rigging Deep Test

George F. Getty, Inc., is rigging Seaside No. 1 in the old Summerland field and will drill it as a deep test for that area. This project is about 1000 feet east of the Lincoln Drilling Company producers, and if it should be successful, further drilling will be done along the coast there.

Making Progress

The Barnsdall Oil Company's first test north of the Elwood field on a 100-acre government prospecting permit, known as Hazelton No. 1-A, at Maricopa Flat recently set and cemented eleven and three-quarter-inch casing to 3371 feet, with bottom of the hole at 3387 feet. Cement plug will be drilled out in a few days. The test lies south and east of the Signal Hill Oil and Gas Company's producing wells and south of the Doyle Petroleum Company's property.

Continues to Test

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company is continuing a series of tests for the completed section of its natural gas pipe line running from the Kettleman Hills oil field to Buttonwillow. A pressure of 400 pounds has been maintained on the line to give it a thorough testing. The main line, not yet tapped, will soon begin taking the flow from the Milham Exploration Company's eight gas well at Buttonwillow.

Suspends Drilling

The Pacific Western Oil Company yesterday suspended drilling operations in No. 27 on Section 24, 21-17, on the north dome at Kettleman Hills, and will make no effort to complete it until restrictions on drilling are raised, a matter of two years hence. The drill halted in oil sand with bottom of the hole at 7423 feet, and the chances of bringing in a good producer are said to be excellent.

Pacific Western recently spudded in Tideland Permit No. 92-2, on the coast at Elwood. It is on the tideland lease where permit No. 92 was brought in several months ago. On the same lease piles are being driven for No. 92-3, and pier is going in for construction of a derrick for No. 92-4.

Daily Data on Short Account Status Dropped

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The boards of governors of the New York stock and curb exchanges today notified members to discontinue making the daily reports by which exchange officials have been kept informed as to the extent and identity of professional "bear" activity, or short selling.

The exchanges have been receiving daily reports on the position of short accounts beginning with the close of business the 12th inst. A questionnaire called for information as to stocks loaned or borrowed, the amount, from whom loaned or borrowed, and for whose account.

This information was requested in an effort to discourage "bear" raids on the market during the demoralized conditions caused by the renewed, unexpected and generally inexplicable collapse of prices in the week beginning the 11th inst. It was understood no such radical action as the prohibition of short selling was contemplated, exchange officials feeling that the moral effect of the questionnaire would be adequate.

No disclosures have been made as to what the questionnaires revealed, but they are generally regarded as having had a salutary effect, as the markets began to regain their stability soon after the first reports were received.

Claude Neon to Block Project

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The management of Claude Neon Lights, Inc., issued a statement today declaring that it is in no way connected with the recently formed Federal Neon System, Inc., and that litigation to prevent the completion of the plan of consolidation as announced by the Federal company is still pending in the courts.

The statement, signed by W. T. P. Hollingsworth and Robert L. Kester, Jr., president and vice-president, respectively, of the Claude Neon Lights, Inc., said that Claude Neon Lights, Inc., holds sufficient stock in the Claud Neon Federal Company to prevent it from being merged with any other organization, pointing out that such a merger cannot be made without the consent of 75 per cent of the outstanding common stock of the Claude Neon Federal Company.

Pipe Line Sale Plans Pending

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. This is the same price per mile for the various sizes of pipe as at previous sale.

The company expects to be able to return to stockholders about $5 a share from the capital-stock redemption account. The sale will not be consummated until about May 1, next.

Associated Gas & Electric System

Three-tenths share Additional $5 Preferred Stock Included and Cost Reduced

In view of the recent drastic decline in all security prices the Board of Directors of Associated Gas and Electric Company has decided to authorize the modification of its $8 Interest Bearing Allotment Certificates so as to make them much more attractive and has authorized a reduction in price from $133 to $120, without, however, making any change in the interest rate of $8 per annum.

The amount of Associated Gas and Electric Company $5 Dividend Preferred Stock included in each Allotment Certificate will be increased two and one-half times from one-fifth of a share to one-half of a share. This change will also make the securities included in the Allotment Certificates more largely of a fixed return investment character, thereby harmonizing with the present trend of the best investment advice.

The reduced price of $120 will materially increase the yield of the Allotment Certificates, as no reduction will be made in the interest rate. The increase in the amount of Preferred Stock will also substantially increase the return when the Allotment Certificates are exchanged for the securities.

The high point in the market value of the securities included in each Allotment Certificate before the recent drastic reduction in the price levels, was over $190 as compared with the reduced subscription price of $120, which is substantially below the present market value of the securities which are included.

These changes in the Allotment Certificates present, therefore, much greater possibilities of appreciation in principal when market conditions become normal as well as assuring a substantially larger income for a smaller outlay.

The new Stock Purchase Rights to Purchase Class A and Common Stock which will be deliverable under the Allotment Certificates and which will represent a split-up and improvement of the present Debenture Rights, should command a higher price than the present Debenture Rights now quoted on the New York Curb Exchange. The present Debenture Rights, of which the Company has reacquired a very large proportion, expire on January 2, 1931, whereas the new "Rights" to be covered by the Allotment Certificates after they are split-up, will extend, at a small step-up in the price payable each year when exercised, for a period of over four years, and will not expire until January 2, 1934.

The increase in the securities included in the Allotment Certificates and the reduction in price will apply to all subscriptions whether paid in cash or securities.

The $8 Interest Bearing Allotment Certificates of Associated Gas and Electric Company, as above, cover:

(a) Five shares of new General Gas & Electric Corporation Class A Common Stock (traded in on a when issued basis on the New York Curb Exchange, the old stock being listed on the New York Stock Exchange);

(b) One-half share of Associated Gas and Electric Company $5 Preferred Stock;

(c) Five new "Rights" to purchase Class A and Common Stock of Associated Gas and Electric Company.

Bail Fixed as Jury Refuses to Hold Radio Man

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Following closely upon the action of the grand jury in failing to indict Laurence P. Tulloch, charged by the police with the murder of Mrs. Gertrude Hawkins Lavine, young divorcee, Police Judge Lazarus today admitted Tulloch to bail. Bail was fixed at $5000 bonds or $1500 cash.

The grand jury held there is insufficient evidence for an indictment, but Judge Lazarus held there is "sufficient cause" to retain the police charge.

Tulloch, an employee of a radio broadcasting studio here, was arrested following the shooting of Mrs. Lavine in his cottage. He contends the shooting was accidental.

Arizona Prison's Head Loses Plea

PHOENIX, Nov. 26. (AP)—Lorenzo Wright, Arizona prison superintendent, was denied rehearing of his habeas corpus application, in an order entered in State Supreme Court here today, making operative the judgment of Judge Phelps of Maricopa county, sentencing Wright to pay a fine of $1000 or go to jail for six months for contempt of court.

The prison head was charged with disobeying the sentence of Phelps's court by allowing a prisoner to live outside the penitentiary walls.

WIFE MUST PAY HER OWN FROCK BILL

London Court Rules That Sir James Heath Needn't Settle Aviatrix's Debt

LONDON, Nov. 26. (AP) — Sir James Heath will not have to pay at least one clothes bill of his wife, Lady Heath, noted British air woman, who is in the United States just now.

In an action against the husband and wife by a London dressmaker to recover £239 (about $1200) for clothing, the court today gave judgment against Lady Heath with costs. Sir James, however, won his case against paying the bill.

In giving judgment, Justice Talbot said that he was clearly of the opinion and that Sir James had not given his wife authority to pledge his credit and that he had made ample provision for her. Sir James recently advertised in London papers that he would not be responsible for further debts contracted by Lady Heath.

Censura a las Mujeres y se Gana una Rechifla

LONDRES, Noviembre 26.—Las feministas de Inglaterra se han levantado en coro a ridiculizar y atacar las afirmaciones de J. H. Thomas, Lord del Sello Privado y ministro de Empleos, quien dijo que no era ni equitativo ni económico que las mujeres británicas trabajaran, salvo en caso de absoluta necesidad, pues que, al hacerlo, les quitan acomodo a los menesterosos.

Lady Rhonda, consejera de treinta compañías, replicó lo siguiente: "Es de extrañar que el señor Thomas, socialista, recomiende la ociosidad para una fracción de la comunidad. Es ridículo decir que las mujeres, al trabajar, vayan contra los intereses de la nación.

"Cada persona, o trabaja, o la mantiene alguna otra. Mi propia experiencia en los negocios es que pocas son las mujeres que buscan en ellos tan sólo dinero para alfileres. La mayoría de ellas trabajan porque necesitan ganar dinero."

Poincaré se Mejora con la Operación

PARIS, Noviembre 26.—Un boletín publicado hoy por los médicos del ex-primer ministro, señor Poincaré, dice que el paciente se ha restablecido completamente de los efectos de dos recientes operaciones. Agregan que es extremadamente importante que le vuelva a molestar en lo futuro la dolencia que hizo necesaria la intervención quirúrgica.

Fueron Halladas las Memorias de un Patriota Cubano

LA HABANA, Noviembre 26.—Unos documentos que andaban perdidos, escritos por José Martí, apóstol de la libertad cubana, fueron hallados ayer, tras haberlos buscado largo tiempo el gobierno cubano, en los archivos de la prisión de la Habana, donde tuvieron preso los españoles a Martí. Esos papeles, en los que constan las memorias de la vida de cárcel del héroe citado, van a publicarse pronto, según se dice.

Mujer que se Burla de Nuestro Viejo Padre Cronos

KANSAS CITY, Noviembre 25.—No es la señora Emma McMahon, de Kansas City, sino cuarenta y cinco años más joven que los Estados Unidos, y el otro día, en que sus amigos fueron a felicitarla por su centésimo octavo natalicio, la encontraron trabajando, como de costumbre. Esta mujer, entrada desde hace ocho años en su segundo siglo de vida, cose remiendos de ropa de hombres en las "Goodwill Industries," institución de beneficencia situada en bulliciosa calle céntrica. No hace más que tres años que, un día, para sostener una apuesta, se levantó la falda y saltó la comba como una rapaza.

"Claro está que no iba a dejarme ganar", exclamó hoy la anciana al recordar el curioso incidente. Y agregó luego en voz más baja: "No las tenía todas conmigo, y no sabía si iba a poder brincar o no."

Perdió su Dinero, Pero Salvó su Pudor

WHITE PLAINS (Nueva York), Noviembre 26.—Kierman Wallace, propietario de hotel, se bañaba hoy, cuando acertó a oir extraño ruido en su alcoba. Bien enjabonado, y chorreando agua, se salió de la bañera para atisbar hacia su cuarto, en el que vio, con horror, que un extraño le sacaba de la faltriquera del pantalón una cartera con $200. El intruso alzó la cara, vio a Wallace, y soltó la risa.

"Anda, ven a seguirme", le gritó, abriendo al mismo tiempo la puerta, y poniéndose en fuga.

Wallace no aceptó la invitación.

El Cine Deleita a los Soldados

WASHINGTON, Noviembre 26.—Las vistas de cine están sirviendo de gran recreo a los militares, y el ministro de la Guerra está ampliando sus facilidades para proporcionar a los soldados esta clase de diversión.

En su informe anual al ministerio, dice hoy el ayudante general C. H. Bridges que durante el año fiscal próximo pasado se dieron en los teatros de las guarniciones militares 14,941 funciones completas, a las que concurrieron 3,830,548 espectadores. Además de esto, fueron obsequiados en forma igual 35,000 pasajeros de transportes militares.

Emocionantes Aventuras Relatadas en un Juicio de Divorcio

Al presentarse ayer la señora Ignacia Sierra ante el juez superior Hazlett solicitando divorciarse de Luis G. Sierra por motivos de crueldad, súpose que el marido, ex-oficial del ejército mejicano, había presentado una respuesta, que se antoja capítulo de alguna emocionante novela de aventuras, pues da en ella íntimos pormenores de los deslices amorosos de su esposa con oficiales mejicanos.

Narra Sierra que sirvió con el general Estrada en la revolución delahuertista, y, fracasada ésta, vino a los Estados Unidos en 7 de Abril de 1924.

Su mujer le acusa de haberla cortado la mano con unas tijeras, y de tener celos locos de ella.

Aunque las declaraciones del marido son pormenorizadas y están cuidadosamente escritas, el juez Hazlett continuará la vista para dejar que el abogado de Sierra, Joseph R. Marquette, presente su escrito en la forma que exigen las leyes de California.

HIGH HONORS CALL TO JUVENILE EXPERT

Dr. Miriam Van Waters

NATION BIDS OFFICER OF CHILD COURT

Dr. Van Waters Asked by Wickersham to Join Law Enforcement Study Group

Dr. Miriam Van Waters, referee of the girls' section of Los Angeles county Juvenile Court, has been selected to serve on the juvenile division of President Hoover's National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement, and her appointment now is dependent only on her success in obtaining a year's leave of absence from her work here.

This was disclosed yesterday in a letter received by Juvenile Court Judge Scott from George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's commission.

The honor conveyed on Dr. Van Waters, for years a close student of the problems of juvenile delinquency, is considered a signal one, in that Chairman Wickersham's letter states that it was only after a careful canvass that "the decision was reached that every effort should be made to obtain Miss Van Waters for our work."

Dr. Van Waters has indicated her willingness to undertake the work provided she can get the year's leave. The work of the commission will be national in its scope, and it is not believed it can be accomplished in less than a year.

It is not expected Dr. Van Waters will encounter any difficulty in obtaining the leave, not only because her services are so earnestly requested by Chairman Wickersham, but also because the county juvenile authorities feel she can perform a greater service in giving her time to the national study than she can by remaining in Los Angeles.

Judge Scott has conferred informally with a number of Superior Court judges and has written the civil service commissioners and the Board of Supervisors requesting that she be granted a leave of absence. It is proposed to appoint an acting referee to serve during Dr. Van Waters's absence at the regular salary of $250 a month instead of the beginning salary of $200 a month, as it is expected Dr. Van Waters will return to her post here upon completion of her work with the national commission.

The matter will be presented to the Civil Service Commission this afternoon, while it is expected the Board of Supervisors will act on Dr. Van Waters's request Monday.

CITY OF ANGELS TO GIVE THANKS

Southland Metropolis Will Offer Ample Program

Church Services, Parade and Grid Games Slated

Children's Street Pageantry to Attract Throngs

Forty-five union church services under the auspices of the Church Federation, a downtown parade for children, football games, motor trips to beaches and mountains, free dinners to homeless and unemployed persons and the demolition of turkey by hundreds of thousands will make tomorrow one of the grandest Thanksgiving days in the history of Los Angeles.

School children will have three days this week in which to rest from their studies. All banks and public offices will be closed. There will be no mail deliveries nor postoffice business transacted and the Central Library and all its branches will be closed.

Lovers of sports will find special interest in two major football games, one between University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Montana at the Coliseum and the other between Loyola College and Santa Clara College at Wrigley Field, both at 2:15 p.m.

CHILDREN TO PARADE

Thousands of children from all over the Southland are expected to attend the parade which has been arranged by the Christmas Festival Committee of Los Angeles. The parade, which will be a mile long, will be featured by floats, bands, the Merry-merry Workers, clowns, animals, dwarfs, giants and Santa Claus himself. The procession will start at Twelfth street and Broadway and will proceed north on Broadway to Tenth street, to Main, to Ninth, to Spring, to First, to Broadway, to Ninth, to Hill, to Fifth, to Olive, to Seventh, to Flower, to Twelfth and thence to the starting point.

Mrs. David Covell, acting superintendent of the Midnight Mission on South Los Angeles street, announced yesterday that a free dinner will be served at the Mission tomorrow from 1 p.m. until midnight. In addition to hundreds of other religious services a special service will be conducted by Brigadier J. C. Bell at Salvation Army Temple, 832 West Ninth street, at 10 a.m. Nearly all Catholic, Episcopal and Lutheran churches will conduct special services, the outstanding meeting for the Catholics being the solemn high mass at St. Vibiana's Cathedral at 10 a.m. At St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral special praise services will be conducted at 7:30 a.m. and 10 a.m. Christian Science churches of Los Angeles always have been filled to capacity on Thanksgiving Day and indications are that tomorrow will be no exception to the rule.

UNION SERVICES

In point of attendance, the greatest union service probably will be the central district service at First Methodist Church. The program will begin at 10:45 a.m. with Dr. E. E. Helms presiding. Invocation will be offered by Dr. W. L. Parkins, pastor of First United Brethren Church and the Scripture lesson will be read by Dr. W. S. Dysinger of First English Lutheran Church. Dr. Hugh K. Walker of First Presbyterian Church will speak in behalf of the Church Federation. The President's proclamation will be read by Dr. R. Ernest Lamb, pastor of First Friends Church, and the Thanksgiving sermon will be preached by Dr. John Snape, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, whose subject will be, "The Christian Attitude Toward War." Benediction will be pronounced by Dr. Carl S. Patton of First Congregational Church.

LAW FORCES PLAN DRIVE ON OUTLAWS

City and County Peace Officials Join to Combat Winter Crime Invasion

Final plans for the most comprehensive offensive against criminals ever attempted in Los Angeles county were completed last night at a conference between the heads of the four major law enforcement units at a meeting in the offices of Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

The movement, described as a drive against the winter invasion of criminals, will begin immediately in a thorough investigation to be followed by an intensive drive and a thorough combing of the city and county. Close co-operation of the Sheriff's forces, the Los Angeles police, the City Prosecutor's office and the District Attorney, were assured after the details were discussed and the specific work of each of the departments outlined.

Special attention will be paid by the combined forces to arson, murder, gunmen, burglary, narcotics, automobile thefts, check kiters, jewelry thieves, pick-pockets and shoplifters, it was announced.

"It is the greatest co-operative plan ever outlined for the suppression of the criminal," said Chief of Police Davis.

"We are going after the organized criminal in an organized way," Fitts said in explaining the sense of the meeting and announcing that future conferences will be held by the heads of the four co-operating departments.

"There are three cardinal objects in the co-ordinated plan. First, drive out the gangster. Second, get convictions against known criminals. Third, harass the criminals in the county until they are forced to leave," the District Attorney said.

Officials present included Mayor Porter, Dist.-Atty. Fitts, City Prosecutor Nix, Police Commissioners Thorpe, Drake, Coe and Pierce, Foreman of the Grand Jury De Garmo, Chief of Police Davis, Undersheriff Wright and Chief Criminal Deputy Dewar, Chief of Detectives Taylor, Chief Investigator O'Brien, Dep. MATES TO BEAR ACTOR TO TOMB

Noted Players Named as Honorary Pallbearers at Hitchcock Funeral Today

Included in the list of stage folk who will serve as honorary pallbearers at the funeral of Raymond Hitchcock, veteran musical-comedy star, at 11 a.m. today at Hollywood Cemetery chapel, will be such old-time favorites as Joe Weber, Lew Fields, De Wolfe Hopper, Louis Mann, Edmund Breese, Robert Edeson, William Collier and James Bradbury, Sr.

A note of sadness was heard on the Thanksgiving revel of the Masquers last Sunday night that deeply touched the hearts of all present. Just as Sam Hardy, president, was introducing as guests of honor Weber and Fields, Collier, Hooper and Mann, word came of the passing away of Hitchcock in Beverly Hills at almost the identical minute his life - long friends of the theatrical world were taking their bow.

At the services this morning Dr. M. M. Mangasarian, father of Mrs. Hitchcock, Flora Zabel of stage fame, will deliver the eulogy.

Hearing Held on Taxicab Plea

The application of the Peerless Cab Company for fifty more taxicab permits, which has been pending for several weeks before the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, was heard yesterday and taken under advisement by the board.

BLAZE AT SIGNAL HILL DOES $50,000 DAMAGE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SIGNAL HILL, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Flames tonight swept the southeastern slope of Signal Hill, destroying five derricks and ten oil storage tanks, with an estimated loss of $50,000. Two men were burned, one of them critically, in the explosion which threw burning oil over the tank farm and gave rapid spread to the flames. The critically burned man is Fred Strong, a pumper employed by the Conductors' Oil Company. He was sent to Community Hospital, Long Beach. Deputy Sheriff Walter Mason of 414 Woodbury street, Los Angeles, was burned less seriously while trying to rescue Strong.

The burned derricks were those of Gerner No. 1, South Basin-Davis-Macmillan No. 1, Davis-Macmillan No. 9, Petroleum Securities-Davis-Macmillan No. 1 and Conductors' Oil Company No. 1. The tanks which were burned with their contents were those of Conductors' Oil Company, the Jergins Syndicate, Davis - Macmillan Company and the Sovereign Oil Company. The five derricks which were burned were on one producer, two drilling wells and two wells on which drilling was about to be started. They were located at Temple avenue and Twenty-first street, Signal Hill.

Deputy Sheriff Mason reported that the fire originated when a storage tank of the Conductors' company became overheated by steam and a seam allowed seepage of oil, which became ignited by a boiler. Mason was hurrying to warn Strong when the oil exploded, throwing flame over the pumper and over the tank farm.

For more than an hour the fire lighted up Signal Hill in spectacular style. Flames were fought by firemen of Signal Hill, Long Beach and the oil companies and were controlled after an hour's battle.

OLD JULIAN ASSETS GROW

Company That Salvaged Remnants After Oil-Stock Debacle Shows Increase of $2,369,351.32

Assets of the Sunset Pacific Oil Company, reconstructed from the former Julian Petroleum Corporation, have increased $2,369,351.32 since a Federal court receivership appraisal in May, 1927, according to President H. L. Carnahan's report, which was released yesterday to 35,000 stockholders.

When Carnahan and Joseph Scott took over the concern after the Julian stock debacle, Col. Fred E. Foster appraised the properties at $12,632,889.78. Yesterday's report from April 15 to September 30, last, shows the total assets to be $15,002,241.10.

Although the consolidated balance sheet shows a loss of $122,399.09 up to August 31, the profits of September of $42,880.90 reduced the loss figure to $79,518.19, and the president says he is informed that profits continually accruing in October and the current month will wipe out entirely that deficit.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED

While President Carnahan's report shows the total assets of the company are $15,002,241.10, the total current assets are $2,539,348—more than two for one of the current liabilities at $1,226,789, which is required to be maintained under the trust indenture securing the outstanding bonds.

"The facts set forth," the report says, "make it obvious that if the company continues as an independent concern, no distribution of dividends on stock is probable for several years. A reasonable surplus necessarily must be accumulated to anticipate the sinking fund obligations beginning two years hence on the bonds, unless meanwhile, they shall have been retired through some other arrangement.

"Added modern refining equipment, more distributing deposits and service stations, pipe-line extensions, a loading barge to serve the harbor terminal, and other capital investments, urgently are necessary if the company is to be put into a position, through its business, to make the stock outstanding of substantial value. Any amount robbed from such purposes for dividends will cripple that effort.

AS TO SELLING OUT

"In the general trend of the oil industry toward consolidations into larger operating units, the opportunity for a merger or sale on favorable terms may arise. Nevertheless, in anticipation of any such prospect, the property and business, meanwhile, must be maintained, and, if possible, built up, to be an attractive acquisition to such possible bidders."

In the loss statement President Carnahan's report says that the fig-

MAYOR URGES DEPOT PARLEY

City-Railroad Conference on Situation Proposed

Council Approval Indicated for Terminal Confab

It May be Delayed, However, Until State Court Acts

Advising that Los Angeles be not discouraged in its effort to obtain a union passenger terminal Mayor Porter yesterday proposed that the city and railroads confer to see whether they can get together on the subject.

"I have just been informed," he said in a communication to the City Council, "that the Supreme Court of the United States has just handed down a decision which holds in effect that the Interstate Commerce Commission has not the power to order the building of a union passenger depot in this city.

"This decision should not discourage us in endeavoring to secure for the residents of Los Angeles a suitable union passenger station.

"With your co-operation I believe it might be productive of good results immediately to contact the executives of the various railroads interested, with the suggestion that they meet with a committee representing the city and discuss a possible solution to this problem, which would be mutually satisfactory to the city and the railroads. Your approval will be appreciated."

APPROVAL INDICATED

In the short discussion, during which the Council referred the message to its Public Utilities Committee, the members appeared to give hearty approval to the project of solving the question which has faced Los Angeles for many years.

The Public Utilities Committee is comprised of Councilman Davis, chairman; President Sanborn and Councilman Randall. Davis said the committee will get in touch with Mayor Porter at once and work out a plan with him.

"I am glad to see Mayor Porter take this stand for a union station," Jess E. Stephens, long an attorney-champion of the plan, said. "It adds his administration to all the rest and makes an unbroken line of city administrations that have worked for the union station. It means that he is not going to see all the work of the others go for naught.

"If Mayor Porter could get the railroads to give up their long opposition to the union station, it would be an achievement that would make his administration an outstanding one in the history of this long struggle. It would be an accomplishment that could be pointed to with pride by everyone for generations to come."

A representative of the railroads, who declined to be quoted, said the executives of the carriers undoubtedly will be glad to participate in such a conference, but he said the conference probably will not be advisable until after the California Supreme Court has decided the union-passenger terminal case now before it.

COUNTER-PROPOSAL

In that case, the right of the State to order the station built may be determined. At least an effort may be made to get that question squarely before the court for a determination in view of the decision Monday that the Federal commission has no such authority. A conference of the State Railroad Commission, the order of which to the roads to build the station is questioned by the carriers in the case before the State Supreme Court, is expected to take place in San Francisco early next week to see what should be done about getting the new aspect into the pending case.

The railroads have proposed to build a new Santa Fe station and to improve the joint Espee Union Pacific station as a countermove to the union station proposal. One of their main arguments has been that litigation has got the city no union station whereas they stand ready immediately to build the two stations if the city will stop trying to get a union station.

Every city administration in the past, however, has rejected this proposal as merely one to sidetrack the

SHE ASKS FREEDOM FROM FLORIDA MAN

Mildred Harris

MATE SUED BY EX-WIFE OF CHAPLIN

Second Nuptial Venture of Actress Goes on Rocks After Five Years

Mildred Harris Chaplin McGovern, former wife of Charles Chaplin, yesterday filed suit for divorce against her second husband, Everett Terrence McGovern, charging desertion. The action was filed in Superior Court for Mrs. McGovern by Attorney J. Owen Frankel.

It is set forth in the complaint that the couple were married November 29, 1924, and that McGovern deserted the plaintiff October 30, 1926. The complaint ends with a petition for custody of a minor child, Everett John McGovern, 4 years of age.

Mrs. McGovern, known professionally first as Mildred Harris and later as Mildred Harris Chaplin, was herself an actress of some note for many years prior to her marriage to the screen comedian. She attained fame as a child actress with the old New York Motion Picture Company during the early days of film production, and later as a leading woman.

Following her divorce from Chaplin, she appeared on the vaudeville stage and then returned to the screen. She kept her marriage to McGovern secret until April, 1925. McGovern is a former golf professional.

Police Officers Make Request for Overcoats

Dark blue dress overcoats for police officers came up for consideration of the Police Commission yesterday. Cool nights, following warm days, are reported to be causing the officers to shiver on their beats and for the first time overcoats may become part of the uniform of the Los Angeles police.

The commission questioned Chief Davis, who said there has been much discussion over the matter. He suggested that the members of the commission attend one of the meetings of the police captains and talk it over with them.

The commission agreed to take the matter up with the captains and was referred to Deputy Chief Cross, who has charge of the arrangements for such a meeting. Officers buy their own uniforms.

LIGHT-BILL CUT ASSURED

Gas and Electric Company at Rate Hearing Tells Plans to Save Users $737,571 Next Year

Consumers of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation electricity, both domestic and commercial, will save approximately $737,571 on their light bills during 1930. This was indicated by the corporation's representatives at yesterday's continued investigation by the State Railroad Commission into the rates and practices of the public utility.

Herman Phleger, special counsel for the corporation, opened the hearing by directing an attack on J. E. McCaffery, commission electrical rate engineer, and continued in the afternoon by assailing the figures submitted by L. E. Torrey, State valuation expert.

"The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation's offer, made to the commission two weeks ago by its president to reduce its electric rates to a level with those announced by the municipal system for 1930, still stands, and the company plans to make that reduction," Phleger explained during a recess.

DENIAL VOICED

"We do not intend to fight any order the commission may make for that kind of a reduction but we are determined to discover the foundation on which the commission's engineers base their claims of large earnings by the company during 1930, 1931 and 1932. We deny that the witnesses' figures are correct or that our earnings or property valuations for these years will even approximate their figures."

Phleger attacked McCaffery's testimony to the effect that, even with the contemplated reduction, the corporation's earnings for the next three years will be in excess of what the commission has announced as its estimate of a fair return for utilities of this kind.

There was no indicated change in the corporation's attitude toward the commission's inquiry into its domestic and commercial gas rates, however, and the expressed declaration of its attorney at the hearing two weeks ago that it will fight any showing of excessive earnings in this department apparently stood yesterday. The gas angle of the commission's investigation will not be brought up, however, until today's session.

FIREWORKS START

City Attorney Werner injected fireworks late in the afternoon into what up to that time had been a somewhat humdrum hearing at which State's witnesses droned out figures running into the millions. Werner, representing, as he explained, the people of the city of Los Angeles, attempted to file a formal complaint against the Los An-

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

I DON'T see why the press should speak of Miss Dorothy Dalton as "Dimpled Dorothy" . . . upon her return to Hollywood to take up her picture work again.

It is true that Miss Dalton has an alluring barranquita in one of her cheeks; but she is anything but a dimpled darling. On the screen she stood for vitality and force. "The Flame of the Yukon," which made her reputation, was one of the most vital pictures ever filmed. She could do worse than make it again as a talkie.

A USELESS FORT

Senator Warren of Wyoming was a statesman of high ability, but he had one fad which the Senate had to humor. That was his pet army post—Fort D. A. Russell.

Upon his insistence it has grown to be one of the largest posts in the Army, and certainly the most useless. It is about as valuable to our scheme of national defense as a lipstick or a monogrammed fountain pen would be to a fighting pit bulldog.

WHEN RAIN FAILED

The Weather Bureau says this is the dryest autumn since the bureau was established, in 1849. Before that, however, was a period during which the country almost perished for want of rain.

I think it was in 1841-1843. South of Redondo Beach is a high cliff over which one of the old rancheria families stampeded a whole herd of horses; drove them over the cliffs into the sea to save them from the cruelty of dying for want of water.

As the world becomes filled with enormous cities water will be a great problem. It is the belief of scientists that—1000 years hence—it will be necessary to build great aqueducts to the perpetual snows of the Arctic region.

THE FLAME FIEND

The most terrible riddle that the West has to solve is the forest fire. There's no use kidding ourselves about it; every year the fires grow worse and the defensive measures do not grow better.

To the naked eye there seems to be no good reason why every cavalry regiment in the Army—and most of the infantry—should not go on patrol duty in the forests.

The need of watersheds in the West would seem to be of higher importance than keeping the troops at useless posts where local merchants can sell them pork chops and hay. That's the reason why most of them are where they are.

THIS WILL HELP

It's an encouraging sign that the new President of Mexico is a golf player. Golf uses up a lot of tempestuous emotion.

FUTURE EMPIRES

A dispatch says that the Governor of Nevada is in Washington to explain to the President the needs of his State for water and power from the Boulder Dam.

That's it. Nobody knows what the needs of Nevada may be.

No problem that has come before the President in the life of this nation has called for so much vision and foresight as the distribution of the waters of the Colorado River.

It is no less than planning the empire that will live on those western plains and mesas 500 years from now.

Police Seek Motive in Shooting of Best Friend by Sportsman During Family Quar

VICTIM GIVEN SLIGHT HOPE

Maj. Bird Denies Triangle Enters Into Affair

Three Versions of Affair Much Alike

Accused Says He Thought Shells Were Blank

While his "best friend," Percival G. Watson, 36 years of age, mechanical engineer, lay in a critical condition at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, and his wife, Laura, 32, was held in the County Jail as a material witness, Maj. Owen R. Bird, 42-year-old sportsman, yesterday made a lengthy detailed statement to Captain of Detectives Cato of the battle in his home at 3314 West Dahlia street, late Monday night, in which he is said to have shot Watson three times with a pistol.

In the general description of the fight his statement portrayed the struggle similarly to Watson's and the wife's version, Capt. Cato declared.

NEVER AIMED AT HIM

"I never aimed the gun at Watson," Bird is said to have declared. "I did not mean to shoot him. I had the gun in my hand, yes. But I thought it was loaded with blanks. It was a gun I had used to start races with. I never aimed the gun directly at him and pulled the trigger. It must have gone off in the struggle. I had only meant to frighten him. I don't remember everything clearly."

Bird asserted that he had never suspected that there was anything wrong in the relations between Watson and his wife and does not believe so now, according to Capt. Cato.

"Watson is an old friend of mine," he said in his statement to Cato. "I've known him for more than five years. He was overseas in the war and so was I. We had a lot of things in common. Always had a lot of good times together. Why, I always got him his season's football passes. He visited with us a great deal but I never even thought that there was anything between him and my wife. I don't believe so now."

STORIES MUCH ALIKE

Bird, Watson and Mrs. Bird all described the events preceding and subsequent to the shooting the same, Capt. Cato said. Watson was visiting at the Bird home when Bird returned late Monday night. He was described as being under the influence of liquor. Mrs. Bird, Watson said, inquired of her husband where he had been and was angry because he had been drinking. An argument arose and Bird and his wife went into the kitchen.

From this point up to the shooting there is a disagreement in the statements of the three persons. Watson stated that he saw Bird strike at his wife. Resenting this, he rushed in and struck at Bird. He missed him, he said.

Bird said that Watson struck him several times, but that he did not want to fight.

"I picked up some of my clothes and left," he said in his statement. "I ordered a taxicab and went to a home of a friend. The friend was not home so I returned. When I entered the house the second time my wife and Watson again wanted to know where I had been. I told them I had searched for a place to sleep, but not finding one returned home. I told Watson to leave. I don't just remember where I got the gun, but I used it only to frighten Watson. Then he jumped on me and we struggled. I made no attempt to get away and tried to help him after I saw he had been wounded."

BIRD HELD IN JAIL

Capt. Cato declared that he does not believe the statements of either man and that he will continue his investigation.

Bird is held in the City Jail on suspicion of assault to commit murder. His wife is held as a material witness. Watson, shot in the face, arm, and through the abdomen, has only a slight chance to recover, police surgeons say.

Children of the Birds, Eunice, 11 years of age, and Owen, 9, are being cared for by Juvenile authorities.

Bird, it is said, is widely known in local sport circles. He was at one time a star athlete at Occidental College.

Watson, according to police, is single and lived at 4926 South Gramercy Place. He is a mechanical engineer.

TWO ROSES TELL OF LOVE FOR WARREN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Two golden tea roses from an old homesteader friend of the West were placed on the casket of Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming at the funeral services in the Senate.

They were purchased by Vice-President Curtis at the request of Linden Utter, who wrote as follows:

"I inclose a dollar. Will you order for a grand old man one or two beautiful roses. Just a token of homage and esteem from the many in his State of lowly circumstance like myself. I want them to go home with him as just a bit of good-bye from us."

Utter now lives at Oak Park, Ill. He recalled the services Senator Warren did for him in the "starvation homesteading days in Wyoming."

FUGITIVE IN SHOOTING OF GIRL TAKEN

High School Student's Slaying Suspect Caught at Visalia Ordered Here

Wanted by the Sheriff's office in connection with the shooting last month of Marguerite Ollivares, La Verne High School girl, Ruperto Guiterrez was ordered returned here from Visalia yesterday. Guiterrez is asserted to have been one of the three young men riding in the car from which the shot that killed the girl was fired.

The youth was taken in custody by northern authorities on the ranch of his brother near Lindsay. He is asserted to have disappeared from his home in Pomona with Trinidad Ledesma shortly after the shooting. Ledesma is being sought as a second occupand of the car.

Miss Ollivares, 16 years of age, was shot when a car containing three Mexican youths drew up alongside that in which she was riding home from a dance with Thomas Reyes, near La Verne. One of the four shots fired struck the girl and she died three days later in the General Hospital.

Deputy sheriffs expressed the belief that the shooting resulted from a quarrel having its inception at the dance. Search for the occupants of the machine from which the shots were fired was ordered immediately by Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's homicide detail.

Deputy sheriffs recently found at the home of Guiterrez's brother a gun declared to be similar to the one used by the killer.

PLUMMER TO TELL HISTORY OF SHAWL

An old Spanish shawl worn at the historic ball in Monterey in 1850 when California was admitted to the Union will be exhibited tonight at the salon to be held at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel. It will be shown by Senor Eugene Plummer, 76-year-old Hollywood pioneer, whose mother wore it at the celebration. Senor Plummer will appear on the program, recounting his recollections of old California and telling how Hollywood received its name.

Pasadena Trio's Trial Reaches Halfway Point

Trial of Oliver K. Hearte, William J. Watson and Warren C. Earle, charged with grand theft in connection with the asserted manipulation of contracts for public improvements in Pasadena, reached the halfway mark yesterday in Superior Judge McComb's court, when the State rested its case.

The defense opened with a general motion for a dismissal, which was denied. Judge McComb, however, granted a motion to dismiss one of the two counts in so far as it applied against Watson on the ground of insufficient evidence.

Hearte, a contractor, is asserted to have planned with Earle, former City Engineer of Pasadena, and Watson, an inspector, to reap an illegal profit on a contract for sewer work in the suburban city.

The defense will proceed today with its case.

CHEST TWO-THIRDS FULL

Higher Per Capita Donations Indicate City Will Collect Full Charity Quota

Two-thirds of the Community Chest has been filled.

At what was perhaps the most enthusiastic and one of the best-attended report luncheons of the series being held in the Sala de Oro of the Biltmore, J. A. H. Kerr, campaign chairman, yesterday announced the reports of all divisions to date and indicated that the Community Chest, on the basis of the showing to date, had an excellent chance of making its quota of $3,200,000.

New subscriptions reported numbered 9614 and totaled $113,893. That brought the campaign total to $2,116,826, represented by a total of 153,230 subscriptions.

In a stirring address, Mr. Kerr predicated the probable success of the campaign on the fact that 61.29 per cent of the pledge quota of 250,000 subscriptions obtained to date must be contrasted with the fact that 66.15 per cent of the money that more money has been procured. This means, Mr. Kerr explained, that more money has been secured per capita than was expected.

DIVISION OVER TOP

Mr. Kerr further explained that one-third of the prospects to be called on by the flying squadron are yet to be seen, and that one-half of the prospects of the central division still are to be called on, and that virtually all these prospects actually contributed last year.

Figures show that the flying squatron, soliciting the city's wealthiest citizens and concerns, has obtained $666,050 from 171 prospects, or 53.28 per cent of its quota of $1,250,000. The central division has obtained $673,915 from 2777 prospects, 68.45 per cent of its quota of $984,500.

The first division in the entire campaign organization to go over the top was announced as No. 20 in the central division, headed by Russell H. Ballard, president of the Southern California Edison Company. Mr. Ballard and his committeemen obtained $35,300, and in an address made at the meeting, Mr. Ballard declared that they were going to get more.

MRS. CLARK SPEAKS

The principal speaker was Mrs. George Herbert Clark of the Board of Education. Mrs. Clark urged all Community Chest workers to visit Community Chest agencies throughout the year. She spoke of the revelatory experience that she herself had in visiting the Goodwill Industries.

Dr. James Hamilton Lash, chairman of the Hollywood division; Harry Henderson, chairman of the business districts division; Mrs. Albert Crutcher, chairman of the residential division, and E. E. Manning, chairman of the industrial division, made brief addresses.

All team captains in all residential divisions who went over the top in either their money or pledge quotas were given small silk American flags in recognition of their efforts by Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, Mrs. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Mrs. Florina Wolfstein and Mrs. Frank R. Schaefer, vice-chairmen in charge of the respective residential groups.

FLAGS DISTRIBUTED

Mrs. McCarthy gave flags to the following: Mrs. A. R. Jacks, Mrs. Ida Silver, Mrs. Fay Carnell, Mrs. A. B. Roth, Miss Grace Hecht, Mrs. E. Levin, Mrs. J. W. Condon, Mrs. C. W. Tuttle, Mrs. J. D. Cahill, Dr. and Mrs. Morris Smith, Eugene Kline, Charles Snyder, Mrs. John Hagen, Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Harold Wagner, Mrs. M. B. Blickley, Mrs. W. Blackburn, Mrs. W. A. Morrison, Mrs. Betty Rourke, Mrs. A. C. MacLeish, Mrs. Walter Storey and Miss Helen Moore.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Bledsoe gave flags to the following: Mrs. Nellie Dean Graham, Mrs. Henry Broeck, Mrs. Stephen C. Marshutz, Mrs. J. E. Gray, Mrs. John R. Adams and Mrs. Ellen Shannon.

Mrs. Florina Wolfstein gave flags to the following: Mrs. W. L. Mann, Mrs. Jesse Larson, Mrs. J. H. Myers, Mrs. Florence Packer, Mrs. C. Denton, Mrs. A. Carey, Mrs. H. C. Knester, Mrs. Vesta D. Elder, Mr. C. M. Terry, Raymond A. Taft, Mrs. Jean Love, Mrs. A. H. Maxwell, Mrs. Eva Forney, Elizabeth Walters, F. W. Kennedy, and Miss Mary Sweeny.

Mrs. Frank R. Schaefer gave flags to the following: Miss Betty Wheat, Mrs. G. Mathews, Mr. A. Selb, Mrs. W. Ferguson, Miss Holleran, Mrs. Atwater, Mrs. Clyde Cahill, Velma Ferguson, Mrs. Elisabeth McDonald, Mrs. Seller, Mrs. Boulser, Mrs. G. L. Matthews, Mrs. L. D. Hayes, Mrs. H. G. White, Marguerite Clark, Mrs. L. W. Worth and Mrs. Frank Duval.

The ten captains with the highest number of subscriptions in the residential organization, and who therefore lead in the captains' competitive race, were announced as: J. Burnes, Thomas Commander, M. D. Walter, Jeannette Rule, Mrs. Edwin Schallert, Mrs. Jessie Larson, Mrs. W. Pollard, Mrs. W. Hollzer, Elsa Allemberg and Mrs. B. Kaplovetsky.

The next Community Chest report luncheon will be held in the Sala de Oro of the Biltmore Friday noon.

COMPLAINT SERVED ON WITHROW

Rum-war Gunman Suspect Arraigned on Charge of Murderous Assault

Edward G. Withrow, 30-year-old convicted bootlegger, yesterday was charged with assault to commit murder on the persons of Robert Murphy, San Francisco oil-company employee, and James F. (Big Dempsey) Le Gros, asserted hijacker, in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson. Withrow was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ambrose and bail set at $50,000. Preliminary hearing was set for December 3.

Murphy and Le Gros, known to police as Dempsey, were shot down near Gardner avenue and Beverly Boulevard last Friday afternoon, where they had gone, police say, to deliver a load of liquor.

Withrow's picture was identified by Murphy as that of the man who did the shooting, according to Captain of Detectives McCaleb.

Withrow surrendered to Detective Lieutenants Beyeron and Leslie in the office of Attorney Palmer. He would not admit the shooting, it was stated.

Withrow, on the day of his arrest, was to have started serving a sentence of eleven months in the County Jail following conviction on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Wright Act, and also was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court on Wright Act charges.

Murphy and Le Gros were still at the Receiving Hospital late yesterday. Police surgeons stated that both have a slight chance to recover.

Actors to Visit Newsboy Feast

Professional entertainment is to enliven the Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow at Herbert's Cafe, where 2000 newsboys are to be guests of Carlos Curtis, Jack Doyle, Tom Gallery, Deacon Pyle and others. Announced to greet the newsboys are Ruth Renick, leading woman of the Actors' Theater, Henry B. Walthall, screen and stage actor, and Joe Fuschino.

The last named was a newsboy in Denver, and now is a member of the cast of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back."

Gas Company Wins Rate Suit

Superior Judge Edmonds yesterday decided in favor of the Southern California Gas Company, in the $26,834 suit of the W. J. Latchford Company, on the assertion that it was not furnished gas at the regular 15-cent industrial rate.

The plaintiff declared that it signed a contract to pay 26 cents per 1000 cubic feet because of fraudulent representations made by an agent of the gas company. The gas company contended that the plaintiff was not given a lower rate because none such was asked.

OFFICER DRAWS TERM IN JAIL

Special Harbor Policeman Convicted as Driving Recklessly

Charles Watts, special officer on the harbor police force, was sentenced to serve twenty-five days in jail by Municipal Judge Sheldon yesterday, following his conviction by a jury on reckless driving charges. Judge Sheldon denied an appeal for probation.

County Motorcycle Officers Dismukes and Goodson testified that they chased Watts, who was weaving in and out of traffic and driving on the wrong side of the road, for nearly two miles along Harbor Boulevard before being able to overtake and arrest him. The special officer was in uniform, they declared, and was blowing his police whistle continually during the chase. He forced several cars into the ditch by his wild driving, they testified.

MACKAY'S TRIAL SET FOR FRIDAY

Judge Warne Rules Wilson Not Disqualified

Court to Order Jurors in Case Locked Up

Former Aide of Keyes Faces Charge of Bribery

Trial of Donald MacKay, chief trial deputy District Attorney during the regime of Asa Keyes, will get under way Friday in Superior Judge Wilson's court.

This was decided yesterday when Judge Warne of Tuolumne county refused to allow defense objections to the qualifications of Judge Wilson as trial judge in the case.

MacKay is charged with accepting a bribe of $7500 from Ben Getzoff, Spring-street tailor, to dismiss charges preferred two years ago against A. I. Lasker, former head of the Lasker Finance Corporation.

DEFENSE OBJECTS

Richard Cantillon, attorney for MacKay, objected to Judge Wilson hearing the case on the theory that he already had passed on the credibility of witnesses and testimony that will be used in the forthcoming trial of MacKay.

It was contended by the defense that Judge Wilson was disqualified by conducting the trial of a second indictment against Lasker, and the trial of Harold L. (Buddy) Davis, chief deputy District Attorney for Keyes. Getzoff was the principal prosecution witness in both these cases and it is expected he will be the principal witness against MacKay.

JUDGE WARNE DECIDES

MacKay filed his objections to Judge Wilson's qualifications Monday, and at that time it was stipulated Judge Warne might decide the issues yesterday.

Judge Wilson filed an answer to the objections in which he denied being disqualified by reason of hearing the Lasker and Davis cases and also denying that he already had passed on the credibility of any witnesses or testimony that might be presented in the case against MacKay. It is the duty of the trial jury, and not the judge, to pass on credibility, Judge Wilson pointed out.

Judge Warne denied the defense objections after arguments by Cantillon for the defense and Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart and Dep. Dist.-Atty. William MacKay for the prosecution.

WILL LOCK UP JURY

The case then was continued to Friday, as Judge Wilson stated he will order the jury that will try MacKay locked up nights and he did not feel it just to keep the jurors who might otherwise be chosen today confined over Thanksgiving.

Selection of the jury will get under way immediately after court convenes Friday, it was said yesterday. It is expected several days will be consumed in completing the jury.

Action Delayed in Fitts's Fight on Policewoman

Action by the Police Commission on the request by Dist.-Atty. Fitts for an investigation and removal from the police department of Mary Ross, policewoman, if it is found she made public information that May Bishop Tanner had been paroled, thereby defeating his office in efforts to trace information which might solve the murder of Dave Antink, witness in a robbery case, was held over yesterday until the commission has had a conference with Fitts.

This was the explanation of Commissioner Pierce for the board not taking immediate action requested by Attorney S. S. Hahn to exonerate the policewoman. The commission received an affidavit from an afternoon newspaper stating that the information it had published about the parole had in no manner been received from the policewoman. Attorney Hahn said he was ready to introduce proof that she knew nothing of the parole until it was published.

Council Reduces Area Included in Signal Program

Council yesterday adopted a Finance Committee report setting aside a budget appropriation of $18,000 for the laying of cables and conduits for a progressive timing system for traffic signals in the region bounded by First, Los Angeles, Ninth and San Pedro streets. The money was appropriated to provide a progressive timing system for the entire central traffic district, but the report states the money is inadequate for that purpose.

Recently Council authorized the expenditure of $48,750 for the installation of traffic signals at twenty-five new intersections, mainly in the central traffic district.

George Sunday Believed in East

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman yesterday expressed doubt that the man and woman who jumped $500 bail in Oakland last Monday following their arrest on a charge of failing to return a rented automobile are George Sunday, son of the evangelist, and Mrs. Mauryne La Salle, divorcee, wanted here on a morals charge filed on the complaint of Mrs. Harriet Sunday. Stahlman said he believes the pair are somewhere in the East.

On the possibility that the northern fugitives may yet turn out to be Sunday and his woman companion, however, the District Attorney's office ordered the search intensified in the vicinity of Oakland.

THREE EX-POLICEMEN REINSTATED ON FORCE

Three former police officers, two of whom were removed more than a year ago and one recently, were restored to duty by the Police Commission yesterday through the efforts of Attorney Paul Taylor, a former police officer. Taylor took up law after he had been injured while on duty and gratuitously takes the cases of "down-and-out" ex-police officers who he believes have not had just treatment.

Earl A. Clark, recently suspended by Chief Davis after a hearing by the police trial board, and who was acquitted in court of the charge of living with a woman not his wife, was restored on the plea of Taylor.

W. J. Grant, removed almost a year ago for disability, was restored when Taylor related how the officer had received permanent injuries to his lungs from chlorine gas in a bomb exploded by a would-be murderer. Grant entered a house to search for the man and was gassed. Taylor admitted that Grant can do but little, but in view of the fact that he was injured while on duty, Taylor contended that he was entitled to consideration.

The third man restored is A. V. Kanatcher, removed about a year ago for debts. Taylor was ready to prove, he said, that Kanatcher had owed only one bill, $131 for repair of an automobile. He said Kanatcher had expected an inheritance, on the strength of which a repair firm offered to do the work, taking the chance of getting nothing if there was no inheritance. The firm, according to Taylor, held Kanatcher's car, used it for two years and then added a storage charge to the repair bill, after which they sold the car for the bill and then executed a mechanic's lien on him. The bill is now more than paid, he said, and Kanatcher has lost a year's salary.

It was on motions by Commissioner Mark Pierce that all three were restored to duty.

JURY FINDS TEXAS GUN GIRL INSANE

Rudell Heath, Many Times in Limelight, Committed to Asylum at Norwalk

RUDELL HEATH.

Rudell B. Heath, 21-year-old Texas gun girl, yesterday was found insane by a jury in Superior Judge Wood's court. She was committed to the State Hospital at Norwalk, there to remain until her sanity is restored, at which time she will be returned to Superior Court for further proceedings.

Miss Heath technically was before the court on a charge of forgery to which she pleaded guilty several weeks ago. Following her plea she was placed in the psychopathic ward at the General Hospital for observation at the request of her attorney, S. S. Hahn.

County alienists expressed the opinion she was insane at that time, but Judge Wood said sufficient doubt existed to warrant a jury trial on the sanity issue.

Drs. Edwin Wayte, Edson Steele, Charles L. Allen and Martin G. Carter of the County Lunacy Commission all expressed the opinion Miss Heath is suffering from hallucinations of persecution creating a psychosis bordering on dementia praecox.

Miss Heath first was arrested here two years ago after she emptied a pistol at her reputed sweetheart. She became involved in several other cases in which the police were called and finally was arrested in Oklahoma on the forgery charge.

When first brought into court on the latter case, Judge Wood stated he would not grant the girl probation because of her past record. In ordering her returned to court when and if she is discharged from the State Hospital as sane, the court indicated he will take further action in the case.

Business Man in Mysterious Disappearance

Police of the missing persons detail yesterday instituted search for Frank Baumgarteker, 40 years of age, of 2320 Seventh avenue, who, according to his wife Mary disappeared Monday night, leaving no clew to his whereabouts. After dining at a downtown restaurant with his business partner, a man named Pelletier, with whom he operates the Western Grape Company at 279 North Avenue Nineteen, Baumgarteker drove away in a Cadillac car bearing license number 4-M-4631.

According to Pelletier, the missing man stated he had an appointment with some hardware dealers at Wilmington, where he expected to obtain a contract for hauling merchandise, he also conducting a transfer company at 633 Gibbons street, Wilmington. He failed to return to his home.

Baumgarteker is described as five feet eight inches in height and weighing 162 pounds, with light brown hair, gray eyes and a prominently high forehead.

SAFER TRAFFIC PLAN URGED

Damon Advocates Grade Separation and Speeding Up of Interurban Cars and Automobiles

Development of "off-surface ways" for interurban cars and the use of automobile tax funds for the elimination of grade crossings and the consequent speeding up of automobile and rail traffic were urged by George A. Damon, formerly a commissioner of the Regional Planning Commission of Los Angeles county and at present a member of the Pasadena City Planning Commission, in a talk yesterday to Los Angeles realty brokers at the realty board headquarters.

"The elevation of the Long Beach line has been delayed too long, and an engineering study should be expedited for the separation of grades for both rails and rubber along the Arroyo Seco between Los Angeles and Pasadena," Damon declared. "The Glendale tunnel tracks should be carried on an 'off-surface way' several miles out farther from the center of the city and Burbank and the San Fernando Valley should be served by high speed electric lines free from grade crossings."

TIME OPPORTUNE

The speaker declared the present is an opportune time for the discussion of the rapid transit situation due to the rendering of the recent opinion of the United States Supreme Court regarding the forcing of railways to build a union station.

"We now can start with a clear slate because the union station idea has delayed rapid transit plans for many years and many persons have refused even to consider the project until the union depot affair was settled," he said.

"Elevated railroads along the streets are very unpopular. Why build in Los Angeles what they are taking down in New York City? Downtown subway costs are prohibitive amounting to about $5,000,000 a mile.

NEW POLICY URGED

"A logical and continuous transit policy could provide us with more and wider through streets and plenty of 'by-pass' streets; more grade eliminations and more bridges; downtown rapid transit terminals; better local street-car service co-ordinated with busses, taxicabs and interurban electric lines and a consistent paving program."

Mr. Damon urged support of the amendment to the State Constitution to be voted upon in November of 1930, which will allow collection of the personal tax on automobiles when the State automobile license fee is paid.

This collection, he declared, will produce a vehicle fund from Los Angeles city of about $4,000,000 a year which could be used for transit purposes if the city had a definite community transit plan. Vehicle taxes, he asserted, are better than assessments for financing transportation facilities.

TAX NEEDED HERE

"At the present time this city sends $11,000,000 in gasoline taxes to Sacramento and gets back $1,000,000. We should not spend this money so liberally in outlying districts when we need it so badly in the city. The taxes from automobiles should be used for grade-crossing elimination. Twenty-five per cent of the automobiles of the State are in Los Angeles city and 40 per cent of the cars of the State in Los Angeles county," he declared.

Directors of the realty board at the conclusion of the meeting, elected officers for the coming year. Harold G. Ferguson was chosen president, E. Avery McCarthy, first vice-president; John Westrom, second vice-president. N. J. Cordary was re-elected treasurer and Tom Ingersoll, re-elected secretary.

They will take office on January 1, 1930, with formal inaugural ceremonies at the annual banquet of the realty board January 11.

Several additional witnesses were heard, it was learned. This inquiry was started by City Judge Neff and Chief of Police Cunningham of South Gate to determine the disposition of what is said to be a considerable sum of money never deposited in the city treasury.

The inquisitorial body also returned an indictment against an unnamed bandit suspect in an eastern city.

Perjury Trial of Pantages's Witness Delayed

Trial of Garland Biffle, charged with perjury as a result of his testimony in the trial of Alexander Pantages on a charge of attacking Eunice Pringle, was continued yesterday by Superior Judge Hardy to December 2, owing to the illness of Biffle's attorney, William Jr.

Biffle was indicted by the grand jury after he had testified as a defense witness for Pantages. It is charged he gave false testimony that he saw Miss Pringle and Nicholas Dunaev, playwright, together in the lobby of the Pantages Building on the afternoon of the asserted attack on Miss Pringle by Pantages. The State contends Dunaev was not in the building at the time.

Biffle, who was among the witnesses called by the Pantages defense counsel, was arrested as he concluded his testimony.

Jury Returns Indictment on Train Robbery

The grand jury late yesterday returned a secret indictment in connection with the wrecking and robbery of the Southern Pacific West Coast Limited train miles west of Saugus on the inst.

Shortly after the indictment was returned two deputy sheriffs whose names were withheld left the city for an unannounced destination, presumably to take the suspect into custody.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Dewar and Deputy Sheriff Brooks, captain of the Sheriff's office robbery squad, declined to reveal any details of the indictment, guarding carefully the name of the suspect as well as his present whereabouts. Rumors were current around the Sheriff's office, however, that the man believed about to be arrested has a previous criminal record.

It was the police department garage.

Hammerstein Says Offer Given Paroled Actress for Stage Contract

Arthur Hammerstein, New York stage producer, revealed in Hollywood yesterday that recently he made overtures to Dorothy Mackaye for her return to the stage. He said he was informed the terms of Miss Mackaye's parole from San Quentin prohibited her leaving the State before December 2 and she declined for that reason.

DOROTHY MACKAYE

The producer, who is in Hollywood to make talking pictures at United Artists, declared he had made arrangements to give Miss Mackaye the leading role in the road company of "Sweet Adeline," now playing on Broadway in New York. This company was to have opened in Chicago but Hammerstein later abandoned his plans for a road show of the company.

Hammerstein said yesterday he has the utmost faith and said Mackaye as an actress and said he believed at the time she could have made a comeback. He says he does not have any plans to give her a part in the future.

Miss Mackaye recently was paroled after serving a short term at San Quentin for withholding information regarding the death of her husband, Ray Raymond, stage actor, for whose death Paul Kelly, screen actor, served a sentence for manslaughter.

Hammerstein's wife, Dorothy Dalton, who soon is to return to the screen via talking pictures, offered to adopt Miss Mackaye's daughter but Miss Mackaye declined to accept the offer, Hammerstein said. He and his wife, he said, long have been friends of the actress.

HOLLYWOOD TRIO HELD IN LIQUOR CASE

Asserted Purveyors to Film Capital Bound Over to Superior Court

Harold S. Helsley, Jesse B. Helsley and John R. Evans, asserted heads of a Hollywood liquor distributing organization, were bound over to Superior Court for trial yesterday by Municipal Judge Stutsman on charges of conspiracy to violate the State liquor laws.

The men with George Herzig, similar charges against whom were dismissed by the court, were arrested on the 11th inst., when they were said to have delivered two cases of gin to A. N. Anners of the county liquor squad at La Brea avenue and Romaine street. Police Officers Hayworth and Talbert, who accompanied Anners, testified they seized six gallons of whisky and one of wine in the defendants' automobile. The charges against Herzig were dismissed when it was shown he was not in the machine which made the delivery.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Broker declares the defendants have been handling most of the liquor supply for Hollywood and for many beach clubs.

FORMER JULIAN ASSETS GROW

ure stated for the five and one-half months was substantially reduced during October, and the executive says he is advised by the accounting department that it should be more than wiped out during the current month.

The report says the company has sixty-two wells, which, prior to the recent shut-down in the Santa Fe and Signal Hill fields, were producing about 9200 barrels, but up to the 19th inst., have been curbed to 6334 barrels a day. The monthly report since May, 1927, shows that production has held up steadily. The cost per barrel of pumping and maintenance has been reduced from more than 60 cents a barrel in May, 1927, to about 40 cents last October.

ECONOMY PRACTICED

Gross production of gasoline from all sources has increased from 21,257,209 barrels during the last eight months of 1927 to 40,796,071 barrels this year up to and including last October. Gross fuel oil production from all sources reached a peak at the first of 1929 at 3,099,189 barrels.

The operating profit of the company's pipe line system has averaged $20,000 or more a month, and, the report says, by expending about $150,000 its capacity can be doubled almost.

A persistent effort is being made, the report asserts, to keep operating costs at a minimum. In the face of the interest on bonds and notes of approximately $75,000 a month, the company pay roll of $220,000 a month at May, 1927, has been pared down until that expense in the last few months is about $75,000 monthly.

ELECTION CALLED

President Carnahan's foreword to the report invites attention of the shareholders to the first annual meeting of the stockholders for the election of directors to be held in Trinity Auditorium, 847 South Grand avenue, December 10, at 10 a.m.

Proxies also have been prepared and mailed to more than 30,000 stockholders. There are a fraction more than 4,067,130 shares of stock issued and outstanding. A quorum sufficient to elect a board of directors requires a representation, in person or by proxy, of not less than 2,033,566 shares, according to the report.

The present board of directors consists of President Carnahan, C. A. Banks, Robert C. Gillis, W. P. Jeffries, Lester H. Keim, O. Rey Rule and Edwin R. Sheldon. The number of directors to be elected has been increased to eight.

The 35,000 copies of the report, weighing more than two tons, include the earliest history of the organization and stock promotion of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, which came eventually to the sensational collapse of its financial structure, and the review of the receivership that founded the Sunset Pacific Oil Company.

Screen Mother Suffers Stroke

Lydia Yeaman Titus, famous as a screen mother and for years a noted character actress, suffered a paralytic stroke on the streets in Hollywood Monday and is at the Sylvan Lodge Hospital.

Dr. Donald Cass, who is attending her, reports that she has a fighting chance to live, although her right side and face are paralyzed and she is unable to talk. She was picked up on the streets. In her purse she carried a card directing officers whom to call in case anything happened to her. She lived alone in a Hollywood apartment and apparently has no relatives. Many film folks, Reginald Denny, Fred Niblo and others, are seeing that she gets the best of care.

In 1927 she appeared in "Night Life" and in 1928 in "The Water Hole" and "Sweet Sixteen." She has been in the films for several years.

The second half of the program will be the scene in the reception room of St. Sulpice's Seminary from the third act of "Manon" by Jules Massenet.

MODE ATTACKED IN PORTER SUIT

Misdemeanor Conviction Needed, Says Scott

Court Lacks Jurisdiction, Defense Asserts

Judge Will Give Ruling on Motion Monday

If Mayor Porter is believed to have violated any of the election laws by an asserted failure to make a truthful statement of his campaign expenses, then he should be charged with a misdemeanor and be given a chance to defend himself before a jury in a criminal court, according to Joe Scott, one of the defense attorneys in the suit brought by H. H. Merrick, real estate man, to oust him, now on trial before Superior Judge Hahn. Then, if found guilty, either the ouster action, or a recall election under the city charter, is in order. The court in the present proceedings is without jurisdiction.

Such were the contentions of Scott who closed the argument yesterday on the motion made by the defense to dismiss the suit on the ground that an attempt is being made to create ingeniously a criminal background in a civil election contest action.

RULING DUE MONDAY

"They must go before a criminal court and prove he is guilty of a misdemeanor, having a trial before a jury. If his guilt is established to the satisfaction of the judge and jury, then they can come into this court with an action," Scott thundered.

"Any man, from the chief executive of a great city like Los Angeles, down to the common tramp, has this right," the lawyer continued.

Attorney Scott than declared that if every candidate for office was compelled to file a voucher of campaign expense exactly like demanded of Mayor Porter every man in office could be brought into court to explain his expense fund and the courts would be jammed for months in getting these statements clarified.

Whether the suit brought by Merrick who asserts that Mayor Porter and his admirers spent $88,000 in the primary election and $92,000 in the general election, only accounting for $23,838 in the first and $1579 in the second, will go to trial on its merits will not be known until Monday. On Monday Superior Judge Hahn will pass on the motion to dismiss which was argued by the six lawyers in the case for a day and a half. If the motion is denied the trial will then get under way with the taking of testimony from a score or more of witnesses. If it is sustained, the matter is ended.

CITATIONS TO BE STUDIED

Arguments for the motion were made by all three of the attorneys for the Mayor, Attorneys Joe Scott, W. J. Clark and George Bush.

Those who argued against the motion, representing Merrick, were Attorneys Arthur Guerin, E. H. Delorey and Roland Swaffield, the latter from Long Beach.

Officially, the trial will still be on today, with a recess on Thanksgiving Day, resumed on Friday and then a recess until next Monday morning when Judge Hahn will rule on the motion to dismiss. From now until Monday, there will be no attorneys in court, however, the time being taken up by Judge Hahn in going over the numerous citations of authorities presented to him during the course of the argument.

Attorney Swaffield was the last to present an argument on the motion to dismiss for the contestant's side of the case.

WITNESSES EXCUSED

The burden of his contention was that an action, such as begun by Merrick, is a special proceeding under the Code of Civil Procedure; that this section of the law provides, or rather authorizes the court to oust an elected official if that officer, in the election, committed any crime against the election franchise.

"The code doesn't say 'convicted of any crime,' but 'has committed any crime,'" Attorney Swaffield argued.

Attorneys for Merrick are attempting to bring Porter into court on a Penal Code section and prosecute him under a section of the Civil Code, is the argument of the attorneys for the Mayor.

All witnesses in the case have been excused by Judge Hahn until 10 a.m. Monday.

EYES OF AGE AND YOUTH SELDOM CAN SEE ALIKE

Before you take upon yourself the task of bringing up the children of any of your relatives you had better placate your neighbors of the community, Dr. Julia Riddle reflected yesterday with a touch of resentment.

Dr. Riddle and her sister, Dr. Adelaide Riddle, were removed as guardians of their grandniece, Julia Colvin, 19-year-old college student, who was permitted by Superior Judge Crail Monday to select her own guardian. The sisters denied yesterday that they were too severe in bringing the girl up.

GUARDIAN HURT

There were tears in Dr. Julia Riddle's eyes as she reviewed the story of the efforts of herself and her sister to bring Julia up. They wanted her to be a school-teacher. They wanted her to graduate from college. By that time, they thought, she would be able to see for herself what her aunts have been doing for her and would not go to pieces, as it were.

"Julia's mother was married three times," said Dr. Riddle. She died about a year ago. Six years before that Julia, her brother and a half-sister, came to us.

"I saw in Julia certain characteristics that would require direction to help her through life if she was to be anybody. I determined to keep her under my thumb. When she came to us at the age of 11 years, she had not been through even the first grade at school. We put her in the public schools here. She studied. She went through high school and made her credits.

ENTERS UNIVERSITY

She then went to the University of California at Los Angeles. She got through the first semester all right, but in the second semester trouble began.

"It is not true that we had denied her the company of boy friends," Dr. Riddle said. "I told her if she met a nice boy she liked she could bring him home. She could have a beau, although I felt that it were better that she did not have one the first year in college. It is not true that she was denied pretty clothes. She had all we could afford. Dancing? Yes, we forbid her to go to dances, because, as a physician, I believe that dancing starts young people like that on the road to perdition. But we let her take folk dancing, although we did not entirely approve of it.

BEGINS TO SLIP

"In her second semester she began to fail. I went to her faculty adviser, Miss Collins. At her suggestion I had arranged for Julia to take a room in a dormitory, although we felt it was not the best thing for her, that she would get away from our influence. She did not wait for arrangements to be completed, but left with her clothes.

"She roomed at a dormitory. She was given there a blue silk bedspread and fancy pillows. It went to her head. It lured her from us. Whether my contention is true can be judged by the fact that after making her grades the first semester when living with us, she was dismissed from college because of failure in the second period.

"Now the judge has permitted her to select a guardian—one whom she has been associated with. That's the end of it."

MINSTREL SEES WEE KIRK HERE

Scottish Stage Star Pleased With Idea

Miss Greta Lauder, Sir Harry Lauder and Matt Lauder

A FAMILY reunion amid scenes reminiscent of their native Scotland was held by the Lauder family yesterday at the new Wee Kirk o' the Heather in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. The guests were Sir Harry Lauder, Scottish minstrel, and his niece, Miss Greta Lauder, who accompanies her uncle on his globe-trotting tours. The host was Matt Lauder, Sir Harry's brother, a resident of Los Angeles and custodian of the new Scottish church.

Sir Harry and his niece spent an hour inspecting the new kirk, which is a replica of the little Scottish church at Glencairn, Dumfrieshire, where Annie Laurie worshiped during her lifetime.

"It is quite marvelous," he said. "By doing this Southern California has preserved a historic structure. Surely the hearts of Britons and Americans are beating in unison when you love our Annie Laurie sufficiently to reconstruct her church here on the Pacific Coast."

SAVING ON LIGHT BILLS ASSURED

geles Gas and Electric Corporation with a demand that the commission forthwith order a reduction in gas rates, pending the final adjudication of the rate case by the commission.

Phleger was on his feet at once, voicing protests against Werner's action, declaring that such a complaint was out of place and demanding that, in case of its recognition by the commission, it be set down for regular hearing at a future date. When Commissioner Carr informed the City Attorney that the complaint could not be accepted and made a part of the present rate hearing by him, Werner demanded that Carr issue an order forthwith commanding the corporation to show cause why an immediate reduction in gas rates should not be made an order of the State body. Here again Werner was defeated, the commissioner informing him that such a demand would have to be made to the State Railroad Commission as a whole in the routine manner.

The proposed reduction in electric light rates by the public utility, as based on reductions announced by the municipal system, will be apportioned as follows: Domestic lighting, $282,490; commercial lighting, $453,074; power, $22,007. The reduction for domestic lighting will net the individual consumer a saving of approximately $1 and the reduction in the commercial rate will net a saving of approximately $2 a year, it was explained by Phleger.

It was indicated that at today's session the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, through its attorneys, will present witnesses who, by testimony, will attempt to controvert the testimony of the commission's experts as to property valuations, reproduction costs, fixed charges and gross and net earnings.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PLAN CHARITY BALL

The Southern California chapter of Knights of Columbus, embracing twenty-eight councils, will give a ball Tuesday evening, next, at the El Patio ballroom, it was announced yesterday. Pat O'Malley, motion-picture actor, will be master of ceremonies and introduce a number of prominent players to whom invitations have been extended. The committee in charge is headed by Pat Smith of Hollywood council, and includes William Wilson, M. S. McEniry, Ed Healy, Pat Robinson and R. J. Herzig. Special trains are being reserved to bring members from near-by towns. Proceeds of the ball will be devoted to the welfare work of the chapter and the maintenance of its free employment bureau.

TRUCKMAN ACCUSED IN OFFICER'S DEATH

Edward J. Nusser, truck driver, was charged with manslaughter in a complaint issued by the District Attorney's office yesterday. Nusser is asserted to have been the driver of a truck which collided with a motorcycle operated by J. M. Black, county motorcycle officer, the 22nd inst., at Aliso and Vignes streets. Black died at the Receiving Hospital a short while later. At a Coroner's inquest Saturday the jury found the accident due to lack of proper precaution on the part of the driver of the truck and negligence on the part of the company in sending out the truck in an unsafe condition.

Angelus Temple Seceder Will Head Campaign to Build Cathedral Here

That secessionists from Angelus Temple will put on a campaign following the return of Rev. John Goben, former assistant pastor of the Echo Park church, from the East, to build a tabernacle in Los Angeles, was the statement yesterday by Goben.

He will open a campaign at Enid, Okla., early in December, he stated yesterday, and then will go to St. Louis. He will return here following the meetings, he said, and start the local campaign.

"I have just returned from a trip in the East," said Goben yesterday. "I learned that friends of years' standing believe I was discharged as general supervisor of the Four Square Gospel lighthouses and that I, out of revenge, instigated a grand jury investigation. I was not discharged by Mrs. McPherson, but resigned of my own accord following a disagreement with her on October 2. I have no feeling of revenge against Mrs. McPherson."

Extension for Wilshire Asked by Petitioners

A lengthy petition, asking the City Council to initiate proceedings for the opening of Wilshire Boulevard as an eighty-foot street, from its present terminus at Figueroa street to Grand avenue, was filed with City Clerk Dominguez late yesterday by Dana L. Latham.

The project will cost about $5,000,000 in condemnations. It runs between Sixth and Seventh streets, and will provide another westerly outlet for downtown traffic. The petition contains the names of considerably more than a majority of the property owners involved, both frontage and assessment district.

Power Bureau Lineman Dies in Accident

Accidental contact with high-tension electric wires and a fall to the pavement brought almost instant death to Hugo Leckband of 1833 Adair street last night, according to police reports.

Leckband, 32 years of age, a lineman of the Bureau of Power and Light, was making some emergency repairs to the power lines at One Hundred and Fifteenth and Figueroa streets. He is believed to have been knocked from the pole to the street below. Police could find no eyewitnesses to the death, but his skull was fractured. Surgeons at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital pronounced his death due to electric shock and skull fracture.

The body was taken to the County Morgue, where an inquest will be held today.

WATCH THE PONIES

About the first thing Harry Sinclair did on being freed from jail was to select a new trainer for his racing stable. Business is to be full speed ahead and he is determined to have a run for his money.

THE THING EXPECTED

In a foreign divorce case it was shown that the wife's relatives thought the husband was a millionaire because he had been a Los Angeles realtor. They thought there was no way he could escape the brand. This is a little optimistic, but the world is assured that not all the operators here are millionaires. We have so many of them that some are certain to miss fire.

NO USE FOR RUSSIA

Representatives of the Conservative party in England are bitterly opposed to the official recognition that has finally been accorded to the soviet government in Russia. Commander Oliver Locker Lampson, one of the stalwart Conservatives in the British Parliament, has been very bitter in his denunciation of the Labor Ministry for this step. It doesn't look as if the Conservatives are going to be much help to Ramsay MacDonald.

SCHOOL FOR DIPLOMACY

It is mentioned that the late Judge Edwin Parker of the Mixed Claims Commission left the bulk of his $2,000,000 estate for the creation of a school of diplomacy. The presumption is that it will be at Washington, where the judge resided and where American diplomacy has its fount. The State Department encourages adepts and enthusiasts to accept diplomacy as a career and the service is no longer subject to political explosions and upheavals.

GREETINGS AND SALUTATIONS

Roger Babson has scolded the Senate and the Senators have scolded Roger. Yet the Senate adjourned without trying to perfect a tariff and this is what Babson asked. The statistician points to our Senate as the most upstanding illustration of lost motion that the history of parliaments affords. By this time it has lost confidence in itself and this leaves it with practically no defender. Such at least is the popular verdict. It would be a happy hit if the President could spank this legislative group—individually and collectively. He might do it at that.

EDUCATING ROAD HOGS

Highway hogs—the motorists who drive slowly and complacently along the middle of the road and refuse to give way to others who wish to pass them, or who pass on the right-hand side—are being given some costly lessons in courtesy in these days. Since November 20, when the new State highway traffic enforcement order went into effect, these exasperating road pests have been receiving citations to appear in court, where so many of them should have been sent long ago.

Hogging the road has been going on long enough in California—in fact, altogether too long. Sensible motorists have had their patience tried innumerable times, but it will not be long before a gentle honk of the horn will be all that is necessary to make the slow-going fellow move over with alacrity and he also will be taught to keep closer to the right side when doddering along at ten or twelve miles an hour.

Other features of the present safety campaign—the abatement of the glaring headlight nuisance, the enforcement of the rules as to the observance of turn signals and safety stops and of halting at crossings when the wigwags are in motion—are also of importance and will prevent many accidents. In one day fifteen persons were killed recently in this country at crossings, two of them Californians. The State law expressly prohibits the crossing of railroad tracks at places where wigwag signs are in motion, but this is often done, sometimes with terrible results.

It is good to see a real effort made to enforce the traffic laws. This worthy work of our constabulary should greatly reduce the annual list of fatalities.

THE PLAZA STATION DECISION

Two lines along which the city may pursue further its campaign for a union station in the Plaza area, adjoining the Civic Center, are opened up by the decision of the United States Supreme Court that the Transportation Act does not empower the Interstate Commerce Commission to require the construction of such a station. One is to seek from Congress an amendment to the Transportation Act in which the will of that body shall be set forth clearly; the other is to persuade the State of California to occupy the field which, the Supreme Court says, the Federal government has not taken over.

In some respects the latter seems the most desirable course, needing, perhaps, no legislation whatever. It is true the State Supreme Court has already held that the State Railroad Commission is without supreme jurisdiction in the matter, but the decisions in which it did so were predicated upon the assumption that the Federal Transportation Act placed control of all such matters in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The United States Supreme Court has now shown that this assumption was a mistaken one.

The general rule, laid down by the United States Supreme Court in its early decisions on railroad regulation and followed without exception in every decision since, is that where the Federal government does not exercise its full power under the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution, any individual State may step in and regulate in so far as purely intrastate matters are concerned, even though such regulation affects interstate commerce indirectly and collaterally. Applying this rule to the particular case, it would seem that the California Railroad Commission, if empowered by State law to do so, can compel the construction of the station.

If it is found that the State law as it exists is not sufficient to cover the ground, action by the Legislature to supply the deficiency would then be in order. But the powers of the State Railroad Commission are so broad that it is difficult to believe that legislative action would be necessary.

If the ground is, indeed, unoccupied, there exists the "legal vacuum" which Max Thelen, special counsel for the city in the recent hearing in Washington, spoke of in his argument. It is difficult to believe that such a vacuum ever was intended.

On broad principles of public welfare, the question of whether any city should have a union station seems more a matter of local or State concern than a Federal matter. It is the citizens of California who suffer most from the grade crossings created by the occupancy by the carriers of their present track routes, who are most inconvenienced by present inadequate and obsolete terminal facilities, who most deplore the unsightly nature of the railroad entrance to this city. Such considerations have very little to do with interstate commerce and a great deal to do with Los Angeles. Then, too, Congress is supposed to legislate only about national matters and in a general manner, and it cannot well pass a law affecting one city without opening up a host of possible union-station questions in other cities. The union-station case in Los Angeles is special and unique.

By joining with other cities which want union stations, however, Los Angeles could bring a good deal of pressure to bear upon Congress to make good the deficiencies of the Transportation Act, and should, probably, take this course as well as the other. The introduction of a bill conferring union-station jurisdiction upon the Interstate Commerce Commission no doubt would be opposed by railroads in all parts of the country and Los Angeles ought to get as much help in obtaining its passage as possible.

But the city would be quite content to leave the legal vacuum unfilled if the railroads, having established legal precedents to their liking, should now end the controversy by getting together and building the station. They have an opportunity to make a tremendous amount of good will for themselves by a gesture of generosity which would be at the same time one of economy and good business for themselves. Furthermore, such an action would be an answer to President Hoover's appeal for enlarged construction programs for the stimulation of general business. The maintenance of prosperity in the communities they serve is of paramount importance to the railroads, and no single action would contribute more to the prosperity of Los Angeles, now and in the future, than the undertaking of this particular work.

Mayor Porter is considering the calling of a conference between the city and the railroads to see if an amicable settlement of this long-pending controversy cannot be had. If he can accomplish such a result, the union station may stand for many years as a fine monument to his administration. It would be advantageous all around if further litigation, which is costly both to the railroad and to the city, could be avoided. The Mayor will receive 100 per cent support in any efforts he may make to induce the roads to drop their opposition to this civic project.

HARBOR UNITY AT LAST

Settlement of the long-pending question between Long Beach and Los Angeles of how harbor unity may be obtained has at last been made, according to dispatches from Washington which bear news as good as it was unexpected. Each city is to appoint two members of the joint harbor commission and the Federal government is to name a fifth, by the terms of a treaty signed by representatives of the two cities.

With this treaty in hand, the delegations may approach with confidence the task of obtaining Federal aid for extension of the breakwater. Without it, there would be a long, hard fight in prospect with little likelihood of success. Harbor unity was laid down by Congress as one of the conditions of Federal aid. The decision to impose that condition was so obviously wise that there would be small chance of overturning it.

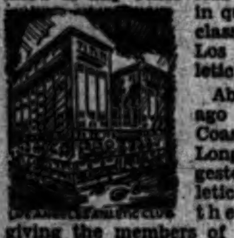
The treaty should be ratified by the city councils of both municipalities with the least possible delay, so that the improvements at the harbor which have been held up by this dispute may proceed. Present harbor facilities will be overtaxed within a year or two, long before these improvements can be completed; there is no reason for waiting any longer, and every reason for acting with speed.

The commercial interests of the whole Southwest which make use of this harbor have no interest in the geographical location of the harbor commissioners; they ask only that they shall be men who know the harbor and its requirements and who will give it efficient management. These interests are much more important than the political interests, which alone care in what election district the commissioners come from. Los Angeles wants good men named by Long Beach and Long Beach wants good men named by Los Angeles, and if good men are so named the joint interests of the cities will be safeguarded and there will be no seeking of illegitimate advantages or sectional jealousy. The manner of the appointment of good men is in fact a very minor consideration.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

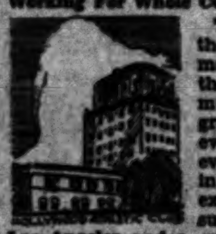
WE DON'T like to make too much of a habit of claiming world championships. But we would like to know if any other club anywhere is in quite the same class with the Los Angeles Athletic Club.



About two years ago the Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach suggested to the Athletic Club that they combine, giving the members of each organization the advantages of one of the finest beach clubs on the Pacific Coast and one of the foremost metropolitan athletic clubs. That idea has spread until now half a dozen important clubs have united and the members of any of them have athletic club, beach club, country club and shooting club advantages. The combination now includes the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the Pacific Coast Club, the Hollywood Athletic Club, the Santa Monica Athletic Club, the Surf and Sand Club of Hermosa Beach and the L.A.A.C. Gun Club, which has a 1200-acre tract especially good for duck shooting. Co-operative arrangements also have been established with the Riviera Country Club and the California Yacht Club, and a polo field now is being laid out at the Los Angeles Athletic Club's 1700-acre tract in Topanga Canyon.

The combined value of the club properities is $12,000,000 and the annual taxes $250,000. The total membership would populate a good-sized town, L.A.A.C. alone having 4100 active members. And it would be a prosperous town, for the total buying power of all those club members, as individuals, is estimated at $50,000,000 a year, not counting their investments.

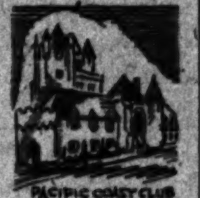
Working For Whole Community



The directors of the combination make no secret of their ambition to make it "the greatest club that ever has been or ever will be." And in doing that they expect to be assuring a greater Los Angeles and a greater Southern California. The uniting of so many of the most important and most progressive people in this territory in one organization is, they believe, bound to promote co-operation and cohesion and give them all broader interests.

Small Beginnings

"The Los Angeles Athletic Club is forty-nine years old," Frank A. Garbutt, vice-president, said yesterday. "I joined it in 1883, when it had about 150 members. For years it lost money, but we kept alive because we believed it essential to the community's progress. And it always has been forward-looking. Twenty years ago, when still struggling, it sent a team to the Olympic Games, and has been sending teams ever since—and so the foundation was laid for bringing the Olympic Games here. One second place was the best we could score in those games twenty years ago. Year before last we won more boxing events in the Olympic Games than did all the rest of the United States combined and more points of all kinds than did two important European countries."



W. M. Garland is president of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Short Measure

Wilkins is another man whose mind has got the habit of playing follow-the-leader. So when his small son looked up from the book he was poring over earnestly (possibly his arithmetic) and asked, "Dad, what's a Scotland Yard, anyhow?" Wilkins replied: "Oh, about thirty-four inches, I guess."

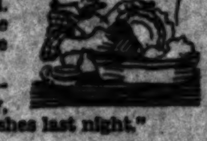
Recovering a Fumble

In the second grade at the same school, the children were given sentences with one word to fill in, as "At the grocer's we buy ——" and "At the florist's we buy ——." One bright pupil won approval by saying that at the grocer's we buy groceries, another that at the florist's we buy flowers, and one even got by with the questionable assertion that at the druggist's we buy drugs. So when a dreamy lad was asked what one buys at the tailor's he answered with thoughtless confidence: "At the tailor's we buy tails."

There was a laugh and the boy woke up. But he wasn't dismayed a bit. "I mean coat tails," he asserted, calmly.

Two Jobs at Once

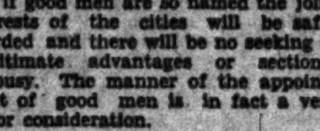
Today's prize small-boy story, though, comes from a teacher in the Sierra Madre school. She had been reading to her class and during a study period one boy wished to look at the book she had been reading.



HOW MANY MORE, MA?

"It's a book borrowed from the public library," she said. "Are you sure your hands are clean enough?"

"Sure," responded the boy, "I washed the dishes last night."



JUST PEOPLE

By James J. Montague

I have known quite a few politicians—
  Perhaps half a dozen or so
Who could fill the most lofty positions
  The electorate has to bestow.
They could run the affairs of the nation,
  Of that there was not any doubt,
With the public's profound admiration—
  But they always were out.

I have known financiers who were able
  If they only were given a chance,
To make stock and bond prices stable
  And insure a swift steady advance,
They were sure that the market and money
  Were controlled by incompetent swabs,
And it always impressed me as funny
  That they couldn't get jobs.

I have known a few men who were masters
  Of the modern industrial game,
Who could ward off impending disasters
  And earn wide respect and acclaim.
By applying the light of cold science
  They could find all the flaws in the works,
But these intellectual giants
  Were underpaid clerks.

I have frequently smiled at the actors
  Who borrowed my five-cent cigars,
And said that malicious detractors
  Had kept them from being great stars.
It is far from my humble desires
  The philosopher's craft to invade,
But I think that perhaps there are liars

NO CHANNEL TUNNEL

[New York Sun]

In the last fifty years several attempts have been made to encourage the construction of a tunnel connecting Great Britain with France. What was considered the most businesslike plan was that initiated by the late Sir Edward Watkin, chairman of the South Eastern Railway Company, which practically controlled the traffic between Dover and Calais. Commissions were appointed by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to report on the military, political and financial phases of the latest proposed tunnel, and these are about to make their reports. It is said that those to which the military and political aspects of the project were confided are in favor of the tunnel, but that the third commission regards it as an "unwise" enterprise.

It is difficult to understand the survival of opposition to the tunnel under present military conditions. The tunnel would provide easy access to the continent and would be hailed by all who have experienced the discomforts of the channel crossing. Amelioration of employment troubles by the tunnel's construction had been regarded as certain, but this does not appear to have weighed with the students of the tunnel's possibilities as a producer of revenue.

SOME BOULEVARDS ARE PROTECTED

[Kansas City Times]

The Minneapolis Journal is proud of the fact that no billboards are allowed to face any of the boulevards of that city. It extends its satisfaction to San Francisco, which only recently has effected a similar regulation, and to Honolulu and Japan, where signs never are permitted to mar scenic beauty. But the Journal has reservations. It says:

"But not so much can be said for the boulevards outside of the city, in Hennepin county. True, there is no placing of them within the right of way on State highways. That, however, does not reach the disfigurers of landscapes who permit such blots on beauty to be placed on their road-abutting property. Why should Minnesota fail in conservation of her natural beauty if San Francisco, Honolulu and Japan guard theirs so zealously?"

The concluding question has a far reach. Why not Kansas City and Missouri? Why not every other city and State? Why spend public treasure no end for boulevards, parks and State highways merely to have the attraction they afford capitalized by private, selfish interests to the ruin of the landscape, to the annoyance and cheating of the public, to the humiliation of every sense of good taste?

WHY BOYS WRIGGLE

[New York World]

Dr. Goodwin Watson, one of the savants of Columbia University, has conducted an investigation, with the data tabulated in an accurate manner, into why boys wriggle in church; and the conclusion, while by no means complete, is that they wriggle when they must listen to talks on the meaning of life, but do not wriggle when they may listen to good music, or to heroic poetry, or to stories on pious subjects.

Well? It seems to us that the boys who assisted in this investigation behaved pretty much like the whole human race. There may be things more tedious than talks on the meaning of life, but it is rather hard to think what they can be.

Light Out of Darkness

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wonder if that idealism voiced by the President and Mr. Ford will penetrate the greedy so-called minds of the type that are running motion pictures, street cars, telephones, chain groceries, bakeries, packers and all their associate monopolies. They consider it righteous "big business" to exact all the traffic will bear in every detail of human necessity—because it is a human necessity.

The nation as a whole, however, takes its cue from the White House and we have had this last week a glorious example of the right kind of business and executive leadership. One of our greatest reasons for Thanksgiving this year will be that we have at the head of the nation a mind serene enough to engineer, organize and execute for the welfare of humanity as a whole.

Another Street Peril

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your efforts toward making Los Angeles a bigger and better city are notable. So I take the liberty to let you know of a little experience I had a few nights ago.

I was walking along Seventh street between Valencia and the street south, passing the Murray Restaurant. When within a few inches of the big ornamental lights in front of the restaurant one of the fancy glass shades crashed to the sidewalk. I managed to jump back in time, thus escaping being struck by the big globe, but glass flew up all over me. Fortunately I was uninjured. It is my contention that these insecurely held ornate globes constitute a danger to the passer-by and should be removed. They are held by tiny screws and are removed to be washed very frequently. Often they are carelessly replaced and the screen will not hold them.

An Unsigned City

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Of all the dumb-bell towns I have been in your Los Angeles holds the blue ribbon. Fully one-half the streets are not signed in many, many places. One may ride for blocks and fail to see any evidence of a street sign. Los Angeles is called a tourist's town. How, how, how do you expect us to find our way about? It has been a standing joke now for over twenty years. Why don't you get busy and put out a readable sign where it can be seen?

As to the house numbers, still a bigger joke. All kinds just as each individual elects, in impossible places, away from lights so they cannot be seen at night, behind vines and trees, etc. It is terrible, and if your dear ladies' clubs can leave off playing bridge and do something worth while for a time, let them tackle the sign job.

A TOURIST.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Radio Code?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 the Manual Arts Evening High School, Forty-second and Vermont, offers a free class in radio code. Its primary object is to train amateur operators, with the opportunity for further work as commercial or marine operators. Commercial operators receive about $150 a month, which is some better than the pay on ships.

The field of aeronautics is increasing the demand for radio operators, for the ability to receive and transmit messages is one of the demands of a pilot. Because of this, as well as other calls for radio men, the Manual Arts School is planning a 75-watt transmitting station, under government license.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, 7 to 9, there is a class in radio construction. This does not lead to positions and is intended merely for a leisure course. People who wish a good radio, without too great expense, can learn to build one here, under expert advice. All of these classes are free and people of all ages are welcome.

Those passengers who urge a taxi driver to hurry, hurry, had better refrain from thus adjuring their jehus in Vienna, where, according to law, the occupant of the car is punishable with the chauffeur for breaches of said law.

DIARY OF A STOMACH

BY ALMA WHITAKER

November 20: She took me to a bridge luncheon at the club today—a benefit affair . . . the decorations following the Thanksgiving motif. She sent down a fruit cocktail, chicken broth, turkey and stuffing, sweet potatoes in syrup, canned peas, jelly, nuts, artichoke salad, two cups of coffee with cream, ice cream and cake, and a peppermint. I wish she'd take her coffee black—and small.

November 22. We're at another luncheon, honoring somebody's house guest. She has just sent down a vile cocktail. We are not feeling well. That wasn't wise of her. Here come the hors d'oeuvres. She is sending down bread with chunks of butter. If she'd only stop now we'd be all right. Oh, law, here comes the soup . . . and she's slopping thousand-island dressing on the salad. Heavens, I thought so . . . turkey and trimmings again . . . and she has started on the coffee. Merciful heavens, ice cream with fresh fruit frozen in it. I wish she'd take us home. Candy . . . candy, after all that!

November 23. We are entertaining guests ourselves tonight. So near Thanksgiving, so we have turkey. We got through yesterday, but I'm giving her fair warning. She's serving some of that ghastly wine Rod made . . . surely she won't dare! Oh, gosh, here it comes.

November 24. We are at a supper-dance. It's another Thanksgiving dinner. But she sent down a snack at 7 p.m. . . . because supper would be served so late. She fooled me, I thought we were going to get off with that sandwich and tea. Now she's sending down fish. That won't be so bad. Oh, mercy, here comes more turkey . . . and ginger ale, shamefully polluted. We're dancing now. . . . I can hardly bear it. She has no judgment. Down comes the plum pudding. This is too much.

November 27. We have had three days fairly normal. Feeling better. What's that? Heavens, we're dining with the Haskins', who have the most expensive cook in town. But, perhaps she'll be reasonable . . . if she remembers what happened on Saturday.

No, luck. She's sending down caviare croutons, anchovies, stuffed olives . . . and a vile cocktail. Yes, I thought so . . . another Thanksgiving dinner. Here it comes . . . you'd think she was ravenous . . . we shan't sleep much tonight.

It's an after-the-theater snack now . . . and we did so much too well at dinner at 7 p.m. Near beer . . . oh, well, if she'll stop at that. No, here comes some welsh rarebit . . . drat her.

November 28. She's feeling wretched. Great Scott, she's sent down a couple of aspirins. We don't need any breakfast, I hope she'll remember. It's 11 a.m. so all danger of breakfast should be passed. No, here it comes. Orange juice, cereal, three eggs, two rashers of bacon, marmalade and toast . . . and coffee. She's sending down her third cup of coffee . . . We are spending Thanksgiving Day with her mother. Mother has spent the last three weeks on this dinner. No cocktails, thank goodness. Great Scott, what's this . . . raspberry wine! I can't live through today. More turkey, seven kinds of trimmings, spiced peaches and figs, home-made candy, nuts, jelly . . . she wouldn't dare send down mince pie. Oh, yes, she would—down it comes. How I ache! Won't she ever be through? Heavens, a second piece of pie! I'm warning her, but she won't heed.

Now we're sitting out on the porch. Down come chocolate creams . . . some weird liqueur inside. I'm getting very annoyed. She's getting a bit restive herself. She says she has a headache . . . her mother thinks she is in a run-down condition, probably not eating enough.

Well, we're home at last. If she'll just keep quiet and let me handle the situation. No, by heck, here comes hot toddy . . . her husband thinks she probably has a cold. I'll strike. I won't stand for another thing. I gave her fair warning.

I've sent it all back.

November 29. She has just discovered she is overweight again. Her dietitian is telling her a few things. She's got to diet or she'll weigh 200 before she knows it. She won't have any waistline for these new dresses. She says she can't think how it happened . . . I guess we're safe till Christmas now.

TO THE POET

Sing for us magic music, fairy songs and elfin lyrics;
Paint us pictures, all-enchanting,
Sprightly cadences of life;
Let the melody tell the story
With a blithesome lilt pervading,
Like an echo faintly bringing
Music heard above the strife!

Sing for us songs of summer, autumn airs and winter sonnets,
Keep our hearts attuned to springtime
Mid the whir and grind each day;
When the hush of evening gathers,
Change our weary thoughts to romance—
Or some minstrel's haunting lay—
As nymphs and fairies 'round us play!

Founding Celebrated

Celebrating the founding of the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority, November 11, 1874, a formal banquet was given the 11th inst. at the new chapter house in Westwood, where a decorative motif was carried out in the sorority colors, buff and brown, while the sorority flower, the pink carnation, was used in corsages for the guests.

Mrs. T. O. Berry, past international grand president, was toastmistress. Other speakers were Mrs. Hugh Wright, president of the Los Angeles Alumnae Association; Mrs. R. J. Dickson, Miss Barbara Greenwood, Mrs. Robert Underhill, Miss Dorothea Cassidy and Miss Aileen Taylor, president of the active chapter.

Perkins-Burt

Following their marriage at St. John's Episcopal Church Saturday, the 16th inst., a delightful bridal party was given for Mr. and Mrs. MacArthur Burt at the Chapman Park Hotel. The bride was formerly Miss Galentia Eloise Perkins and was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority at the University of California at Los Angeles. Mr. Burt was formerly active in the Beta Theta Fraternity of the same university.

Fourteen guests, comprising the bridal party, included Mrs. Stanley Sheldon, matron of honor; Miss Virginia Bunnell, maid of honor; Miss Betty Shader, bridesmaid; Harold Wakeman, best man; Herman Wakeman and William Forbes, ushers. Other guests included Stanley Sheldon, Mrs. Herman Wakeman, Winifred H. Callicott, Mrs. Alberta C. Porter and Mrs. Carrie Burt.

Home Wedding

A pretty wedding of recent date in Los Angeles was that of Miss Geraldine Brewer, lovely Denver society girl, and Edward Frederick Soderberg, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Soderberg, which took place at 5:30 p.m. the 16th inst. in the home of the bridegroom's parents at 928 Cloverdale avenue. Rev. C. G. Westerdahl of the Swedish Mission Church officiated in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

The bride, who was unattended, made an attractive picture in her gown of pale pink satin, with which she carried bride's roses. Miss Elsie Westberg of Beverly Hills played the wedding march, and a wedding dinner followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Soderberg left for a honeymoon in San Diego. They are now at home to friends in the Carolyn Apartments.

Mr. Soderberg, a former student of the University of California, and a member of the Berkeley chapter of Alpha Chi Rho, will complete his art course in Los Angeles this year.

Honor Women Counsellors

To honor the counsellors of the University of Southern California, Mrs. George O. Robinson and Mrs. R. B. Von KleinSmid will entertain a group of friends of the university at luncheon at the Hotel Biltmore Tuesday, December 3. The luncheon will be one of the chief functions on the university's social calendar for the winter, which promises to be an unusually interesting one due to the fact that the institution is, next June, celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of its founding.

Floating-University Romance

A Colorado wedding of unusual interest to Los Angeles was that of Miss Helene Marie Macmillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Macmillan, 75 Fremont Place, and Mr. Milton Booth, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Booth of Pueblo solemnized the 4th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. Booth are being extensively entertained during their present visit to Los Angeles, as part of their honeymoon. Their marriage is the culmination of a collegiate romance of the high seas, both being student-travelers on the floating university when they became acquainted.

Mr. Booth was graduated from the University of Southern California after a college career which included the editorship of Wampus, humorous magazine, and Pigskin Review. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

After December 1, Mr. Booth will be editor and publisher of the Florence (Colo.) Daily Citizen in partnership with Clifford Lees, also a Trojan alumnus who was formerly director of the Athletic News Bureau at the University of Southern California.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 9 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

IS YOUR BABY AN ORANGEMAN OR A RED?

No, no, don't jump to conclusions! I don't mean that the infant you are cherishing must have ancestors from the North of Ireland or that he is already showing distinct Socialistic tendencies. But if your baby has reached the age of two or three months, he must already have asserted his preference for either orange or tomato juice.

Whether the baby is breast or bottle-fed, he must have his fruit juice, and it is up to mother to find out whether orange or tomato juice is best suited to her baby and in what way and at what hour his young majesty would prefer to take it.

ORANGE JUICE

Most babies like orange juice, but if it is a sour juice and not well diluted, some will make wry faces and spit it out. Others will swallow it and regurgitate a little later. None of these reactions should deter the mother from giving baby his necessary fruit juices, but they should inspire her to try feeding them in a slightly different way.

One mother we know tried the orange juice and baby promptly spit it out. She ignored it. Next day she tried less juice and more water, offered it to baby a tiny bit at a time, almost too small an amount to spit out, and he licked the spoon.

SUIT FEEDING TO THE BABY

Giving a baby his orange juice just before bath time sometimes results in it being spit up. Try it after bath time and just before the bottle or breast. Mothers are too well acquainted now with the mixtures of lactic acid or citric acid and milk (the latter being lemon juice usually,) to fear that baby's stomach will rebel. We know that the addition of acid to milk helps the stomach to digest the milk, so that if one wants to put the orange juice right in the bottle of milk well and good, or give it right before a nursing or bottle. Experiment a bit if the juice doesn't stay down well and find out when is the most satisfactory time for your baby.

TOMATO JUICE

If orange juice causes hives substitute tomato juice. This is unaltered by cooking so that the vitamins are as active in the canned-tomato juice as in ripe, raw tomatoes. In some places oranges cannot be served daily because of distance from sources of supply and expense. Tomatoes offer a healthy substitute. One teaspoonful of the tomato juice, strained, can be given baby alone, or with his bottle just as orange juice is given, and this amount increased gradually up to about two or three tablespoonfuls daily for the 6-months-old child, and a half cupful for the year-old child. These amounts are suggestive only and not suited to every 6-months-old or year-old child.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORTON W. BURGESS

HOW UNC' BILLY GOT HOME

No gift is there, however great,
To equal freedom's opening gate.
—Unc' Billy Possum.

Unc' Billy Possum had been disturbed. He was more angry than frightened, although it was enough to frighten any one to be jumped on while asleep. You will remember that Black Pussy had made a serious mistake. She had found Unc' Billy curled up in the hay in the corner of Farmer Brown's hayhow, and not knowing that it was Unc' Billy, had jumped on him. Her claws had pricked him. He had been frightened, but Black Pussy had been much worse frightened and had run away as fast as her legs could take her.

This experience had put Unc' Billy out of sorts—very much out of sorts. He no longer felt like taking a nap. He muttered and grumbled to himself and finally decided to poke around a little and see what he could find in that barn. Perhaps he could find more eggs. He didn't need any more eggs just then, but it would be nice to know that there were more handy when he did want them.

Now, Farmer Brown's Boy knew that Black Pussy had come down from up in the haymow. He had seen her come down. So he suspected that whatever had frightened her was up there. He went up to see. If Unc' Billy had remained curled up in the hay, he probably wouldn't have been seen. But he was poking around and Farmer Brown's Boy caught sight of him.

"So, it is you!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy. "How under the sun did you get up here? I thought Flip chased you under the barn. Well, now that I have found you, what am I going to do with you?"

He made a move toward Unc' Billy and Unc' Billy started to run. But Unc' Billy isn't a fast runner. Farmer Brown's Boy caught him by the tail and at once Unc' Billy tried the old trick for which he is famous—the trick of playing dead. Of course, it didn't fool Farmer Brown's Boy, for Farmer Brown's Boy knows Unc' Billy so well.

"Unc' Billy," said Farmer Brown's Boy severely, "you are out of place up here. You don't belong in a barn or around a barnyard. You belong over in the Green Forest and that's just where I'm going to take you. I wouldn't hurt you for the world, but I can't have you getting into mischief up here. You are altogether too fond of eggs and chickens. I hope you have learned a lesson and won't venture up here again."

So Farmer Brown's Boy called Flip and Bowser the Hound, and, with Unc' Billy carried by the tail, started for the Green Forest. He didn't know just where Unc' Billy lived, but he intended to take him far enough away so that Unc' Billy wouldn't be likely to come back in a hurry. Flip was quite excited. He kept jumping up and sniffing at Unc' Billy, which you may be sure didn't make Unc' Billy feel at all comfortable. But he didn't offer to bite for he knew that Farmer Brown's Boy wouldn't let him do that.

(Copyright, 1929, New York Tribune, Inc.)
He didn't know just where Unc' Billy lived

When at last they were far enough into the Green Forest, Farmer Brown's Boy laid Unc' Billy down at the foot of a tree and walked away a short distance. Bowser and Flip sniffed Unc' Billy all over. Unc' Billy didn't move a hair. He couldn't have looked more dead if he had been dead. Finally Farmer Brown's Boy called Flip and Bowser to him and they started off home. Not until they were out of sight did Unc' Billy move. Then he grinned, rolled over onto his feet and began to climb a tree. It was the very tree in which his home was, although Farmer Brown's Boy hadn't known it. And this is how Unc' Billy Possum got home.

Health and Diet ADVICE

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

REACHING OUT

If you hold out your finger at a baby he will likely grasp it with a firm hold. This is one of the first of the human reflexes. Every baby soon arrives at the reaching stage when he grasps for anything that he can get his hands on. It is not enough to see—he insists on touching. By feeling, squeezing and running over an object with his fingers, he learns its size, smoothness, etc., until it interests him no longer, when he reaches for something else which interests him. In this way he notices an immense number of things in a short time, and learns more in the first five years of his life concerning hot, cold, sharp and dull and the other touch sensations than probably he does the rest of his life.

This general reaching and experimenting process continues up to about 25 years, and then the reaching, learning, testing process may stop. There is no real reason for the reaching reflex ever to stop. We may no longer need to add a great deal to our information about physical objects, but there are still many new ideas in the mental field that we have not tasted, handled and made our own.

I often notice this lack of reaching desire, otherwise known as curiosity, in patients. Because they have never tried a certain food or vegetable which is really very wholesome, they insist they don't want to—that it isn't very good—that they know they won't like it. The saying that one never knows until one tries certainly applies here. This inertia habit of not trying to reach out for things seems to apply especially to new ideas of all sorts. The man who thinks that "what is good enough for father is good enough for me" has lost his reaching reflex long ago and is cheating himself of new experiments, adventures and knowledge. Even though a new form of diet much superior to the old has been worked out, some of the population fail to benefit because they have quit reaching out for new ideas.

This reaching for better things can be applied to habits. Every once in a while it is a good idea to hold an inventory on your habits of living. Look especially to your dietetic habits. If you are taking meat and starch and acids in gas-forming mixtures and suffer from indigestion as a result, you should learn to reach out for some of my articles on diet and find out which are the best habits of eating and then substitute them for your old ones.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Patent Medicines

Never give patent medicines to the baby or small child unless indorsed by the family physician. They might prove very harmful if used continually.

END FAT

THE WAY IS SHORT AND EASY
MOST women in these days know the right way to fight fat. Some are told by their physicians, some by friends. And for 22 years millions have been reading about Marmola. Those who starve to reduce, or who don't reduce, form a small minority now.
This has come about since science discovered a great cause of excess fat. It lies in an under-active gland. All the world over, they who treat obesity now aim to correct that cause.
The method they use is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others. So the changed conditions seen today are largely due to Marmola.
A book in each box of Marmola gives the formula and explains the reasons for all good results. When you gain new youth and beauty, new health and vigor, you know why. No abnormal exercise or diet is advised. This modern method combats the cause.
Marmola has for many years held top place in this field. Anyone who is over-fat should test it, in justice to herself. It is not only the easy but the right way to reduce. Learn how much it means to you. Start now.

CATLETT TO STAR IN FOX REVUE

Griffith May Abandon Idea of Making Lincoln Film; Lambert Hillyer to Direct Rod LaRocque's Next; Elda Voelkel Wins Feature Role With Lasky

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

WALTER CATLETT

"Hollywood Nights," as interpreted by William Fox on the screen, is not to lack the splendor of noted names, according to an announcement issued yesterday.

Walter Catlett will be the star, thus bringing the comedian, who has been trying to immolate himself in the directorial job, back to his admiring public.

Elisabeth Patterson, noted singer and beautiful young actress, will have a leading feminine role, while Ilka Chase is to have another featured part.

Larry Steers and Fletcher Norton are others in important roles, and Frank Strayer will direct.

Many brilliant musical numbers, as well as some unusual scenic effects, are to decorate the revue.

Lambert Hillyer Directs

Now that Rod La Rocque is all set to star for R.-K.-O. in "Strictly Business" nothing remained but the selection of director and cast.

The director question has been settled by engaging Lambert Hillyer for the job of guiding La Rocque's artistic footsteps and the leading lady and remainder of the cast will be announced in a day or two.

DIRECTOR MAY VEER TO ANOTHER STORY

D.W. GRIFFITH

We hear that it is quite possible that D. W. Griffith will abandon his intention of directing and producing a film depicting the life of Lincoln, which he has been contemplating. There are many difficulties in the way of making the picture, one being, of course, the problem of finding an actor who will be the exact type to play the great American, fulfilling all the exactions of the camera, and who would also be able to take the role satisfactorily.

The Rockett Brothers produced a highly authoritative life of Abraham Lincoln on the screen a few years ago, and this might be thought by many also to take the edge off the picture, no matter how excellent it might be.

Griffith now is in the East, but is expected home soon.

He owns, it is known, the picture rights to Dreiser's "An American Tragedy," and there is a possibility that he may produce this within the next few months.

BODIL ROSING

Bodil Rosing, who has been appearing on the stage, is going back to the talking pictures, and has been signed for a nice part in "Clipped Wings," which Walter Lang will direct for James Cruze Productions, Inc.

The actress has been spending much time with her daughter, Selma Janson, who recently underwent a difficult and successful facial operation at the hands of Dr. Howard Updegraff, reparative surgeon.

Phyllis Crane in It

Phyllis Crane, one of Sam Wood's new discoveries in "So This Is College," was yesterday given a pleasing ingenue role in William Haines's new all-talking starring vehicle at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Polly Moran will have the comedy lead, while Clara Blandick, Junior Coghlan, Carleton Macy and William V. Mong will have other important parts.

John MacCormack's Cast

That most lovable and beloved of concert stars, John McCormack, will have a fine cast to support him in his first Fox Movietone production.

Besides Alice Joyce, who will play his lead, Maureen O'Sullivan and Thomas Clifford, the little Irish lass and lad whom McCormack imported from Ireland for leading juvenile roles, other important players were yesterday announced.

Effie Ellsler, noted stage actress, is to have a fine role and others will be J. Farrell Macdonald, John Garrick, J. M. Kerrigan and Edwin Schneider.

The picture is already under way, with Frank Borzage directing.

Pangborn With Vitaphone

Despite Franklin Pangborn's busy hours as stage producer and actor, he finds time occasionally in between productions at the Vine-street Theater to turn an honest penny by appearing in the talking movies.

Having recently completed the title role in "Poor Aubrey," a Vitaphone short reeler, Pangborn has been signed by Warner Brothers to enact the featured role in another Vitaphone variety, "Reno Bound," which Howard Bretherton will direct, with Bryan Foy supervising.

Southern Girl With Cooper

A Southern accent, fresh from the land of cotton and magnolia blossoms, has won 18-year-old Elda Voelkel a role in Gary Cooper's second starring picture for Paramount, not yet named.

Miss Voelkel is the Dallas (Tex.) girl who came to Hollywood a few weeks ago, immediately to walk into the Paramount casting office and win a role in "The Vagabond King." Her performance in that picture, coupled with her Dixie drawl, won her the part in Cooper's new vehicle, in which Mary Brian, as heretofore announced, plays the feminine lead.

THEY FLEW TO GET WED BUT WIFE WANTS TIE CUT

Raymond F. Potter and his sweetheart Josephine flew to Tia Juana and got married. After the ceremony they climbed aboard an airplane and flew back to Los Angeles. And while they were flying Potter told Josephine he was a well-to-do plasterer earning $12 a day, all of which she said is untrue when she appeared before Superior Judge Thompson yesterday.

Mrs. Potter asked for an annulment on the ground that she had falsified concerning her age when she and Potter obtained their license. She testified that she told the Mexican authorities she was 21 years of age when she was only 19.

She also accused her young husband of trickery.

"He told me he had $350 to pay toward a $550 engagement ring," she said. "He suggested that I get $200 from my father, Anthony Sasson, in order that he could pay cash for the ring.

"Although my father refused to make the loan for the ring he did let him have $250 for other purposes," Mrs. Potter explained.

The wife also declared that her husband still owes her $6 for the marriage license and $25 for money spent in connection with the marriage ceremony.

After hearing the wife's plea Judge Thompson took the case under submission.

TINY FOLK SATISFIED WITH LIFE

Lilliputians Capitalize on Size; Provide Orpheum Entertainment

BY ALMA WHITAKER

It's all very well, but it calls for considerable poise to chat on adult standards to a gentleman who is three feet tall and nonchalantly smokes a big, black cigar with obvious relish.

When young Jerry, age 9, and I were invited to meet Rose's twenty-five Lilliputians, tiny midgets gathered from nine different countries, now performing at the Orpheum, we had an eerie feeling of dropping in to another world. The tallest of them was not as big as Jerry, yet the youngest was 17 years of age . . . the tiny blond ingenue of the troupe, Marie Hartline of Akron, a miniature Bessie Love.

So difficult not to treat them like children—just at first—"people always do for a little while," said Frieda Zwiebler of Berlin, with amused insouciance, who is a wee blond Gretchen standing about three feet six, wearing a smartly tailored outfit and holding herself like a diminutive queen . . . "But our fellow-troupers are quite used to us . . . they have to get used to freaks in vaudeville, you know."

Frieda and her brother Kurt are really the stars of the show. Kurt is under three feet tall and has a baby voice, but he and his sister are 19 and 21 years of age, respectively, and the boy has the manners of a Beau Brummel and acts as master of ceremonies in their cabaret scene, in which all the midgets play musical instruments as big as themselves.

Gladys Forkas also comes from Akron . . . she and Frieda make all their own clothes . . . and by hand, because their feet could never reach a sewing machine pedal . . . very chic and modish . . . nothing amateurish about them. Indeed, they wear evening gowns on the stage that might well be wee Paquin models. These two girls are also excellent cooks. The troupe usually takes an apartment and sets up housekeeping.

Two of the midget ladies are 52 and 54, respectively, and have the queerest patient, wise faces . . . Peppi Yellez, the tiniest midget of them all, comes from Mexico . . . and looks 100 years of age.

They usually sleep three in a bed and eat half-portions of food at the restaurants, and they giggle with delight because they can all travel half-fare. Two of them are colored boys, and one is a tiny Javanese, who, although one can only understand him with difficulty, understands all languages. Their manners are quite excellent . . . they would not dream of entering the elevator first or keeping hats on before ladies.

Ike Rose, who is like the old lady who lives in a shoe, is their paternal manager, godfather and boss. They are not in the least afraid of him and play naughty tricks on him with relish. He sends their wages home to their parents, providing ample pocket money, and pays all the bills. The contracts are with their parents and guardians. Rose says they have hectic love affairs every so often, and one couple married on them last year and returned to settle down in Berlin. Another perfectly good romance is budding right now.

Opera Scenery Undergoes New Radical Change

The special scenery designed for the Columbia Grand Opera Company, which opens its first transcontinental tour at the Biltmore Theater Monday heralds the beginning of wide importance, it is said. It presages the passing into obscurity of the traditional grand palace staircase painted on bellying back drops and it means that no more wavering marble columns will serve as wings.

The scenic studios of the opera company have been occupied for months with the making and remaking of these sets for the new opera company. Some of the original ideas were designed by Boris Deutch, celebrated Hollywood artist, but the real genius has been the technician of the company, one Jeremy Joseph Perry, who hailed from Dublin not so long ago.

Mabel Gibson Has Fine Role at Playhouse

When Guy Bates Post makes his appearance as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players at the Hollywood Playhouse Saturday in "The Climax," the role of Adelina Von Hagen will be acted by Mabel Gibson, an Australian prima donna. Miss Gibson will make her American stage debut in the role which is a difficult one as it calls for both an actress and a singer.

Manuel Galea will have the role of Pietro, the young composer. Galea was born in Cadiz, Spain, and is both a concert pianist and an actor. Gale Gordon, who was seen last in "Skidding," will play the role of John Raymond, the doctor. Guy Bates Post will have the part of Luigi Golfanti, the lovable and elderly musician.

Lloyd Picture to Remain for Another Week

Harold Lloyd in his new comedy, "Welcome Danger," which has been doing the best business of any talking picture ever presented at the Paramount Theater, will be held over for a second week.

"Welcome Danger" is the story of the son of a western police officer who prefers picking flowers to hunting criminals. But the day comes when he must match his wits with the most wily in Chinatown, with the result of combined daring and comical situations. Since this picture opened at the Paramount, Lloyd's fan mail has increased 100 per cent from the Los Angeles territory, it is said.

Vivacity Displayed on Screen

Fifi Dorsay
Contributes a large share to the wide appeal of "They Had to See Paris," starring Will Rogers, which moves to the Fox Palace Theater for an extended run starting today.

FOREIGN FILMS SCHEDULED

A brilliant list of motion pictures is announced on the schedule of the Filmarte Theater. The productions have been selected from the world's studios.

U.F.A. films, made in Berlin, offer something stimulating and novel. Three productions from this studio are in the group. These are "Chronicles of the Gray House," "Siegfried," and its sequel, "Kriemhilde's Revenge."

From Russia will come, "Her Way of Love," "In Old Siberia," "New Babylon," "Arsenal" and "The General Line," this last being the current effort of Sergei M. Eisenstein, who has produced "Potemkin," and "Ten Days That Shook the World." Filmarte has completed negotiations for Victor Seastrom's "The Stroke of Midnight," in which Seastrom and Fritz Lang have featured roles.

On Friday, Paul Fejos's unique film, "The Last Moment," will begin a week's showing. This features Otto Matiesen as the young actor whose life flashes before him in retrospect during the few moments before death overtakes him following his suicide by drowning. An added event will be a 17-year-old one-reeler, "An Indian's Loyalty," with Lillian Gish and Harry Carey in the cast and directed by Christy Cabanne.

First National Rewards Writer With Contract

Notwithstanding the policy of other producers to abandon the office of production supervisors in their organization, Robert Lord, for the past five years under contract to the Warner organization as one of their most prominent scenarists, has been signed to a new contract by First National.

Since the advent of sound on the screen, Lord has contributed screen versions and dialogue for many of the Warner company's box-office attractions, noteworthy among which are "The Desert Song" and "The Gold Diggers of Broadway." The advancement of Lord to his present office is not unexpected, it is said, as it is in line with the policy of Jack L. Warner and his subordinates to recognize proven ability within their ranks.

CLARA BOW PICTURE AT MILLION DOLLAR

Following the engagement of "The Dance of Life," Clara Bow, the red-headed "It" girl, will appear in her latest all-talking picture for Paramount, "The Saturday Night Kid," which comes to the Million Dollar Theater Thursday.

Jean Arthur, Wampas baby star of 1929, provides the leading feminine support for Clara Bow. She is cast as Miss Bow's young and impetuous sister, and provides the plot treachery when she decides to steal Clara's boy friend, James Hall.

NOTED SOPRANO TO PRESENT CONCERT

Mme. Galli-Curci

Not even brigands nor the fear of revolution could stop Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci from singing when she had contracted to do so. She reached China several months ago in the midst of the revolutionary activities. Disregarding warnings, she fulfilled her contracts at Tientsin and Peiping, her party traveling by motor through the desert.

The noted soprano will be heard at the Philharmonic Auditorium on Tuesday evening. She has but recently returned from the extended tour of the Orient.

'My Woman' is Presented by Colored Cast

For the second time this season, Andrew Bishop has a role which suits him and which he apparently likes, for his work in "My Woman," which the Lafayette Players are presenting at the Lincoln Theater, is the best he has done here.

Bishop portrayed "Tiger" Buck and played the role for all he was worth. Evelyn Preer, too, has a role this week which was definitely suited to her, that of a girl who was a gentle creature on the surface but who was capable of being aroused to fighting passion for the man she chose as her own.

The remainder of the company combined to make "My Woman" an entertaining show. Cleo Desmond and Rupert Marks shared honors in character roles. Barrington Carter was likable as the old judge, and Lionel Monagas played the suitor guardian in a convincing manner. Laura Bowman and Robert Brown were acceptable.

Officials Have Praise for New Colman Picture

Privileged to see "Condemned" prior to its gala premiere at Grauman's Chinese Theater, Thursday evening, December 5, studio officials, stars and directors are said to have waxed enthusiastic over this Samuel Goldwyn production starring Ronald Colman and Ann Harding.

Goldwyn is in receipt of a letter from Charles Chaplin in which that star says, "Congratulations on your talking picture 'Condemned.' It is undoubtedly one of the best talking pictures made to date."

Irving Thalberg also had praise for "Condemned" as one of the best examples of the new medium. Cecil B. De Mille claims that he had a thrilling evening when he saw "Condemned," and King Vidor is of the same mind. Unusual arrangements are being made for the national broadcasting of the premiere over the Columbia broadcasting system, which will include over fifty stations.

Duncan Sisters Feature Songs in Latest Film

Two lucky numbers—seven and eleven—are to be involved in the Duncan sisters' film, "It's a Great Life," starting at the Criterion Theater tomorrow. The eleven is for the opening time of the picture—and the seven is for the number of song hits introduced.

The songs are "Following You," a catchy blues number; "Tell Me Dirty Maiden," a burlesque on the "Tell Me, Pretty Maiden," of the immortal Floradora Sextette; "Sailing on a Sunbeam," lyrical composition; "It's an Old Spanish Custom," one of the hilarious comedy song hits of the picture; "Smile, Smile, Smile, With Mendelbaum and Well," department store song; "The Hoosier Hop," comedy plot song, and a lyrical blues number, "Won't You Be My Lady Love?"

"It's a Great Life," was directed by Sam Wood for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The cast includes Benny Rubin, Dudley Chambers, Willis Marks, Jed Prouty, George Periolat, Oscar Apfel and George Davis.

DRINKWATER DRAMA WILL COME HERE

Henry Duffy to Present Frank McGlynn in Role of Abraham Lincoln

"Abraham Lincoln," John Drinkwater's noted drama, is to be presented by the Henry Duffy Players at El Capitan, starting December 7. Frank McGlynn, the player who created the title role in the original presentation, will appear as guest star in the production here.

This announcement, which comes from the Duffy headquarters, reveals one of the most ambitious plans ever undertaken here by the actor-producer. For several seasons Henry Duffy has been desirous of presenting "Abraham Lincoln" here. "Its fine qualities as a play and the great message of patriotism that it brings have led me to attempt what is the most difficult production of my career," says the actor-producer.

There will be a supporting cast of sixty players in the drama, which is divided into six episodes, starting with the announcement to Lincoln of his election as President and ending with his assassination by Booth.

Sennett Night Scheduled at Loew's State

Mack Sennett's anniversary as a comedy producer is to be celebrated tonight at Loew's State, where his latest laugh subject, "A Hollywood Star," is screening.

A number of the noted comedians who were formerly or are now Sennett stars will appear on the stage. Roscoe Arbuckle will be master of ceremonies and Charley Murray, Harry Gribbon, Bobby Vernon, Eddie Gribbon, Marie Dressler, Eddie Quillan, John Quillan, Polly Moran, Al St. John and others will appear.

"So This Is College," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's frolic, is the chief attraction on the new Thanksgiving entertainment which starts tomorrow. Sam Wood is producer and Elliott Nugent, Robert Montgomery, Cliff Edwards and Sally Starr have the leading roles.

Pangborn Picks Play Cast for "In His Arms"

Marjorie Rambeau will be supported by four widely known feminine dramatic artists in "In His Arms," opening Sunday afternoon at the Vine-street Theater, according to an announcement.

The four actresses include Dorothy Christy, Carmelita Geraghty, Frankie Raymond and Helene Sullivan. Miss Christy played the feminine lead in the original company of "Follow Thru," musical comedy. Miss Geraghty, widely known to the films, is making her stage debut. Miss Raymond and Miss Sullivan are favorites with local stage fans at the Vine-street and other theaters.

"In His Arms" is a modern society comedy in which the feminine principals will be seen in new style creations. Wyndham Standing will be Miss Rambeau's leading man and David Hartford will play a principal role.

"Bird in Hand" Proves Popular Drawing Card

Human and refreshing, John Drinkwater's comedy, "Bird in Hand," is attracting capacity audiences to the Biltmore Theater, where the attraction has entered upon the final fortnight of its limited engagement. The entire action of the piece transpires in a quaint wayside inn, and is presented artfully and faithfully.

Consistently lively though the tempo of the comedy is, there is time aplenty for the unfolding of a delicious and thoroughly different love story. The company showing "Bird in Hand" includes Freda Bruce Lockhart, Olga Slade, Denis Mantell, Lawrence Atteridge, Douglas Jefferies, Richard Littledale, Eliot Makeham and Arthur Ridley.

Tower Presents Jolson Vehicle

Al Jolson's new picture, "Say It With Songs," all talking and singing, is the attraction now playing at the Tower Theater. The film relates the story of a man who, by a trick of fate, loses a loved one; liberty and opportunity. He suffers imprisonment and finds peace through his devotion to a child, played by Davey Lee.

In this picture, Jolson sings a number of new songs and several old ones and there is probably more of him in this picture than in either of his other talkies.

COMMUNITY OPERA TO OFFER "FAUST"

The third offering of the Community Opera Association of Los Angeles for the season of 1929-30 will be Gounod's masterpiece, "Faust." It will be presented tonight at the Teatro Mexico.

The cast comprises Liny D'Albert, Emily Frances Hardy, Genevieve Schrader, Luis Alvarez, Ignacio Ruffino, Roberto Da Silva and Harold Crowe. The ensemble will be under the direction of Manuel Sanchez De Lara. The ballet is under the direction of Carla Laemmle.

CHANGES NAMES

"I like to be called 'Mrs. Bushell,' but I have to be Zelma O'Neal for business reasons," says the petite star of "Follow Thru," when addressed by her husband's name. Bushell is the young Englishman supporting George Arliss in "Disraeli."

CHLOROFORMING BANDITS HUNTED

Woman Reports Losing Her Autoload of Poultry

Men Said to Have Left Her Lying Beside Road

Dog Also Declared to Have Been Drugged by Pair

Deputy sheriffs yesterday were searching for two asserted assailants of Mrs. G. H. Mistler, residing near Llano, who says that early last Saturday morning she was dragged from her automobile, chloroformed, robbed of a load of poultry and left lying by the roadside.

In a report made to the Sheriff's office yesterday, Mrs. Mistler said the attack took place about 1:30 a.m. on Hardy Road, approximately twelve miles northwest of Llano.

PARKED CAR SEEN

She declared she was proceeding toward Los Angeles with the rear compartment of her car containing turkeys and chickens to be marketed here when she observed an automobile parked in the middle of the road, and stopped.

She asserted one of the occupants came up to her with the request that she tow the stalled car and then learning that she was carrying poultry he called to a second man, who came forward and aided in pressing a chloroform-saturated handkerchief to her face. A police dog tied in the car was unable to go to her assistance.

DOG ALSO DRUGGED

Mrs. Mistler asserted she regained consciousness on the roadside about dawn six miles from the scene of the robbery. A sack had been tied over her head and that of her dog, also drugged and lying beside her. The gasoline had been drained from her machine and the poultry taken, she said.

Mrs. Mistler also reported the loss of seventeen turkeys and five hens. A purse containing $5 which was lying on the floor of her automobile was not taken. She gave a good description of the two men.

Police Order Private Patrol Badge Change

Four different types of badges in four years for private patrol officers in Los Angeles is the record of the members of the Los Angeles Patrol Association, according to Charles F. Wiltz, chairman, who appeared before the Police Commission yesterday in response to its warning that badges now worn by members of the association are in violation of the law because they carry the State Seal without State authority.

Samples of the three outlawed badges were submitted to the commission and Wiltz was informed that the patrol officers should use one with the seal of the city, pending manufacture of a special officer's badge recently designed by Commissioner Drake, use of which will be required after January 1.

TRIO HELD FOR YOUNG CASE QUIZ

Inquest Will be Conducted Today in Unexplained Death of Electrician

On the advice of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson, police yesterday continued to hold in custody William R. Buckley, Mrs. Edith Todd Jones and Mrs. Edith (Betty) Anderson, pending the outcome of an inquest, scheduled for 2:30 p.m. today, into the unexplained death late last Saturday night of John L. Young, 50-year-old electrician, whose body was found in front of his apartment at 1636 Lyman Place.

Buckley, 40-year-old real-estate salesman, is booked on suspicion of murder, while Mrs. Jones, manager of an apartment at 1642 Lyman Place, and Mrs. Anderson, one of her tenants, are being detained as material witnesses. Further action against Buckley, the detectives announced, will depend on the findings reached by the Coroner's jury today.

Questioned by Detective Lieutenants Sanderson and Ryan when he surrendered himself last Sunday, Buckley expressed the belief Young had died of a head wound received when he collapsed from intoxication, following a party in which the four had indulged.

Clara Bow Says Rumor of Love Breach Untrue

Clara Bow has discovered that true love never runs smooth. She made this statement yesterday at the Sylvan Lodge Hospital in answer to widespread rumor reported in Hollywood that she and Harry Richman, New York night club owner, who is in Hollywood to make a talking picture, have terminated their betrothal.

She said nothing could be farther from the truth; that she and Richman still are very much in love and still are engaged. Richman also denied the reports yesterday at the United Artists studio, and said he then was on "my way to the hospital to see Clara."

Miss Bow admitted that several days ago she and Richman had what she termed "a lovers' spat," but that everything was patched up the very next day. Last week Miss Bow was operated on as a result of complications from an operation for appendicitis.

She now is on the road to recovery, although, it was stated, her condition was critical for the three days immediately following the operation.

TELEPHONE INCREASE SHOWN IN SOUTHLAND

The six telephone exchanges in Southern California having the largest per cent of increase in total telephones during the first ten months of 1929 were Fontana, with a 22.5 per cent gain; North Hollywood, 21.9 per cent; Oceanside, 21.8 per cent; Montebello, 18.8 per cent; Lomita, 18.5 per cent, and Wilmington, 17.2 per cent. Of these six, North Hollywood led with a gain of 474 telephones; Montebello next with 176; Oceanside, 114; Lomita, 94; and Fontana, 79.

WISHBONE PULLERS WILL WED

They Had Cause for Thanksgiving

Lewis A. Schaffer and Miss Lucile Glickman

Attorney Lewis A. Schaffer and Miss Lucile Glickman met at a Thanksgiving dinner party last year, and pulled the wishbone of the turkey together.

Their joint wish will be fulfilled tomorrow at the Elks' Club, where they will be married.

"And right after the wedding we are going to make another wish," said Mr. Schaffer. "That one will be for a lifetime of happiness."

Pickwick Plans Stage and Plane Line in Mexico

Charles F. Wren, president of the Pickwick Corporation, yesterday announced the company shortly will place in operation a motor-stage and airplane line between Mexico City and Acapulco, seaport. A fleet of twenty-seven passenger, Pickwick-built busses will be disptached to Mexico City within a few days, he said, to open the new service. The air service will be on a tri-weekly basis, carrying mail, express and passengers between Mexico City and Acapulco, by way of Puebla. Otto S. Crowder, general manager of Pickwick International Stages, will have charge of operations of the new line.

Mexico City's closest transportation link with the Pacific Coast at present is at Manzanillo, which is connected by rail with Guadalajara on the main line of the Southern Pacific Company of Mexico.

CARAVAN TO JOURNEY ON GREAT ROAD

Five Hundred Autos Will be Used in Jubilee Over Highway No. 66 Saturday

In an effort to popularize the western terminus of United States Highway 66, known as the Main street of America, approximately 500 motor cars bearing members of service clubs and highway associations will parade Saturday morning in a caravan from San Bernardino to Santa Monica. The caravan will leave San Bernardino at 9 a.m. Saturday and will be joined by other motorists in the towns along the route, arriving at Santa Monica at 1 p.m.

According to John A. Van Pelt, chairman of the executive board of the Santa Monica Highway Association, the Federal highway has been marked with road signs from Chicago to Arcadia, and is destined to be one of the most important trunk lines for motor traffic in the nation.

The caravan will go through Rialto, Fontana, Claremont, San Dimas, Glendora, Duarte, Monrovia, Arcadia, South Pasadena, Highland Park, East Hollywood, Beverly Hills, West Los Angeles and Santa Monica.

THRILLING ADVENTURES TOLD IN DIVORCE CASE

When Mrs. Ygnacia Sierra went before Superior Judge Hazlett yesterday seeking a divorce from Louis G. Sierra on the grounds of cruelty it was revealed that the husband, former Mexican army officer, had filed an answer that reads somewhat like a chapter from some thrilling adventure story.

In his statement, relating to their life in military circles in Mexico, Sierra gave intimate details of his wife's asserted amorous affairs with Mexican officials.

Sierra told how he had served under Gen. Estrada during the De La Huerta revolution; how when the revolution failed he came to the United States on April 7, 1924.

The wife accused her husband of cutting her hand with a pair of scissors. She also declared that he was insanely jealous of her.

While the statement made by the husband was neatly written and set forth a great deal, Judge Hazlett continued the case to give his counsel, Attorney Joseph R. Marquette time to file an answer prepared, according to the laws of California.

DRILLING IN ELWOOD OIL FIELD QUITS

Agreement Among Active Companies Halts Work for Sixty Days

All oil-drilling activities along the coast at Elwood were suspended yesterday for sixty days, according to a signed agreement entered into by the Pacific Western Oil Company, the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination, the Bankline Oil Company and the Elwood Exploration Company.

The move, according to officials of the various affected companies, was made to bring about further curtailment in oil production and drilling activities. Under the agreement the participating companies are bound, at the risk of heavy penalty, to not violate the agreement within the next sixty days, at which time a gradual return to normalcy in the field will be encouraged.

According to the agreement where projects are scheduled to be completed within the next thirty days they will be suspended for a like period or longer to equalize the entire field so far as development work is concerned.

More than a month ago the Pacific Western and Barnsdall-Rio Grande entered into a voluntary agreement to cut production without being solicited by the State and were successful in cutting down the daily production of oil 40 per cent. As a result of this voluntary move recently completed wells belonging to other operators are included in the general curtailment movement started and in the future the same plan will be followed.

License Check Plan Defeated

The amendment to the license ordinance whereby deputies of the City Controller's office would be authorized to examine the books of business concerns to check up on the payment of the business license was defeated by Council yesterday by a tie vote, 7 to 7. As it was the second reading of the ordinance it was lost.

Councilmen Davis and Lewis, in opposing the measure, stated that enforcement would require a huge addition to the staff of the Controller, with the probability that more money would be expended than would be taken in.

GIRL FLYERS WILL AIM AT MARK AGAIN

Pair Forced Down After Setting Endurance Record for Their Own Sex

Another official takeoff from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport will be made by Bobbie Trout and Elinor Smith, girl flyers, early this morning. They were forced down shortly before dawn yesterday on the first attempt by women to break the world's air refueling endurance record.

The young pilots had to land their Sunbeam biplane when their fuel ran low after they had remained in the air eighteen hours. An attempted contact in the dark with the refueling Carrier Pigeon was unsuccessful.

Although they set out to break the world's record, Miss Smith and Miss Trout at least established a record for women. The eighteen-hour mark, however, does not equal Miss Smith's solo American record of 26h. 21m. and 32s. Miss Trout held the first solo record of 17h. 5m. and 37s.

The girls said that everything went smoothly during the flight and believe they can stay in the air for at least a week.

Wife Resents Grouchiness

Fred Heinzman had a perpetual grouch, according to his wife Agnes, who appeared before Superior Judge Yankwich yesterday seeking a divorce.

"He frequently used abusive language toward me," said the wife.

Mrs. Heinzman further testified that once when she and her husband were taking a trip to Long Beach a heavy fog came on and they were forced to stop. "He left me standing at a gasoline station and drove on," the wife added.

A decree was granted.

WATKINS WILL SPEAK

Mr. Watkins, who is professor of economics at the University of California at Los Angeles, has just returned from Italy and Russia. Robert M. Underhill, comptroller at University of California at Los Angeles, will preside.

AIRYLAND RE-CREATED IN BUILDING PAGEANT

and Marvelous World Peopled Wonders of Imagry Discovered in Merry Workers' Lair

BY OLIVE GRAY

though the Merry Merry Workers had been nudging and and hinting for weeks about the marvels to take place coming event of the series of pre-Christmas festivities in town district, we did not fully grasp the magnificent pos- of the Pageant Parade, to take place on Thanksgiving until we visited the studios where preparations were way.

"We never could find her," I said, "for her coat is the color of the bells and so's her hat and she so tiny"—"We should have brought crumbs, to blaze our trail as did the Babes lost in the Woods," Angela chided; but just then Gerry came hallo'ing around the corner of a tower portice, and we were "found."

It was like peeking into the minds of all the fairy-story makers, that studio tour. Like chatting with Cinderella before the Ball; and shaking hands with Alice, ere she stepped through the mirror; and like consulting with the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, as to how she might patch on another addition, if her family should increase; and like flattering Red Rose and White Snow, as to which was prettier; and like seeing a map of Oz, before it was pioneered; and like—yes, even like helping to curry Santa's reindeer, ere he was to start on his southward trip.

We could scarcely resist smoothing the golden plumage of Mother Goose's big bird as it perched on the prow of the great silvery float, awaiting the advent of its mistress.

MORE WONDERS

Here sat a tower on its haunches, agrouch with its adjacent sister, glitteringly dressed for the great parade; there a mummer stood in headless heedlessness; there a mummer's head, hung on a pole awaiting feet to prove itself a walk-around. A line full of limp green coats for uniforming the frog orchestra was outshone by satin regimentals in reds and yellows, to be worn by one of the hundred bands which will make musical the long procession.

Up uncertain stairways to studios where were being gayly painted the scores and scores of dolls to play dramatic parts on the tower porticos, Gerry lead us; into long sheds where the miles of living evergreens for wreaths were being wound and treated for preservation and inflammability ere they were fashioned into those huge wreaths which are to hold the crimson bells above the downtown streets; into spacious sewing rooms where machines were whirring busily, making gala costumes; into paint and plastic quarters where the practical preparation of the pageant figures were in formation, until—fairly overwhelmed by the immensity of the spectacle—we sought the little corner office, the brainery of all this, and began to ask for statistics, how many this, how much of that.

Coupld we stretch imagination to build up the whole of that pageant

PLAYLAND FOLKS TO RIDE IN SANTA CLAUS PARADE

Snow White, Cinderella, Wizard of Oz, Mother Goose and Many Others to Have Floats

Once upon a time there was a poor widow who lived all by herself. In her garden she had two beautiful rose trees. One of them had red roses, and one of them had white. This poor widow had two beautiful little girls, who looked so much like the roses that she called them Snow White and Rose Red. One very cold night in the middle of winter, a big bear knocked at the door, and the children, who were always kind to everyone, let him come in and stay by the fire.

Now, everybody knows about the mean old dwarf who had turned a beautiful prince into a bear, and how Snow White saved the old dwarf's life three times, and how the bear was released from his enchantment and became a prince again and married Snow White.

Snow White and the prince are to be in the parade which will welcome Santa Claus to Los Angeles tomorrow and just so that the children of Los Angeles and Southern California can see the wicked dwarf, they're going to take him along too. Of course, they're going to see that he doesn't play tricks on anyone, and they're not even going to let him get off the float on which they're riding.

DWARF MUST BEHAVE

They've asked Santa Claus for a whole lot of his Merry Workers to come along with them, so that if the old dwarf causes any trouble, the Merry Workers can whisk him back to the North Pole, where it's very cold and where there's not anyone that he can play tricks on.

Snow White's float will be made of just one great big snowbank, which has been modeled to make up a wonderful throne for her and the prince. Besides the prince and the dwarf and little Snow White, the prince's brother and Snow White's little sister, Rose Red, also will be in the parade.

MOTHER GOOSE TO RIDE

In every nursery and in every children's playhouse there's a book about all of the people who lived in Fairyland, and lots of times there are pictures of these people, too.

Now, it isn't generally known that all of these Fairyland people have someone to look after them and see that their fingernails are clean and that they wash behind their ears, and of course, that's Old Mother Goose.

Nobody has ever seen Old Mother Goose, because she's so very busy keeping track of all the children in Fairyland that she never has time to go visiting, and besides, only boys and girls who have been very, very good can really see her when she is about. She has been working so very, very hard these many years that Santa Claus simply has insisted that she take a little vacation, and for the first time since Fairyland began, oh, many hundred years ago, Old Mother Goose actually is going to have a holiday.

She's also going to ride in the parade tomorrow with a lot of people she knows so well in Fairyland.

HAS NEW DRESS

For ever so long nobody could guess why Old Mother Goose was coming to Los Angeles for this vacation of hers, but the secret is out, and this is the reason: Mother Goose didn't want to go any place where people couldn't see her, because she's bought herself a brand new dress for the parade, and, of course, she wants everybody to notice it, and there are so many very good little boys and girls in Los Angeles that she's quite sure nobody will miss seeing her, and you know, bad people can't even see Mother Goose, even when she's there.

And so on a big, high float that's all decorated with a hundred colors, and with ever so many of her Fairyland friends, Mother Goose will come riding, riding down the streets of Los Angeles at 10:30 a.m.

HER SHOE HOME

"There was an old woman who lived in a shoe. She had so many children, she didn't know what to do!"

There is one big advantage in living in a shoe, and that is that when you get tired of the place you're in, all you have to do is to pick up your shoe and move somewhere else.

And that's what has happened with the old woman who lived in a shoe so familiar to little children everywhere.

The old woman and all of her children have been living up in Toyland for many, many years, and when she heard that Santa Claus was coming to Los Angeles tomorrow the old woman decided that she had wanted a vacation for a long time, so she's also coming with him—and bringing her shoe and all the kids along.

She had to get a great big float to put the shoe on, and it will be in the parade. Of course, when the Merry Workers heard that she was coming, they had a little talk with Santa Claus, and they got out their paint pots and brushes and put a nice new coat of paint on the shoe, so that it would be all bright and beautiful for the parade. Two of the children who live in the shoe have the mumps, and can't come, but all the rest of them and the

GROTESQUERIES OF OLD FESTIVALS REVIVED

"What are mummers?"

How the folk of ancient times would laugh, could they hear us ask this question!

For "mummers" were as much a part of the holiday festivities in olden days, as were evergreen wreaths and holly, huge trenchers of beef and poultry, and kegs of ale.

Legend tells that the term "mummers" was derived from the habit of nurses in frightening children to "being good," by telling them—with finger on lips for silence—that "the goblins will get 'em if they don't watch out." Hence "mummer," a silent, disguised or masked hobgoblin or bugbear. An old dictionary defines the term: "To mask, to sport or make diversion in mask." Chambers Book of Days, in 1739, refers to a holiday event in this manner: "Disguised all are coming, right wantonly a-mumming."

An old English encyclopedia has this to say on the subject of mummers: "One who mums or masks himself and makes diversion in disguise; a masked buffoon; specifically in England, one of a company of persons who go from house to house at Christmas time, performing a kind of play, the subject generally St. George and the Dragon, with sundry whimsical adjuncts."

The mummers, forming features of the grand pageant on Thanksgiving morning, in the Los Angeles downtown district, are personalities drawn from imaginative history, romance and fairy lore. It is doubtful if such figures have been seen in this Southland, since the days when giants walked the earth and mammoths roamed the deserts.

This will be the great welcoming parade to Santa Claus, who will arrive downtown on a gorgeous float. Other gigantic floats will depict characters from children's storybooks with particular Christmas significance.

A float carrying a huge Christmas tree, gaily decorated and surrounded by gifts of all descriptions, will lead the line of march.

Civic officials, those prominent in downtown activities, and Christmas Festival Committee members will participate.

There will be many marching characters, such as clowns, acrobats, Merry Workers, giants, pygmies and mummers. Several bands will be engaged.

Above are a few of the mummers. At the very top are the Merry Workers and the Meglin Kiddies greeting the Fairie Queen. Below, a strange couple from Toyland who are coming with Santa Claus to march in the big parade, and a Toyland baby. They grow big in the Never-Never place as the Meglin Kiddies observe.

Line of March

Look at the map. Pick out your place and be sure to be there early—so you won't miss anything. The parade begins promptly at 10 o'clock tomorrow (Thanksgiving) morning. Starting at 12th and Broadway, it goes north on Broadway to 10th, 10th to Main, Main to 9th, 9th to Spring, north on Spring to 1st, 1st to Broadway, south on Broadway to 9th, 9th to Hill, north on Hill to 5th, 5th to Olive, south on Olive to 7th, west on 7th to Flower, south on Flower to 12th and thence to starting point.

HOLIDAY IN FRANCE NOT MAJOR ONE

Yuletide Observance in Paris Almost Overlooked; Provinces Keep It

One would naturally imagine that such a pleasure-loving people as the French would make much of Christmas, but instead of this we find that with them, excepting in a few provinces and places remote from cities, it is the least observed of all the holidays.

It was once a very gay season but now Paris scarcely recognizes the day excepting in churches. The shops, as in most large cities, display elegant goods, pretty toys, a great variety of sweetmeats, and tastefully trimmed Christmas trees, for that wonderful tree is fast spreading over Europe, especially where the Anglo-Saxon and Teutonic races have settled.

Early in December wooden booths and open-air stands are erected throughout the shipping districts for the sale of Christmas goods. Al night they are lighted ,and through the day and evening they are gay with shoppers.

Many of the booths contain evergreens and fresh green boughs for making "arbre de Nau." This is a hoop tied with bunches of green, interspersed with rosy apples, nuts, and highly colored gayly ornamented eggshells that have been carefully blown for the purpose. The hoops are hung in sitting-rooms or kitchens, but are used more in the country than in the cities.

CHRISTMAS SEASON OF DANE MERRY

Last Week of December Time of Visiting, Eating and Drinking

In Denmark, Christmas is a time of unusual merriment and rejoicing. No one who can possibly avoid it works at all from the day before Christmas until after New Year's, but spends the time in visiting, eating and drinking.

"May God bless your Christmas; may it last till Easter," is the usual salutation of the season.

With the people of Denmark the favorite dish for Christmas dinner is a goose; every one, even the cattle, the dog, the birds, receive the best the larder affords on this occasion. There is a peculiar kind of cake that is made for each member of every family, and, for some reason not explained, the salt cellar remains on the table throughout Yuletide.

Those who own fruit trees feel it incumbent upon them to go at midnight on Christmas Eve and with a stick in hand strike each tree three times saying as they do so, "Rejoice, oh tree—rejoice and be fruitful."

In Denmark it is believed by many that the cattle rise on their knees at midnight on Christmas Eve.

The children delight in listening to stories of trolls. The little folk also sing pretty songs of Balder, the sun god, which are a special feature of the season.

BUSINESS LEADERS HINT AT YULE PARADE BEAUTY

Christmas Pageant Will Center Attention of Other Cities on Los Angeles

Supported by community-minded organizations and individuals representing a diversity of interest, the Christmas parade for children tomorrow morning is an outstanding expression of co-operative enterprise. Never before in the history of the downtown district has an event of such magnitude and magnificence ever been staged in a purely alturistic spirit.

Leaders in central business district affairs and others prominent in the movement to focus the attention of the world upon Los Angeles as a city of beautiful attractions, yesterday voiced a feeling of enthusiasm for the coming spectacle, and emphasized its value to the childhood of Southern California.

SPECTACLE WORTHY

"It is difficult for one who has not been privileged to see the preparations and the plans, to conceive the beauty of the parade and to understand its far-reaching benefits to our city," said J. B. Van Nuys, building and property owner, who as chairman of the Christmas festival committee has taken a leading part in the program.

"The whole-hearted manner in which various people have contributed their time and finances without thought of gain to this great children's spectacle is worthy of the highest commendation."

T. C. Palmer, vice-president and general manager of Walker's Department Store, who has devoted the major portion of his time for the last month in parade preparations, said:

T.C. PALMER

"Children throughout Southern California, and grown-ups, of course, will find the Christmas parade an event that will live in their memories for a long time. It is all based upon a beautiful story-book theme, bringing to real life the characters out of treasured fable. Everyone will want to be there to greet Santa Claus and his great procession."

MANY FORCES AT WORK

W. Ross Campbell, who has directed the financing program for the event, expressed the opinion that the parade will eclipse anything of its kind ever staged from the standpoint of gorgeous floats and artistic conception. "It will go down as a genuine achievement in community undertaking for the children," he said.

"So many forces have been unselfishly working in the interest of this impressive childhood spectacle," said John G. Bullock, "that one cannot fail to be gratified by the pervading spirit of community building so strikingly evident. Children of Southern California are to see a parade which they will thoroughly enjoy and always remember."

That communities surrounding Los Angeles will benefit from the parade for children, was the feeling of D. W. Pontius, president of the Pacific Electric Railway, who said:

"Viewing the Christmas procession in the broad manner it deserves, people of Southern California I am sure appreciate the value that will accrue to the entire section from this gorgeous presentation. News of the parade is going forth, I understand, by newsreels and various news-disseminating mediums and should again direct the attention of the country upon Los Angeles as a place where climate and attractions combine to make living thoroughly enjoyable."

MAY PRAISES PARADE

"Few cities," said Tom May, "have ever presented such a beautiful parade for children as the one we will be privileged to see, when Santa Claus makes his entry into the downtown district. It has been my pleasure to see the elaborate preparations, and to say that I was favorably impressed is putting it mildly."

A statment from J. F. Sartori, president Security First National Bank, is as follows:

"The great Christmas festival being held in the downtown business district this year gives a wealth of color to the celebration and will be a propitious stimulant to retail trade. To the children of Southern California it will make very vivid the imagery of the season, from the arrival of Santa Claus in the big street parade to the final feature later."

Carl Bundy, president of the Advertising Club, said:

"I have followed the ambitious plans for the gigantic children's parade welcoming Santa Claus with a great deal of interest, and I know every child in Southern California will be happy to be on hand to give Santa the rousing reception he most assuredly deserves."

CHRISTMAS EARLY

A. M. Chaffey, president of the California Bank, said:

"Christmas is coming early this year to Southern California children, and I am sure the spectacle they will see when Santa Claus makes his grand entry in the great parade will be an outstanding success. I sincerely hope that every consideration will be paid the little ones, so that they may see and enjoy every one of the parade features."

Charles Baad, vice-president and general manager, Los Angeles Biltmore, who has been assisting in preparations, looks forward to the time when a children's parade will be an annual event at this season of the year. "We have long needed some community spectacle of this nature," he said, "and those who have helped so generously with their time and finances for the general good of the city are to be congratulated upon the splendid progress made."

"One of the significant things about the children's parade," said Malcolm McNaghton, head of the Broadway Department Store, "is the spirit that has energized it from its inception. It is a most brilliant undertaking which has been motivated by the finest support on the part of those desirous of augmenting our many facilities and attractions. I hope everyone will come out and see what a beautiful spectacle has been prepared for the children of Southern California."

John Gage, president of the Pig'n Whistle Corporation, said: "All the children and their elders will be thrilled with the beauty and grandeur that will be unfolded in the parade of welcome to Santa Claus. It will bring vividly to life the many loved heroes and heroines whom children have adored from time immemorial."

BACKERS COMMENDED

"More than one grownup along the line of march will revive many happy memories, and, of course, the children will be thrilled, when the parade welcoming Santa Claus comes through the downtown district," said C. H. Baker, president of the shoe company bearing his name. "I am sure we will all feel proud of the Los Angeles enterprise and civic spirit which have made this treat for children possible."

"The community-minded organizations and individuals back of the downtown parade for children are to be heartily commended for taking the lead in building such a beautiful affair," said Charles Ruble, president Exchange Club.

Millson W. Downs, president, L. A. Co-operative Club, said:

"Of course, everyone will be on hand to enjoy the grand spectacle. Children should be given the best points of vantage."

Carl W. Faucett, president, Civitan Club:

"It looks like the biggest day of the year is ahead for the little ones of Southern California. The event is fraught with significance, and will be valuable to our community life in many respects."

Frank M. Flynn, president, Twenty-Thirty Club, stated:

"Everything points to a most outstanding success for the children's parade. It has been ably directed, beautifully conceived, and is financed by public-spirited citizens who deserve untold credit for their unselfish efforts."

parade? How connect the towers with their porticos, how ernumber the disassociated parts of the Brobdingnagian creatures seen there? How, in words or thought, enpeople those superb floats with the living entities that are to occupy them? As in a dream we fancied the serpentine train, in its long tour of forty-five city blocks, the glittering floats interspersed with the costumed bands and orchestra, and the grotesqueries "mumming at the thousands of children and parents, awaiting them upon every side. And we wondered if, according to their name, the "mummers" could keep "mum" as they passed the big store windows where dance the Raggety Fox and the Raggety Girl and the little Raggety Dog; or if they could keep eyes straight ahead when once they glimpsed Tumble-Down-Town, or when they sensed the Doll's Parade, if they would try to count the toy people there; or if they would plan to sail away after the pageant is concluded, in the mystic treasure ship with Winken' and Blinken' and Nod, vista'd through certain windows along the street?

Viewing the great spectacle, the pageant parade, on Thanksgiving morning, not only will children behold the embodied characters and scenes of fairyland, but parents will renew their youth in recalling childhood's treasured romances. And everybody knows that the world is in need of relearning play. And, as has been said and said, it is reverberating like an echo 'round the world, Southern California is the playground par excellence. Why, then, should not this series of pre-Christmas festivities or something similar become an annual event?

Yuletide Origin Goes Back Into Dim Antiquity

As early as 3000 years before Christ Yuletide was celebrated by the Aryans. They were sun-worshipers and believed the sun was born each morning, rode across the upper world and sank into his grave at night.

Day after day, as the sun's power diminished, these primitive people feared that he would eventually be overcome by darkness and forced to remain in the underworld.

When, therefore, after many months he apparently wheeled about and grew stronger and stronger, they felt that he had been born again. So it came about that at Hweolor-tid, the turning time (yule-tide,) there was great rejoicing at the annual rebirth of the sun.

In the myths and legends of these, our Indo-European ancestors, we find the origin of many of the Yuletide customs now in vogue.

How Christmas Tree Idea Began

Many are the legends regarding the origin of the Christmas Tree. One deals with a religious leader on a Christmas Eve, traveling alone over the snow-covered country, becoming so impressed with the beauty of landscape and sky with its thousands of glittering stars, that upon arriving home he attempted to describe the beauty to his wife and children. Suddenly an idea seized him. He went to the garden, cut off a small fir tree, dragged it into the nursery, put some candles on the branches and lighted them.

And the Christmas Tree lived happily ever thereafter.

ENGLAND'S CHRISTMAS MIRTHFUL

Island Empire Celebrated Season Heartily from Earliest Times

No country has entered more heartily into Yuletide observance than England. From the earliest known date her people have celebrated this festival with great ceremony. In the time of the Celts it was principally a religious observance, but this big, broad-shouldered race added mirth to it, too.

They came to the festivities in robes made from the skins of brindled cows, and wearing their long hair flowing and entwined with holly.

With the coming of the Saxons, higher revelry reigned, and a Saxon observance of Yuletide must have been a jolly sight to see. In the center of the hall, upon the open hearth, blazed a huge fire with its column of smoke pouring out through an opening in the thatched roof, or if beaten by the wind, wandering around among the beams above.

There was an abundance of food, for the Saxons were great eaters. Besides flesh, fish and fowls their gardens furnished plenty of beans and other vegetables, and their "ort-geards" produced raspberries, strawberries, plums, sweet and sour apples and "cod- apples," or quinces. The cider and strong drinks were quaffed from quaint round-bottomed tumblers which, as they could not stand up, had to be emptied at a draught.

The Saxons dined at about 11 o'clock and, as business was not pressing in those days, could well afford to spend hours at the feast, eating, drinking and making merry.

After everyone had eaten, games were played, and these games are the same as our children play today . . . handed down to us from the old Saxon times.

USEFUL GIFTS LEAD IN SALES

Survey Discloses Change in Basic Appeal

That useful Christmas gifts are becoming increasingly popular was indicated today in the survey made in various department stores when it was discovered that there is no longer a top-heavy peak of sales in a few gift departments to the detriment of others not generally so considered.

The necktie, handkerchief and similar accessories for men and women have long been looked upon as typical Christmas gift departments, but peak sales were recorded last December in men's clothing, ready-to-wear and even in piece goods and home furnishings.

"Any piece of merchandise with a ribbon wrapped around it is a Christmas gift,' say store officials who handle many types of merchandise. There is a distinct trend in the art and jewelry departments toward gifts which are definitely usable as against those which are merely decorative, and the toy department is practically the only place left in a large store where pleasure only is the basic sales appeal.

The rapid rise in popularity of clothing and home furnishings as Christmas gifts has served to point out the tendency to make the Christmas remembrance useful as well as ornamental.

Household equipment and labor-saving devices come, of course, almost completely under the heading of things useful, and these departments in the large stores also register a peak month in December.

ames of Washington, Lincoln and Columbus Linked With Events Occurring at Yuletide

In the year 1776, George Washington crossed the Delaware on night to capture nearly one thousand Hessians after Christmas revelries. A few days later, December 30, Con resolved to send commissioners to the courts of Vienna, France and Tuscany; and as victory followed the American the achievements of this Yuletide were declared by Frederick the Great of Prussia to have been "the most brilliant of any in the annals of military action."

year following, 1777, was one of the gloomiest Yule in the experience of the Ameri They lay encamped at Forge, sick and discouraged, of food, clothing, and most necessities of life.

CHRISTMAS LONELY

To people who go into a new country to live, Christmas, which is so generally a family day, must of necessity be a lonely, homesick one. They carry with them the memory of happy customs, of loved ones far away, and of observances which can never be held again.

So many of the earliest Christmases in America were peculiarly sad ones to the various groups of settlers; most especially was this the case with the first Christmas ever spent by Europeans in the New World.

The intrepid mariner, Christopher Columbus, entered the port of Bohio, in the Island of Haiti, on St. Nichols Day, December 6, 1492, and in honor of the day named that port St. Nicholas.

The Pinta with her crew had parted from the others and gone her own way, so the Santa Maria and the Nina sailed on together, occasionally stopping where the port seemed inviting.

BOY IN CHARGE

While in one of these, Columbus heard of rich mines not far distant and started for them. The admiral and his men were tired from continued watching, and as the sea was smooth and the wind favorable, they went to sleep leaving the ship in care of a boy.

Who he was no one knows, but he was, evidently the first Christian boy to pass a Christmas Eve on this continent,—and a sad one it was for him.

The ship struck a sand-bank and settled, a complete wreck, in the waters of the New World.

Fortunately no lives were lost and the wreckage furnished material for the building of a fortress which occupied the men's time during the remainder of the Yuletide.

SHIP TOO SMALL

The Nina was too small to accommodate two crews. Therefore, on Christmas Day many of the men were wondering who were to stay on that far-away island among the strange-looking natives of whom they knew nothing.

The chief of Guarico, Petit Anse, whom Columbus was on his way to visit at the time of the disaster, sent a fleet of canoes to the assistance of the strangers, and did what he could to make them happy during the day.

The Spaniards and the natives worked until dawn on Christmas morning, bringing ashore what they could secure from the wreck, and storing it away on the island for future use.

Strange to relate, they succeeded in saving all of their provisions, the spars, and even many of the nails of the wrecked Santa Maria.

FAR FROM HOME

But what a Christmas morning for Columbus and his men, stranded on an island far, far from home, among a strange people! There were no festivities to be observed by that sad, care-worn company of 300 men on that day, but the following morning Chief Guacanagari visited the Nina and took Columbus ashore, where a banquet was prepared in his honor, the first public function attended by Columbus in America.

The work of building a fortress began at once. Within ten days the fortress of Navidad was completed.

Leaving biscuits sufficient for a year's supply, wine, and such provisions as could be spared, Columbus bade farewell to the forty men whom he was never to see again, and sailed for the Old World on January 4, 1493.

So far as recorded, Columbus was the only one of the Spaniards who received gifts during this first Yuletide in America.

Had the Santa Maria continued her course in safety that Christmas Eve there might never have been a fortress or any European settlement founded. So, although it was a sad, troubled Yuletide to the Spanish adventurers, it proved a memorable one in the annals of America.

PORTO RICO FOLK DANCE ON HOLIDAY

Christmas Celebrated in Various Manners in All America's Possessions

In Porto Rico on Christmas Day they have a church procession of children in beautiful costumes. The people feast, dance, attend midnight mass on Christmas Eve, then dance and feast until Christmas morning.

In fact, they dance and feast most of the time from December 24, until January 7, when not at church services.

On twelfth night gifts are exchanged, for as yet Santa Claus has not ventured to visit such a warm climate, so the children continue to receive their gifts from the Holy Kings. However, under the shelter of the American flag, the Christmas tree is growing in favor.

In Hawaii, so far as possible, the so-called New England customs prevail.

From Alaska to the Island of Tutuila, the smallest of America's possessions, Yule-tide is observed in a similar manner.

Yule-tide has been singularly connected with important events in the history of the United States.

NOT ALL IN SIGHT

Anybody who has read about them, knows that there were too many children for the shoe, so of course, they won't all be in sight, but many of them will be running around and helping to move the shoe about, and making friends with the little children of Los Angeles whom they're coming to visit.

Santa Claus has told everybody to tell the children of Southern California not to go visiting in the shoe, because there are really so many children there that every once in a while the old woman spanks them all and puts them to bed; but of course, you've read about that.

So if the boys and girls of Los Angeles don't want to be spanked and don't want to be put to bed, they won't go into the big shoe where the old woman lives, no matter how beautiful it may look in the parade.

WIZARD OF OZ

When little Dorothy, who lived in Kansas, was picked up by a tornado and set down in the Land of Oz, everyone knows that she met a scarecrow who could walk and talk, and a tin woodman and a sawhorse, and all kinds of queer people who helped her to meet that funny little man called the Wizard of Oz.

Everybody, and especially children, have been reading about the Land of Oz, and all the queer people who live there, but nobody has ever seen any of them. The Land of Oz, as everybody should know, but as many people don't, is just around the corner from Toyland and that marvelous country where the Merry, Merry Workers live, and when Santa Clause comes to town tomorrow he's going to bring the Wizard of Oz and the tin woodman, and the scarecrow and Dorothy along with him.

They're also going to be in the big parade, and they're going to have a great big float all of their own. Boys and girls will remember that the Wizard lived in a place called the Emerald City, because it was all sparkling green like emeralds. And on the float will be just a little piece of the Emerald City, with towers and castles and palaces.

WIZARD COMING

On a great throne, from which he rules the Land of Oz, the Wizard is coming to say hello to all the boys and girls of Los Angeles.

Dorothy and the tin woodman used to think that the Wizard was a very terrible person, but they have come to know him well, and now they think he's a fine fellow, and they're going to be right there with him, and they're bringing many other people from the Land of Oz who will be jumping and skipping and running around the float, and they'll have their own band, and the music it plays will be the music of Oz.

CINDERELLA ALL AGLITTER

Sitting on a glittering throne, a knightly prince comes riding. At his side stand the lovely maidens of the court, and fairy music is heard behind him. Kneeling before the throne is a very beautiful girl, dressed in gorgeous robes and glistening with jewels. On her feet are tiny glass slippers.

It is Cinderella and the Wonderful Prince she met at the ball. Everybody knows the story of Cinderella and how her two wicked sisters tried to keep her from meeting the prince, and how her fairy godmother turned the pumpkin and some mice into a glittering coach and prancing horses, so that she might go to the ball.

In the big parade tomorrow Cinderella and the Prince also will come to Los Angeles to meet their little friends who have been reading about them for so long. They will ride on a marvelously decorated float. With them will be the two wicked sisters and the fairy godmother.

Around the float, which is decorated in many, many colors, will be all the other characters of the famous story. In front of them will be a band. Not just an ordinary band of musicians with uniforms and horns, but a band of frogs who will hop down the street before Cinderella and the Prince, playing all manner of queer instruments in celebration of the wedding of Cinderella.

Couple Known Throughout Larger Cities of Land

To create a mental picture of so magnificent a pageant as that which is to be presented tomorrow morning in the downtown district and then to devise ways and means of bringing it into being requires genius and originality of an exceptional order. Visualization, the first step, must be succeeded by sketches of each object that is to have a part in the parade, as well as of the stationary objects along the way—the towers at street corners. Each must be worked out in detail, the mummers must be drawn and costumed, the floats outlined and, in the second process, each of these must be colored. Thus is the mental concept taken on its first step toward realization.

Then must be planned ways of materializing these ideals. Wood, plaster, tin, iron—any materials available to accomplish the purpose—are requisitioned.

MAZE OF DETAILS

Details of this work are almost overwhelming, and would be so to any save those of determination and broad vision. To visualize is one thing; to make that vision reality is quite another. This combination of qualities has made the success of the Biggams, husband and wife. There is no amateur effort in the creation of the Christmas pageant for the Los Angeles downtown district on Thanksgiving morning.

Porter Dean Biggam and James A. Biggam, creators of this huge spectacle, have produced many if not most of the events of this character which have made history in this line of endeavor throughout the country.

MANY ACHIEVEMENTS

Among the achievements of this couple are: Veiled Prophets, at St. Louis; Shrine electrical pageant last season and the Shrine pageant of four years previous, in Los Angeles; the Elks' sixty-fifth national convention electrical pageant; International Tractor Show; American Royal Horse Show and Stock Show at Kansas City; International Wheat Show at Wichita, Kan.; auto show, Dallas, Tex.; Greater Southwest Exposition, Fort Worth, Tex.; all trades and automobile shows at Wichita, Kan., and Tulsa, Okla., and Shreveport, La.; golden jubilees throughout Central States; California fruit expositions, taking grand sweepstakes with Orange county exhibit. For many of these events Mrs. Biggam conducted fashion shows, proving her ability with costume, especially fitting her for this phase of pageantry.

EXTENT OF TASK

When one realizes that five weeks ago the vast building which is the old Christie studios was a mere storehouse of lumber, plaster and other raw materials for the construction of the great Christmas pageant, and that from this chaotic jumble has come forth the wondrously beautiful spectacle which will gladden Los Angeles eyes on Thanksgiving morning, something of the directive genius required for such achievement may be realized.

During the creative period there were at work carpenters, electricians, modelers, plastic workers, papier-mache workers, artists, painters, wreath and garland workers, sewing machine operators, paper buffers, and hosts of others, all under personal supervision of the Biggams.

For the parade an area covering forty-five city blocks will be decorated with 117,000 feet of wire, more than 25,000 lamp openings, 114 castles with 18 lamp openings each, 30 wreaths 14 feet in diameter, with 40 lamps each, and 38,000 feet of messenger cable to support the 12 miles of festoon streamers.

CHRISTMAS OF ITALIANS HIGH FIESTA

Holiday in Latin Land Carries Remembrance of Lights of Ancient Art

Italy! the land of Dante, Petrarch, Boccaccio, Raphael, Michelangelo, and a host of other shining lights in literature and art! Can we imagine any one of them as a boy watching eagerly for Christmas to arrive; saving money for weeks to purchase some coveted dainty of the season?

In November while flowers are yet in bloom preparations are begun for the coming festivities. City streets and shops are crowded with Christmas shoppers, for besides all the gifts that are purchased by the Italians there are those bought by travelers and foreign residents to be sent to loved ones at home or to be used in their own observance of the day.

So shopping is lively from about November 1 until after the new year. The principal streets are full of carriages, the shops are full of the choicest wares and it is to be hoped that the pocketbooks are full of money wherewith to purchase the beautiful articles displayed.

DANGER OF OVERDOING

For untold generations the summer girl has been struggling during the early winter months in an endeavor to get rid of the tan coating which her skin took on when exposed to the summer sun. With the suddenness of the lightning flash the situation has been reversed and now she is running to the drug store to secure a stain which will give her a sun-tan effect.

As with most things that suddenly become all the rage, sun baths can be and frequently are overdone. A badly sun-blistered skin may and frequently does result from too prolonged exposure to the sun before the cuticle has had a chance to acquire the protective coating of tan. When the sun exposure is carried to further excess, sunstroke, a very dangerous condition, may result.

CHRISTMAS TREE HINTS OF HARMONY

Spirit of Season Caught by Display of Southern California Music Store

If a spirit could be embodied in a tree, as the Druids dreamed, and that spirit, music, it would look like the snow-white tree centering the entrance lobby of the Southern California Music Company.

The Southern California, heretofore, has signalized the advent of the holiday season by installation of a ceiling-tall tree in green, but this season, the glistening wintry aspect of the glad season, as known to Santa Claus land, has been chosen as the theme.

And, to make gift-gladdening easy, grouped around the snowy tree, like fruits fallen from its branches, are musical instruments of many kinds, each and every one appropriate as Christmas gifts.

Orchestral instruments, such as drums, saxophones, violins and all the most favored band music makers vie with those of larger mold, pianos of all sizes, from the concert grand to those diminutive ones appropriate for the use of the small child. Among the latter a collection of real pianos, uprights and grands, playable instruments, designed especially for a place in the room of the little ones just beginning in music study, to the one well along in the 'teens—attracts fixed attention, the cases being such as would grace any position in the home.

A collection of music boxes from Switzerland, forms an especially interesting group—each a surprise in that, when touched, it plays a tinkling tune, although seeming to be merely a cigarette box, tobacco case, or a cabinet for holding complexionries.

The radio section, always a place of gift-lure, presents a choice among the eight standard makes, each so cabinetted as to form a truly regal presentation, whether the price be small or large.

With the reinstatement of the phonograph to favor—many wishing to play and replay the numbers heard over the radio—the Southern California Music Company has made a specialty of carrying all the best records, so that complete libraries may here be attained—a gift-thought most pleasing.

Floodlights, gay wreaths and Christmas decorations throughout the many sections add to the enlivenment and make of the quarters of this harmonious store, at 806 South Broadway, a place of rare Christmas charm.

Sweden Gives Grain to Birds in Holy Fete

"To Norroway, to Norroway," the most northern limit of Scandinavia, one turns for the first observance of Christmas in Scandinavia, for the keeping of Yuletide in the land of Odin, of the Vikings, sagas, midnight sun, and the gorgeous aurora borealis.

In Sweden there is a general housecleaning before Christmas; everything must be polished, scrubbed, beaten and made clean, and all rubbish burned, for dirt, like sinful thoughts, cannot be tolerated during the holy festival.

The Swedes have four legal holidays at Yule, beginning with the day previous to Christmas, and they make merry while they last. Besides having the "Jul-grain," or Christmas tree, each family places in the yard a pole with a sheaf of grain on top for the birds' Christmas dinner, a pretty custom common to many countries.

Business is very generally suspended during Christmas, the day following, Twelfth Day, and the twentieth day.

DISH OF HONOR

The boar's head held the principal place of honor at the dinner. So during September and October, when the boar's flesh was at its best, hunters with well-trained packs of boarhounds set out to track this savage animal.

They attacked the boar with spears or surrounded him and drove him into nets. He was a ferocious antagonist to both dogs and men and when sore-pressed would wheel about, prepared to fight to the death. Before the dogs could grip him by the ear, his one weak point, and pin him down, his sharp teeth would often wound or even kill both hunter and dogs.

PRAISE FOR FOE

The pluckier the animal the louder the praise sung in his honor when his head was brought into the hall.

The great head, properly soused, was borne in on an immense salver by the "old blue-coated serving man" on Christmas Day.

He was preceded by trumpeters and followed by mummers and thus in state the boar's head was ushered in and assigned to its place on the table.

The father of the family or head of the household laid his hand on the dish containing the "boar of atonement," as it was at one time called, swearing to be faithful to his family and to fulfill all his obligations as a man of honor.

ALL TAKE OATH

This solemn act was performed before the carving by every man present. The carver had to be a man of undaunted courage and untarnished reputation.

Next in honor at the feast was the peacock. It was sometimes served as a pie with its head protruding from one side of the crust and its widespread tail from the other; more often the bird was skinned, stuffed with herbs and sweet spices, roasted, and then put into its skin again, when with head erect and tail outspread it was borne into the hall by a lady, as was singularly appropriate, and given the second place on the table.

ELIZABETH CLOTHED BY YULE GIFTS

Christmas Season Merry for Queen of England at Hampton Court

King Henry VII's daughter Elizabeth kept the Yuletide season in great magnificence at Hampton Court, where plays written for the occasion were presented.

This feature of Yule observance, which usually is attributed to Rowena, daughter of Vortigern, dates back to the grace-cup of the Greeks and Romans, which is also the supposed source of the "bumper."

The offering of gifts at Yule has been observed since offerings were first made to the god Frey for a fruitful year. In olden times one of the favorite gifts received from tenants was an orange stuck with cloves which the master was to hang in his wine vessels to improve the flavor of the wine and to prevent its molding.

As lords received gifts from their tenants, so it was the custom for kings to receive gifts from their nobles. Elizabeth received a good share of her wardrobe as gifts from her courtiers, and if the quality or quantity was not satisfactory, the givers were unceremoniously informed of the fact.

In 1561 she received at Yule a present of a pair of black silk stockings knit by one of her maids, and never after would she wear those made of cloth. Underclothing of all kinds, sleeves richly embroidered and bejeweled, in fact, everything she needed to wear, were given to her and she was completely fitted out at this season.

The feudal system of England gave scope for much magnificence at Yuletide. At a time when several thousand retainers were fed daily at a single castle or on a baron's estate, preparations for the Yule feast—the great feast of the year—were necessarily on a large scale, and the quantity of food reported to have been prepared on such occasions is perfectly appalling to twentieth century feasters.

Veteran Actor, Schildkraut, Ill

Rudolph Schildkraut, veteran stage and screen actor, is recovering slowly from an attack of asthma at the Hollywood Hospital, according to his physician, Dr. P. E. Reynolds. The actor suffered a severe attack Monday night.

An ambulance was called and he was taken to the hospital. For a few hours it was feared the attack would be fatal, but yesterday morning his physician reported the patient had rallied and will recover. Schildkraut has been working in a picture being made by the R.-K.-O. studios.

Goodheart Fate Still Undecided

Mayor Porter yesterday afternoon was standing pat on his nomination to the Police Commission of Ben L. Goodheart. He said that he had "heard rumors," but his investigation had uncovered nothing to substantiate them.

Under Council rules the nomination is due to come up for consideration this morning. Nothing in the way of a statement, however, was forthcoming from the Police and Fire Committee, which has the nomination in its files.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

The majority of cafes, restaurants and inns in Los Angeles and vicinity have prepared special Thanksgiving dinners to be served tomorrow consisting principally of turkey, duck, chicken or roasts of various varieties as the major items of the Thanksgiving menu.

It has been previously demonstrated to the local cafe men that many persons prefer to eat their Thanksgiving dinner out of their homes, saving themselves thereby the work of preparing a Thanksgiving dinner, and this each year materially increases the cafe men's Thanksgiving patronage.

Some that have arranged special menus for Thanksgiving are Quo Vadis Tea Room on Vermont avenue near Wilshire Boulevard; Polly's Patio Tea Room, West Seventh street near Vermont avenue; Polly's Cheerio, Hill street between Sixth and Seventh streets; Orange Tea Room, Wilshire Boulevard west of Western avenue; Marchetti's restaurant, Western avenue at Fifth street; Roslyn Hotel, Fifth and Main streets; Elite Caterers, Flower street near Seventh street; Lighthouse Gardens, Washington Boulevard, Culver City; Herbert's restaurant, Eighth and Hill streets; Thomas's Restaurant, Hill near Third street and Lambert's Grill on Flower street near West Seventh street.

GARDEN CAFE TO OPEN

The grand opening of the Heidelberg Gardens on Washington Boulevard, Culver City, will take place tomorrow evening, with a gala celebration planned for the occasion. However, the cafe will open at noon and serve a complete turkey dinner until 1 a.m. Schubert's music will be featured throughout the day and in the evening there will be entertainment and dancing to "Bill" Fox's Night Owls. S. L. Bryant, proprietor, states that a number of well-known theatrical and film stars have promised to be on hand to take part in the evening's festivities.

LONG-FELT NEED FILLED

The Orange Grove Cafe recently opened in the Hayward Hotel at Sixth and Spring streets answers a long-felt need of Los Angeles for a smart cafe featuring reasonable prices in the downtown district.

Dancing is to Carrol Londoner's orchestra every noon and evening with a special tea dansant Saturday afternoons until 4.

CRISP SALADS PROMISED

Not only will a complete turkey dinner with all the trimmings be served tomorrow at Jahnke's Coffee Shop, on West Ninth street, just east of Broadway, but for the benefit of the thousands of people who will be in the downtown district to witness the holiday parade, a special menu of crisp salads, toasted sandwiches and pastries will be featured. Jahnke's Grill, located on West Sixth street at Rampart, also is prepared to serve a turkey dinner.

ACTRESS TO BE THERE

Lena Malena, the popular young actress now playing a principal role in "Hell's Angels" for Caddo Productions, will make a personal appearance at the Montmartre this evening. Miss Malena will take part in the evening's entertainment, which will include a lavish fashion show staged by the May Company.

For Thanksgiving, Eddie Brandstatter has arranged a fine menu. A special dinner will be served all day, featured by dishes typical of the holiday including turkey and the "trimmings."

QUARTET TO SING

Beginning a special one-week engagement, the famous Dixie Quartet from "Hearts in Dixie" will open this evening at Paul Perrot's Cafe, opposite Westlake Park on Seventh street. The negro songsters, who created a sensation in the recent film, will present some of their most famous melodies direct from the old Southland.

A special turkey dinner will be served Thanksgiving with every attention given to making the festival a real home affair.

ORCHESTRA FEATURED

Mal Mallett's orchestra will feature a special program of Thanksgiving dance selections and New England songs tomorrow night in the Cocoanut Grove at the Ambassador.

This is the ace ballroom band of Boston, and in order to fulfill the local engagement, the troupe had to cancel its annual autumn and winter bookings for college "proms" at Yale, Princeton, Brown, Dartmouth, Amherst and Cornell.

INN PLANS SPECIAL MENU

A specially prepared Thanksgiving dinner will be served from noon until 8 p.m. in the dining room of St. Ann's Inn in Santa Ana, according to R. L. Bisby, manager.

Mr. Bisby each year purchases his turkeys from a near-by ranch thereby insuring fresh fowl for his guests. The garden in the front of the inn has been transformed into a veritable ranch by the management adding materially to the seasonal attractiveness of the inn.

"We want to make Thanksgiving a regular honest-to-goodness old-fashioned Thanksgiving Day, observed as did our forefathers," advises Mr. Bisby, who is sparing no pains or expense in arranging an elaborate dinner for his patrons.

FESTIVAL PLANNED

Plans for an elaborate Thanksgiving Day Festival from noon to midnight in the Blossom Room of the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel tomorrow are being completed at the screen-colony hostelry.

The Blossom Room will be specially decorated for the occasion, and entertainment arrangements are in the hands of George Olsen, popular Roosevelt bandmaster and master of ceremonies.

TURKEY UP IN MOUNTAINS

Guests of Mitchel's Camp on the south shore of Big Bear Lake all will enjoy a specially cooked Thanksgiving dinner arranged for by Mrs. L. R. Hughes, proprietor.

Due to the elevation of Big Bear Lake Mitchell's Camp patrons also will have the advantage of regular eastern weather, as this season of the year at Big Bear is very enjoyable for those who prefer the colder weather.

"AD" AGENCY TO MOVE

The Hammel Advertising Corporation, for the past ten years active in the advertising agency field in Los Angeles, will move its offices to Suite 623, Associated Realty Building, Saturday.

GERMANY FULL OF YULE SPIRIT

Celebration Starts Early in December

Tree Forms Important Part of Festival

Bazaars Filled With Many Beautiful Toys

If England has enjoyed the merriest of yuletides of the past, certainly Germany enjoys the merriest of the present, for in no other country is the day so fully and heartily observed. It is the greatest occasion of the year and means much to the people.

For a week before the day loads of evergreen trees of all sizes may be seen coming into the cities and towns to be piled up in squares and open places until the entire place looks like a forest of small firs. One wonders where they all come from and for how many years the supply will last, but it is not likely to fail at present.

TREE IMPORTANT

The Christmas tree is now one of the most important features of yuletide among the Germans of all denominations.

Nearly 10,000,000 households require one or more trees each Christmas, varying in height from two to twenty feet. Societies provide them for people who are too poor to buy them and very few are overlooked at this happy holiday season.

The grand yuletide festival is opened on the eve of St. Nicholas Day, December 6; in fact, bazaars are held from the first of the month, which is really one prolonged season of merry-making.

In Germany St. Nicholas has a day set apart in his honor. He was born in Palara, a city of Lycia, and but very little is known of his life except that he was made bishop of Myra and died in the year 343. It was once the custom to send a man around to impersonate St. Nicholas on St. Nicholas Eve and to inquire how the children have behaved through the year, who were deserving of gifts and who needed a touch of the birch rods that he carried with him into every home.

MANY TOYS BOUGHT

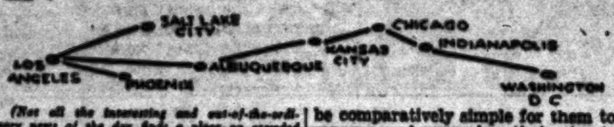
St. Nicholas still goes about in some parts of the country and in the bazaars and shops are sold little bunches of rods, real or made of candy, such as St. Nicholas is supposed to deal in.

In somep laces Knight Rupert takes the place of St. Nicholas in visiting the houses.

But Kriss Kringle has nearly usurped the place of St. Nicholas, once held in awe and respect by German children.

Because St. Nicholas Day came so near to Christmas in some countries the saint became associated with that celebration, although in Germany the eve of his birthday continues to be observed. Germans purchase liberally of the toys and confectionery offered at the bazaars and nowhere are prettier toys and confectionery found than in Germany.

AIRPLANE NEWS EXCHANGE



(Not all the interesting and out-of-the-ordinary news of the day finds a place on crowded wires or waves. Every evening The Times conducts a news exchange by airplane. By Western Air Express, T.A.T. and Standard lines papers of current and yesterdate from pivotal cities are received. Washington, D. C., contributes the Star only two days from the press; Indianapolis and Chicago, thirty-six hours; Kansas City, Salt Lake City and Phoenix are just halfway 'round the clock. Today's gleanings range in subject from an account of the death in Washington, D. C., of the oldest stenographer in the post-office service, to an explanation of a Kansas City editor as to why cowboys wear "ten-gallon hats.)

OLDEST STENOG DIES

Washington (D. C.) Star, Nov. 24.

Miss Florence E. Smith, 88 years of age, believed to have been the first stenographer ever employed in the Postoffice Department, died at her home in the South Clifton Terrace Apartments Saturday. Death was due to pneumonia.

Miss Smith entered the Postoffice Department August 1, 1875, and continued there until August 20, 1922, completing a service of more than forty-seven years.

GHOSTS STILL WALK

Chicago Tribune, Nov. 25.

That ghosts are a liability rather than an asset to property was established yesterday by a jury in Circuit Judge Craig A. Hood's courtroom. The jury ignored the supposed value of an ancestral spirit stalking a picturesque castle and concerned itself with a multitude of spectral figures which might haunt the Wilson Hospital, and even more unfortunate ghouls disturbing the midnight hour at the Chicago Medical School.

Both the hospital and school have been condemned by the South Park Board to make way for a small park in that area.

LOCKED HORNS

Arizona Republican, Nov. 26.

The request of Tom Smith of Hollywood, formerly an Arizona cowboy, for a set of locked deer horns which he claims to have found several years ago in the Kaibab forest, has been refused, according to an announcement made yesterday by Gov. John C. Phillips.

Smith told the Governor that after he found the horns the State Game Warden made a complaint against him and took possession of the horns. Smith declared he won the suit and was released, but that the horns had never been returned to him.

The horns are in the museum of the State Game Department.

SIMPLE IS NO NAME

Salt Lake Tribune, Nov. 26.

Asserting that Salt Lake's system of numbering and lettering streets is "ideal and most practical," Dr. Richard R. Lyman, local civil engineer, has undertaken to induce other cities to name their streets likewise.

Dr. Lyman, who recently attended the American Association of Civil Engineers' convention in Denver, there read a paper on planning of capital cities, in which he explained Salt Lake's system and declared it to be to the credit and advantage of any city.

Examination of maps of numerous cities has shown that it would be comparatively simple for them to rename and renumber their streets after the local plan, Dr. Lyman said.

SQUIRREL FOOD

Albuquerque Journal, Nov. 26.

How they lost most of their food when a frisky pack horse spilled groceries all over the hills at the west fork of the Gila River, compelling them to live on squirrels, which they shot with their rifles, was told Saturday by L. M. Tartaglia, Oliver Pitts and Anthony Bell. They arrived home after a two weeks' trip, with three bucks and three turkeys, each having succeeded in bagging the limit of big game.

The squirrel meat became pretty tiresome after a day or two, and one of the party went on foot twenty miles to a cow camp on the Ed Otero ranch, to get another horse, replacing the pack animal which had run away.

PAVEMENT NEEDED

Kansas City Times, Nov. 26.

A Kansas City man who has been hunting lions and rhinos in Africa reports that it is becoming a very dangerous sport. He struck his head against the top of the Ford while going over a bump in the jungle one day.

SO THAT'S IT

Kansas City Star, Nov. 26.

A Texas cowboy says the reason ranchers and rangers wear ten-gallon hats is because they will stay on better than light hats when their owners are riding in the wind. A satisfactory explanation, and a welcome one. The impression among a good many dudes was that the ten-gallon hat was worn because with it a Ford radiator could be filled with water at one trip to the creek.

THE PICKLE KING

Prof. John Dolman, Jr., director of the highly successful University of Pennsylvania summer school, said at a West Philadelphia luncheon:

"All the study in the world is of little good if it keeps you narrow-minded. Most of us are narrow-minded. The musician despises all who are ignorant of music, the poet despises all who are unable to make verses, and so forth and so on.

"Yes, most of us are like the pickle king. The pickle king, having made his pile, built a palace of pale limestone in Fifth avenue, and allowed his wife and daughters to spend money like water in their struggle, a successful one, to butt into society.

"The pickle king carried himself rather well in society, but his manner toward the Astorbilts and other lofty families was almost supercilious and haughty. At length, at one of their sumptuous dinner parties, his scornful silence got on his wife's nerves, and she said to him across the long, orchid-decked table:

" 'Bill, why don't you talk?'

"The pickle king gave a snort.

" 'Wot's the use?' said he. 'There ain't a man or woman here wot understands the first principles of pickle makin'.' "

CHRISTMAS DAY ORIGIN HAZY

Early Celebration of Time Called "Heathenish"

Saint Nicholas Makes Advent at About 200 A.D.

Mistletoe, Holly, Yule Log and Bells Traced

Christmas, December 25—The greatest holiday—the universally recognized festival — a day of thanksgiving, of rejoicing, of homecoming, of feasting, gift-giving and merry-making and charity everywhere.

Great as the holiday is, nobody knows who first celebrated it, or how, and nobody knows if December 25 is the exact anniversary date of Christ's birth.

In early days the celebration of birthdays was looked upon as heathenish. Early historians credit the celebration to pagan origin, and the first Christmas Day celebrations recorded were indeed "heathenish" in the extreme.

Today and for past centuries Christmas has been the day of days to the children of many lands.

St. Nicholas reigns supreme as the giver of gifts to all good children.

The origin of St. Nicholas, from which came St. Nick, St. Klaus, and Santa Claus, is traced to the patron saint of Russia about 200 A.D.

BISHOP OF ASIA MINOR

St. Nicholas was a bishop of Asia Minor, and as a bearer of gifts for children his name has been corrupted to Santa Claus.

The Christmas stocking very early became the recognized receptacle for gifts "the night before Christmas, when all through the house not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse."

Stockings were not only very handy as containers, but were the first article of apparel sought upon arising.

The Christmas tree of evergreen as well as the holly and Christmas greenery, are of ancient origin, it having been the custom to decorate all temples at festival time with the green of field and forest.

The evergreen Christmas tree has the church significance of "The Tree of Life;" the candles the "Light of the World."

MISTLETOE AND HOLLY

Mistletoe once was recognized as the symbol of special privileges or indulgence, it being carried in processional at certain Druidical rites in the sacred temples.

The holly was accepted early as a Christmas symbol, it being more prevalent in growth, especially in early England days, and with its profusion of red berries soon became the recognized emblem of good cheer.

Christmas greeting cards mark the first of modern special day greeting cards, so much in vogue now.

The first Christmas cards, or letters, for such they were, consisted of wishing the recipient a "Merry Christmas" in verse form, and were embellished with pen flourishes.

The first printed Christmas cards of record were issued in London in 1846, in the United States in 1862, and for many years thereafter they were confined to Christmas and New Year's greetings only.

YULE MEANS CHRISTMAS

The word "Yule" in connection with Christmas, is said by one historian to mean nothing certain except that it means "Christmas." Another authority states that in early days "Yule" had the significance of "wheel" or the turning point of the season.

To announce the advent of the seasons, at the opening of each, a wheel of wood aflame would be allowed to roll down the hillside at night. From this burning piece of timber we trace the Yule log not only in this connection, but also because it invariably was so large that it had to be "wheeled" to the fireplace.

It was considered an omen of all-year good luck to preserve a bit of the old Yule log with which to start the blaze of that to be used the succeeding Christmas.

Christmas bells in connection with decorations are significant of proclaiming joy and a summons to the people. Christmas carols are of early biblical significance and signify the tribute of "glory and honor in the highest."

KRIS AND JINGLING BELLS

The Christmas star is significant of the Star of Bethlehem and "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men."

Every present Christmas Day custom has some beautiful significance and the underlying message on this day is that of expressing gratitude in one form or another.

The home of the Patron Saint of Gratitude is supposed to be up north in ice and cold, where, like a bear, he hibernates until just before Christmas.

Then, with his reindeer, for his also is the home of reindeer, he comes jingling to all, surpassing in speed and schedule all modern means of transportation.

Hence, our Kris Kringle, jingling bells and the tiny reindeer, the which prompts most every one of us to delightfully perpetuate. tender and loving memory of

THINK OF OTHERS

An old man who had met life serenely and tranquilly for more than eighty years was asked the secret of his cheerfulness. He answered in four words: "Thinking of other folks . . . You can't travel very far in this world," he explained, "without finding that your path is all tangled up with other folks' paths. Some people think that if they can only travel their paths without getting hurt themselves, they're going to be happy.

"But there's more to it than that. When you've learned to dodge a collision, not because you're afraid of getting hurt yourself, but because you're afraid of hurting the other fellow, you're getting near to happiness. But when you arrive at a point where it's a genuine pleasure never to cause grief to another living soul you're still closer. In other words, when you get so far that it's a joy to you just to make others happy, you're about there yourself." —[Great Thoughts (London.)

DANCE HALL "PULL" HINTED

Police Board Hears Agent of "Taxi" Girl Hirers Say Others Quoted ex-Aide of Mayor

The name of Mearle Allen, until recently a special investigator for Mayor Porter, was brought into an investigation by the Police Commission yesterday into the activities of John Schliepietz, employed by five "taxi" dance halls to employ women dancers for them.

The name of Schliepietz had been brought up by the complaining witnesses against George Veedos, proprietor of the Lyceum dance hall at 231 South Spring street, where they asserted they were attacked and thrown out by a crowd of Filipino patrons. The witnesses stated that they had been referred to Schliepietz with their complaint and that he represented to them that he was acting in behalf of the Police Commission.

DEFENSE VOICED

Schliepietz was called to explain. He emphatically denied that he had misrepresented himself. He testified that he was employed by five dance halls to employ women dancers, check up to see if they were under age and to keep each proprietor informed of their conduct. He said other dance halls refused to join the organization of dance halls he represented on the ground they had "a pull."

On being questioned why they did not, he said that Dick Lee, operator of the Liberty dance hall at 116½ East Third street, had informed him he did not need Schliepietz to act for him in complying with the orders of the Police Commission on dance-hall regulations.

"He said he did not need to come in and explain unless Mearle Allen told him to," Schliepietz declared.

NAMES TAKEN DOWN

At the request of Commissioner Drake the witness told of other dance halls purported to have a "pull" and the names were taken down for future reference.

The defense of Veedos to the accusations of Max J. Stanche and Charles Fuetsch that they had been attacked and thrown out of his dance hall by Filipinos was that he and his aides sought to protect the two from the attack.

At the request of Commissioner Pierce, who stated he has two witnesses he desires to be heard, the case was continued until next Tuesday.

BORED AERIAL TRAVELERS NOW REQUIRE AMUSEMENT

Miss Amelia Earhart, woman air pilot and trans-Atlantic flyer, swears by aviation and its future. Yesterday she addressed members of the Los Angeles Advertising Club at the Biltmore on the correct attitude of advertising men toward commercial air transport. Relating the experience of a noted aviator who, stalled by fog, was forced to take a train, she quoted him as declaring that "These trains are handy things sometimes." And then, paraphrasing him, she told her hearers that they will find that airships often prove just what her friend said the trains were.

The woman pilot, who, as assistant to the traffic manager of T.A.T.-Maddux, has the task of interesting women in air travel, deplored the existing attitude of writers, songsmiths and others who hold up air travel as a provider either of thrills or of discomfort.

Present-day air travel, she said, affords neither, and she urged the advertising men to plan their ad copy in such a way as to emphasize a ride in an airship as a commonplace journey, as lacking in thrills and as replete with comforts as a ride on a modern train.

"I take my mother on many of my trips and she has come to the place where, because of sheer ennui, she brings along mystery novels to read. The commonplaceness and routine of air travel is becoming such that one of my jobs with the T.A.T. is to work out plans for keeping our passengers amused en route," Miss Earhart declared.

About 16 per cent of air passengers are women, she said.

Sea Captain's Plucky Wife

Capt. Walter M. Mallett of Topsham, Me., went to sea when he was a lad. At 24 he was a master and he followed his calling for forty-one years. Although he had a license for steam, he always stuck to sailing craft. Despite the superstitions that sailors attach to the presence of a woman on shipboard, Capt. Mallett usually took his wife with him. She has rounded the Horn twenty-eight times while the captain has made it an even forty.

CONDOR'S RARE EGGS

Because of the inaccessible places at which it builds its nest, the egg of the condor is almost as rare as that of the auk. The California condor is said to be the largest bird in existence, sometimes attaining a weight of 60 pounds. The egg is near five inches in length and more than half that in diameter. A pair is responsible for but one egg a year.

The bull terrier Blodwen, when she was awarded the championship at the Cambridge show, was the first uncropped dog of that breed to win the high honor.

During the eighteen months ending last summer about $300,000,000 was expended in the construction of airports throughout the United States.

ART-MINDED MEN TO MEET

Business Alliance of Club Will Gather Tonight at Barnsdall Park for First Time

The first formal meeting of the Business Men's Alliance of the California Art Club will take place at the club's home, Barnsdall Park, this evening at 8 o'clock. The alliance is a new activity of the club in which business men who like to get recreation out of artistic endeavor are to unite for instruction and help from professional members of the club. Classes will be conducted evenings in the clubhouse while at other times they will go afield.

President Roscoe Shrader of the club, has issued a general invitation to business men to join the alliance and those who wish to do so, are requested to attend tonight's meeting. Members of the alliance may participate in the monthly dinners of the club where the foremost visiting artists and art critics as well as outstanding local persons give talks.

"The movement is new in the West, this being the first launched here," Francis Vreeland, one of its organizers, said, "but it has been tried out in the East with success. It is a part of the general plan of the club to enlarge the scope of art work and art appreciation in Los Angeles."

Since Aline Barnsdall, donor of the clubhouse, provided the art center, it has been the gathering place of hundreds of the world's foremost artists. Free public art forums are conducted there each Monday evening and the galleries are hung with the best works of Southland artists which are changed from time to time. Many clubs use the place for special occasions and in all its activities it has provided interest for many thousands of persons since it was established a few years ago.

Becoming lonesome, a servant, who had just arrived in Canada from London, called up her folks by trans-Atlantic telephone recently, and when her new employer received a bill for $50 charges he immediately put a ban on talks with people in the old country.

Massachusetts Once Laid Ban on Christmas

Home-making in New England was begun on Christmas Day.

In May, 1659, the General Court of Massachusetts deemed it necessary to enact a law; "That whosoever shall be found observing any such day as Christmas or the like, either by forbearing of labour, feasting or any other way, upon any such accounts as aforesaid shall be subjected to a fine of five shillings."

For upward of twenty-two years it remained unlawful in Massachusetts to have a merry Christmas.

The law enacted by Parliament in June, 1647, abolishing the observance of Christmas Day, had been repealed in 1659.

Our Christmas carols appear to have come from the Holy Land itself; our Christmas trees from the East by way of Germany; our Santa Claus from Holland; our stockings hung in the chimney from France or Belgium, and our Christmas cards and verbal Christmas greetings, our Yule-logs, our boar's heads, our plum puddings and our mince pies from England. Our turkey is, seemingly, our only American contribution. Let us add the pumpkin pie!

Latest statistics from official sources at Ottawa place the population of Canada at 9,658,000.

SOUTHLAND CHRISTMAS CARDS BEST

Yuletide Greetings With Local Scenes Found to Rival Other Designs

Millions of Christmas greeting cards ranging from simple postcard type messages to elaborate engraved brochures will be mailed this Christmas, according to estimates by greeting card department heads here today.

During the past few years there has been a constant increase in the number of Christmas cards sent each year. There is a trend this year toward the use of parchment cards with hand coloring as against the steel engraved type of card which has been the background of the line.

Christmas cards from Southern California are featuring Southern California scenes, including the Missions and other well known places, and the native poinsettia is rivaling the popularity of the traditional holly as a decorative motif.

There has been a definite demand for Christmas cards which more truly reflect the season's aspects in the West, but the volume of buying is still confined to the legendary snow scenes, holly and evergreen.

A suggestion as to the magnitude of the demand for greeting cards is found in the fact that it is estimated that more than $16,000,000 will be spent for greeting cards during this year up to and including the New Year season.

APEX CLUB CLOUDS LIFTED

Police Commission Quashes Charges on Ground That White Cabarets Run Unmolested

Charges by colored residents and police that the Apex Night Club, operated by Curtis B. Mosby, colored musician, at 4015 Central avenue, is the center of drinking and debauchery and should be abated as a nuisance in the district were dropped by the Police Commission yesterday on motion of Commissioner Coe, seconded by Commissioner Drake.

At the same time Commissioner Drake submitted to Chief Davis a list of cabarets and night clubs in the city, which he reported had been given to him by a citizen, for investigation as to whether they are violating the dry law by allowing the use of intoxicants on their premises. The list submitted is of places operated by whites and is reported to include leading hotels in the city.

CHARGES DISMISSED

Comissioner Coe's motion to dismiss the charges against the Apex Club followed a motion by Commissioner Thorpe, that the club be given one month to show its sincerity in the enforcement of the dry law on its premises. The motion lost because the commission was uncertain whether it could reserve its decision for that length of time.

Drake stated that in this instance and every other one the law should be equally enforced; that there should not be one law for negroes east of Main street and another for white folks west of Main.

"I request that a rigid investigation be made by the police department as to all cafes and when violations are found that the law shall be enforced. Until such time comes I will not seek to revoke a license in only one part of the town."

Drake then submitted the list of the places he desires investigated to Chief Davis with instruction that they be withheld from publication because such publication might defeat the object of the investigation.

METROPOLITAN NEED

Prior to the decision Attorney Hugh MacBeth, for Mosby, addressed the commission stating that Los Angeles has now grown to be such a metropolitan city that institutions like Mosby's are a necessary adjunct to its social life. He declared that in addition to theatrical folk who visit the place people come from as far east as Chicago to see it.

Testimony introduced at the hearing on the night club last week was that more than fifty arrests had been made in the place under the dry law within a short period and that Mosby took raiding officers to task, declaring that the raids would have to stop. Mosby testified that most of the arrests were made by his own special officers.

TRAGIC REMINDER OF WAR

After traveling around over the battlefield near Verdun, France, a group of students and their teacher, Joseph Belle of Lille, camped for the night near an old shell hole. A fire was built in the hole as the group sat around it. Suddenly there was a terrible explosion. In the debris Belle was found dead. One student was so badly injured he died before he could be carried to the nearest house. Six others were wounded. The explosion was caused by an old shell fired by a German gun twelve years ago that failed to explode then. The heat from the students' bonfire ignited the shell. The ravages of war never end with the signing of peace treaties.

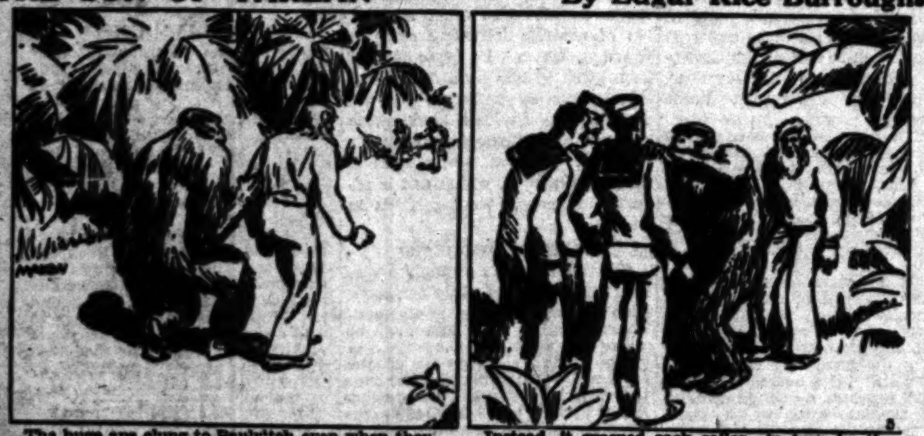
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

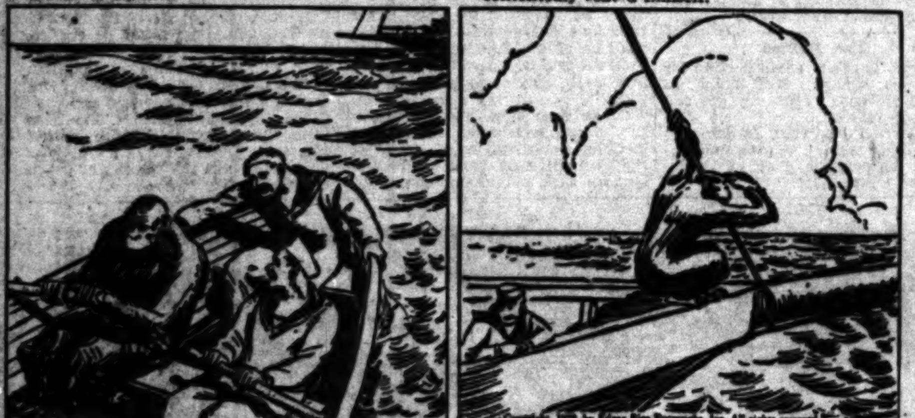
THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



The huge ape clung to Paulvitch even when they came in sight of the returning sailors. It appeared to mean no harm, and evidently was accustomed to the association of human beings. Into the twisted brain of the Russian sprang a wild idea. This animal would be worth a lot of money in London! Even when the now curious men came running toward the oddly assorted pair the anthropoid showed no further signs of fear or fight.

Instead, it grasped each sailor in turn by the shoulder and peered long and earnestly into each face. What meant such strange behavior? Having inspected them all, it returned to the Russian's side, seeming to be greatly disappointed. The men were delighted with the placid, friendly animal, and decided to add him to the Marjorie W.'s collection of pets. The ape clambered into the "long boat" with them and contentedly seated himself.



Copyright, 1929, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

On the short row to the ship it grabbed an oar from a sailor and with easy skill helped the craft along, just as though the whole affair was no new experience to him. The sailors were amazed. Paulvitch's hopes ran high. He would train this ape and make a fortune! Aboard the ship, the ape examined each new face minutely, evincing the same disappointment. Even the scientists were unable to account for its strange actions.

After exploring every nook of the ship on her return voyage, Ajax, as they had named the ape, lapsed into utter indifference to all about him. Sometimes, though, his awe-inspiring bulk would be seen in the ship's bow, gazing intently forward, seeking—WHAT? At length the Marjorie W. came to England. Came also with the landing of Paulvitch and Ajax, a chain of strange circumstances destined to affect the lives of many people.

More Water for New York

A tunnel nineteen feet in diameter, seventeen feet when lined, and 20.2 miles long is to be dug from Hill View reservoir under New York City for the city's water supply. This tunnel will be bored 500 feet below sea level and at some places will be 650 feet below the surface of the ground. The tunneling machinery will all be electrically operated. Sixteen shafts will be cut to the tunnel, first as aids to construction and later to bring water to street levels for distribution to consumers. In spite of what we hear and read, New York City uses a lot of water.

NOT THE RIGHT ANSWER

There is a popular belief that the hands of clocks usually painted on signs or in advertisements at 8:18 are arranged in this manner to commemorate the death of Lincoln. Another belief is that it is to commemorate the exact moment of his assassination. Neither of these statements is correct. Lincoln was shot at 10:10 p.m. at Ford's Theater. He died at 7:30 the next morning. Wooden clocks used as signs by jewelers with the hands pointing at 8:18 were in use years before Lincoln's death. So another answer must be found.

CAMP KEARNY'S BACKERS UNITE

Chamber Calls Meeting to be Conducted Today

Southland Group Will Join in Airship Site Plea

Delegation Possibly Will be Sent to Washington

Ways and means of effecting selection of Camp Kearny as the site for the United States Navy's Pacific Coast dirigible base, on which world interest in lighter-than-air craft will be centered, is the subject for discussion at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce today at noon.

The meeting was called by Secretary-Manager Arnoll of the chamber at the direction of the directors and to it have been invited representatives of all of the chambers in Southern California.

APPEAL FOR HELP

President Crandall of the local chamber will open the meeting and Col. Henry O. Wheeler, chairman of the chamber's aviation committee, is to conduct it.

The sending of a delegation to Washington to work on behalf of Camp Kearny is one of the possibilities of the meeting. The move of the local chamber resulted from an appeal to it for help from the San Diego chamber, when it became known that a special naval board has recommended selection of either the Camp Kearny site, which is near San Diego, or the selection of a site at Sunnyvale, near San Francisco.

SURPRISE MOVE

Since 1920, the General Board of the Navy has been on record as favoring the San Diego site for both aeronautical and naval efficiency and convenience reasons. The recommendation that the northern bay district site be considered also at this time came as a surprise.

San Diego is expected to have a good-sized delegation here for today's meeting.

Both the sites have been offered free to the government.

Elderly Man's Death Points Toward Killing

Murder was suspected by the homicide squad last night after detectives began investigating circumstances surrounding the death of Donald E. Keith, 72 years of age, whose body was found in his little house at 3311 East Fourth street, where he had lived alone. Three deep skull fractures found on the head were pronounced by Autopsy Surgeon Wagner as too severe to have been caused by a fall. An unexplained crash of glass on Monday night also is included in the investigation.

Due to the similarity of names, detectives last night sought Donald M. Keith, former assistant City Prosecutor, and candidate for City Attorney, to ascertain if he is a relative and if he knows of any enemies of the elder Keith.

Discovery of Keith's death was made by two friends, Frank Gage and H. L. Petrie, both of 3628 East Sixth street. They found the body, fully clothed, lying face downward in the house.

Neighbors said that Keith has three sisters living in San Diego.

Good Will Tour Planes Arrive for Visit Here

Nearing the end of a 40,000-mile aerial good-will tour of Mexico, Canada and the United States, five airplanes of the American Eagle Aircraft Corporation of Kansas City landed at Grand Central Air Terminal yesterday for a two-day stay in and about Los Angeles.

Under direction of H. S. Lowe, the company's representative in the Southern California district, the ships will give a series of exhibitions to stimulate public interest in aviation.

The flight here yesterday was made from Oakland. Leaving Los Angeles the squadron will proceed to cities in Arizona and New Mexico, reaching the home airport in Kansas City by Christmas.

Father's Hurts Blamed on Son

While Frank H. Lennox of 735 East Manor street, Inglewood, was in the Methodist Hospital in an unconscious condition as the result of an asserted fight last Sunday with his son, Hareld D. Lennox, deputy sheriffs yesterday were conducting an investigation.

The elder Lennox is asserted to have lapsed into unconsciousness several hours after the fight at his son's home at 663 Hargrave street. In a report on file at the Sheriff's office, he is asserted to have first quarreled with his wife, who went to the home of the son. The father then is asserted to have gone there and fallen in the midst of the ensuing fight. That night he became unconscious and was removed to the hospital.

EIGHT REDS ARRESTED AT MEETING

Communists Session in San Bernardino Raided; Syndicalism Charged

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 26. (Exclusive)—Eight Russian Communists who led a number of followers in a demonstration against one or another of the things they object to in the United States were arrested here tonight after they had been ejected from a meeting hall and a restaurant by the police.

Among those arrested was Frank Specter, who has been ordered deported by the immigration authorities. Since the order was issued he has been arrested a half-dozen times for defying the law against street meetings.

The Communists appeared in San Bernardino to hold a scheduled meeting in Pacific Hall. When the owner of the hall learned the nature of the intended meeting he canceled the permit. The Communists then entered a restaurant and after ordering food attempted to hold a meeting. When the first speaker arose the lights went out and police entered.

In the crowd were Yetta Stromberg and Emma Schneiderman, who are under sentence to prison for having conducted a Communists' camp for children at Yucaipa in violation of the law last summer. They are out on bond pending an appeal.

Besides Chief of Police Heap, two men from the District Attorney's office and six men from the Red squad under Lieut. Hynes of Los Angeles took part in arresting the leaders. The prisoners are charged with violation of the Criminal Syndicalism Act.

Negroes Hunted in Auto Attack on White Girl

Two negro youths were being sought last night by police on suspicion of a statutory offense following charges brought by Carol Seaman, a 14-year-old white girl of 2437 East One Hundred and Thirteenth street, Watts.

According to the girl's story, she and her friend Hazel Dunn were walking on One Hundred and Thirteenth street near Glen street, when two negroes drove up in a small coupe. The two white girls were accosted by the negroes. The Dunn girl made her escape after a fast run, but the Seaman girl says that she was seized by the negroes and thrown into the car. The trio drove away and a short time later the girl was returned to her home, where she was shoved out of the car. She declared that she had been the victim of an assault by the colored pair.

Adohr to Make Ice Cream, Too

Coincident with the announcement yesterday that it has entered the ice-cream - manufacturing field, the Adohr Creamery Company through its president, Merritt H. Adamson, declared as without foundation persistent rumors that this organization has been merged with any other milk-products concern.

Owned entirely by Los Angeles capital Adohr since entering the distributing branch of the industry three years ago, has enjoyed a rapid growth and the next step in this expansion is the addition of ice cream to the already long list of its dairy products, he said. Frequent recent mergers have been coupled with the name of this company but Mr. Adamson yesterday definitely stated that Adhor's identity as an independent producing and distributing organization has not been changed.

Wine-Tonic Ban Stay Opposed

Councilman Randall, sponsor of the antiwine-tonic ordinance yesterday stated that this morning he will offer in Council a resolution instructing the City Prosecutor to enforce the provisions of the Gandier ordinance and other laws in respect to the tonics.

This action is being taken in the light of the referendum filed Monday holding up the effect of Randall's ordinance, recently adopted, which was scheduled to become effective tomorrow.

BOEING PLANE ARRIVES

An eighteen-passenger Boeing Transport biplane yesterday arrived from Seattle with Maj. Eric Nelson, one of the Army's around-the-world flyers, as a passenger. Claire Vance, the pilot, landed at Grand Central Air Terminal for a few minutes and then flew on to United Airport, Burbank.

SETBACK LINES DUE

A resolution of intention proposing 50-foot setback lines in Bixby street from Weston street to Two Hundred and Fifty-fifth street was adopted yesterday by Council. The resolution was set for hearing on December 26.

GAMBLING SHIP RESUMES CAREER OFF SEAL BEACH

Once more a floating Monte Carlo and not a derelict, the barge Monfalcone put out from Los Angeles Harbor yesterday and anchored three and one-half miles off Seal Beach, there to resume her career as a ship of chance. Operators of the Monfalcone announced last night that gambling will be resumed tonight and that the owners will operate a water taxi to the ship for all who feel the lure of deep sea roulette and other diversions.

J. W. Byrnes, who is associated in the operation, announced that an orchestra has been engaged and that a cafe will be operated.

The Monfalcone was a windjammer, 282 feet long. Her masts have been trimmed off and she has a gambling saloon and dance floor. Local and county authorities pursued the barge up and down the coast in unavailing efforts to end her career until the Federal government intervened last summer. At that time the barge was declared a menace to commerce and the Coast Guard towed her into port with a warning that she would be towed in as often as she was anchored out in the fairway. This time she will remain off the course of ships and will remain nearer shore.

Visits to the barge had been cut off by the passage of a State law making it illegal to water taxi anyone to a gambling ship. Superior Judge Aggeler recently held this law unconstitutional and the operators had the Monfalcone towed out yesterday.

High Lights of Winning Designs Shown Students

Potential Architects Get Pointers

David Witmer and classes from Roosevelt High School and Frank Wiggins Trade School at architects' exhibit now being held at Fifth and Figueroa streets.

PRIZE PLANS FOR HOMES EXPLAINED

Member of Architects' Contest Jury Analyzes Designs for Students

Some of the elements in small homes plans that made the prize-winning designs superior to the others in the 1929 National Better Homes Architectural competition were pointed out by David Witmer, local architect, to students in the architectural courses at Roosevelt High School and the Frank Wiggins Trade School yesterday.

The students visited the exhibit, which is at the Architects' Building, under the auspices of the Los Angeles Architectural Club. Mr. Witmer, who was chairman of the local jury of awards in the competition, took the three prize-winning drawings as his text and gave a detailed analysis of the plans for the benefit of the students. Things to be sought for and things to be avoided in the design of the home were discussed by him.

The exhibit is open daily to the public free of charge from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., although it will not be open tomorrow. Saturday will be the last day the exhibit will be shown.

Shakespeare's Plays to Lure Large Crowds

Seven thousand reservations for the week of Shakespeare at the new Westwood Theater at U.C.L.A. next week, under the auspices of the Shakespeare Foundation, were reported last night. The capacity for the seven performances, which start with "Richard III" on Monday evening for three evening performances, and "The Merry Wives of Windsor," Thursday evening for three evenings and a Saturday matinee performance, is about 7000 more seats.

A carload of special scenery and costumes for the productions was received late yesterday, according to Director Joseph De Grasse.

R. D. MacLean heads the casts, supported by Francis X. Bushman, Maude Fealey, Florence Oakley, Sarah Padden, Julia Blanc, Ruth Clifford, Bram Nossen, Tom Ricketts, James Gordon, Horace Button, John Prince, Wallis Roberts, William H. Howell, Peter Richmond, Charles B. Crockett and others. Tickets are on sale at the Philharmonic Auditorium box office.

Ruling Pends in Mother's Balm Action

Whether Anton Starr, former owner of a Los Angeles barrel factory, must pay Mrs. Julia White, weighing 250 pounds and mother of four children, the sum of $25,000 for asserted breach of promise to marry her, is the question that Superior Judge Yankwich yesterday took under submission after listening to testimony.

Mrs. White testified that she met Starr in a restaurant on June 10, 1928, and that he proposed to her that same evening. She further declared that she spent $900 for new gowns and in preparation for her marriage to Starr.

Besides the breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. White, it was learned that Starr recently had caused his wife to be confined in the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital. In this action Starr told the authorities his wife is suffering from a delusion that she is the Grand Duchess Olga of Russia.

Deaths Blamed on Contractors

Blame for the death of three laborers, Mexicans, in the cave-in on the 23rd inst. of an exacavation wall at Weyburn and Westwood avenues, near the university campus in Westwood, was fixed on the contractors by a Coroner's jury sitting in the Price-Daniel mortuary, Sawtelle. Death was caused by suffocation and carbon monoxide poisoning, the verdict stated.

The monoxide gas was said to have come from a main which burst when the wall of the excavation caved in and buried Ramone Navarro, Juan Pontereras and Calistero Alcala. The Westwood Mortgage and Investment Company, employers of the cave-in victims, was charged with negligence in failing to shore properly the wall of the excavation. Funeral services for the men were held from the Price-Daniel chapel today.

Former Police Officer Given Delay in Trial

Trial of Charles F. (Cholo) Johnson, former police officer, on charges of being drunk, was continued yesterday by Municipal Judge Lahey until December 3. The delay was granted at the request of John Hyland, defense attorney, who told the court he will be engaged in a trial in Superior Court until that date.

Johnson was arrested in San Pedro following an asserted rampage, in the course of which officers declare he challenged them to arrest him, under penalty of losing their jobs. He is one of the discharged police officers whose name recently was linked with that of J. A. Quinn in the latter's charges of inefficiency against Police Chief Davis.

Hollywood to Try Out Holiday Lights Saturday

Hollywood Boulevard yesterday was preparing to wink itself into "Santa Claus Lane" with the aid of 10,000 extra, multicolored lights, a forest of Christmas trees and a new set of number plates. A preliminary illumination Saturday night is to try out the only winking electrical Yuletide street display on the Coast, along the boulevard from Vine street to La Brea avenue.

New street number signs are to be displayed by all establishments along the holiday highway. These plates will bear the real street number together with the new street name, "Santa Claus Lane." This appropriate designation also appears on street corner signs and at the bases of 100 large Christmas trees which are to line the boulevard. Otto K. Olesen said that half of the 10,000 incandescents will be of the winking variety.

FIVE DEAD IN TRAFFIC; ACCUSED DRIVER TAKEN

Five deaths due to traffic accidents were listed in police records last night, two women and a youth being killed in accidents during the evening and two men dying at the General Hospital from injuries sustained in crashes over last week-end. In one of the fatal accidents by-standers arrested a motorist whom they accused of fleeing the scene, returning to it and attempting to run away the second time.

Knocked from his motorcycle last night Carl A. Corning, 22 years of age, of 549 South Western avenue, a messenger employed by the Postal Telegraph Company, received injuries from which he died before he could be conveyed to the West Los Angeles Receiving Hospital.

CYCLIST KILLED

Corning was traveling east on Pico Boulevard when a sedan turned left into Patricia street, knocking the messenger from his vehicle and crushing him. The sedan then continued on its way through Patricia street, while passing motorists summoned an ambulance. Corning died in the ambulance on the way to the hospital.

Eyewitnesses furnished police with the license number of the sedan and twenty minutes later Policemen Mole and Coker of the West Los Angeles division took into custody Hubert Wilhoyte, 33, a salesman of 10533 Draper street, Los Angeles. Wilhoyte is booked on suspicion of hit-and-run driving and suspicion of driving while intoxicated. The policemen reported that Wilhoyte drove back to the scene of the accident and then sped past it and that they had to pursue for a half-mile before overtaking him.

BUS KILLS WOMAN

Crushed beneath a bus, Mrs. Jennie L. Painter, 50 years of age, of 6815 Hooper avenue, was killed instantly last night. She was riding with her husband, Gilbert Painter, in his small car when he made a left turn from Avalon Boulevard at Florence Boulevard. Police report that his car struck the front end of a Los Angeles Railway bus driven by Archie B. Straughan of 409 West One Hundred and Ninth street. The smaller car was overturned, hurling Mrs. Painter beneath the wheels of the bus, where her life was crushed out. Painter was not injured. Officers King and Ellis of the Seventy-seventh-street division investigated and reported that the bus driver was not at fault.

Knocked down by an automobile last night, Mrs. Sophia Rose, 52, of 1802 South Toberman street, died a half hour later in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Police reported that Mrs. Rose was in a delirious condition when she darted unexpectedly into the traffic at Washington and Toberman streets, in front of a car driven by H. C. Lash of 3961 Halldale avenue. He was not held.

William Luther, 23, of 625 West Fifth street, and Henry Witt, 85, of 115 West Fourteenth Place, were reported dead at General Hospital shortly before midnight.

Luther sustained his fatal injuries Sunday at Thirty-eighth and McKinley streets when he lost control of his automobile and it leaped over the curb and crashed into a nearby dwelling. His injuries were internal.

Witt, according to police records, was knocked down Saturday while he was walking across the thoroughfare at Pico and Main streets. Cliff Anderson, 24, of 810 East Forty-sixth Place, asserted to be the driver of the car which struck Witt, was held on a reckless-driving charge, pending the result of injuries to the victim.

CHILDREN AS WITNESSES

At one time, and not so long ago, the evidence of a child was likely to be accepted with not too much reliance, but the London Coroner has recently expressed himself on this subject. He says that children between the ages of 9 and 13 years often make the very best witnesses.

RADIO CHECK-UP SOON TO START

Unique Federal Station in Nebraska Nearly Ready

Accuracy of Transmission Will be Kept Constant

Programs Offer Variety for Los Angeles Listeners

The Times Forum, KHJ, 10:30 a.m., Fred Hogue, staff writer, will discuss, "Following the World News."

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The only station of its kind in the world, the government's constant-frequency monitoring depot is nearing completion at Grand Island, Neb. Once established there will be no alibi for broadcasters being off wave length. From this bureau of accuracy any station in the country will be able to learn, almost immediately, whether or not transmission is on the assigned frequency.

The measuring apparatus to be installed will be capable of making measurements with a resultant accuracy of one part in 1,000,000. The primary source of frequency will be that of the earth's rotation derived through the standard time signals of the Naval Observatory at Washington, D. C., used as a check upon a master clock at the station, operated in a heat-controlled chamber under vacuum.

CHECK FREQUENCIES

An electrically driven tuning fork, controlled by the clock, will serve as a basis for the establishment of the ultimate radio-frequencies to be developed. An an alternate, a piezo-electric oscillator will be supplied to perform the same service as the tuning fork. The tuning fork will produce frequencies in such a way that harmonics will be available at every ten kilocycles throughout the radio-frequency spectrum.

Service will be available twenty-four hours a day to broadcasters and other transmitting stations and it is planned to have all inquiries answered almost immediately. In the early days radio inspectors had to travel from one station to another to test and okeh station frequencies, the tests generally being made at the transmitter. Later instruments were evolved whereby the tests could be made several blocks from the transmitter. Now comes this master station which may be considered a union terminal for all carriers.

KHJ—Grand opera from New York via C.B.S., 5 to 5:30 p.m.; Dr. Carl Omeron, tenor, in a half-hour recital at 6 p.m. with Wesley Tourtelotte, ranking organist (there are four on the staff of KHJ,) playing accompaniments; at 8 p.m. "Merrick's Modern Melodists" from KPRC, San Francisco, to be followed at 9 p.m. by the M.-G.-M. Movie Club, presenting the Duncan sisters and Ellen Beach Yaw, the "California Nightingale." The sisters were proteges of Mme. Yaw. The regular Wednesday-night feature of "Mood Pictures" from KHJ has been held over on account of the advance of the M.-G.-M. hour and the new program from San Francisco.

KFI—From 6 p.m. to 8:30, the Earle C. Anthony station will release four splendid programs originating with the National Broadcasting Company, to be followed by the "Musical Comedy Album" with Eva Olivotti, James Burroughs and the Pryor Moore orchestra. KECA, also controlled by Anthony as a unit in the N.B.C. chain will bring the black-faced comedians, Amos and Andy at 8:30 tonight, just for fifteen minutes.

OTHER PROGRAMS

KNX—Frank Sylvano, recording tenor, is an added attraction with Mal Hallett's Cocoanut Grove orchestra of the Ambassador broadcasting nightly from 10 o'clock until midnight over KNX. Sylvano was featured radio singer over KYW, Chicago, for two years, and has had considerable circuit experience.
